DASH INTO DARDANELLES; SINK A TURKISH WARSHIP

ALLIES FACE A TERRIFIC TASK IN MAKING ADVANCE

Indiana State Library

BRITISH DEAL SULTAN SERIOUS NAVAL BLOW

London, Dec. 14.—(12:15 p. m.)—The first serious blow inflicted on the Turkish navy since the entrance of the porte into the war—the torpedoing of the Turkish battleship Messudieh by a British submarine in the Dardanelles—gave naval color to today's war news and was in fact the only striking occurence chronicled by land or by sea.

Little or no change has been reported on the western battle front and in the east. Russia and Germany continue to fight a seemingly endless battle for the control of western Poland.

English and French newspapers unite in declaring that the time is drawing near for the much discussed general advance of the allies through France and Belgium, and some unofficial reports say this move is about to be undertaken if it has not actually begun. Progress necessarily would be inch by inch and the most optimistic of the British observers, assuming that a general forward movement of the allies is to be essaped, concede that it would be spring before any appreciable progress could be made.

Holbrook's Feat Bold.

The feat of Lieut. Commander Holbrook in diving under five rows of mines in the Dardanelles and torpedoing the Turkish battleship is described here as perhaps the boldest marine exploit of the war. The submarine presumably was not scratched. She escaped gun fire and the pursuit of torpedo boats in a manner truly remarkable, and it was necessary for her crew to endure the ordeal of remaining under water for nine hours on a stretch.

Russian guns have from time to time inflicted some damage on Turkish warships bombarding Russian ports but the disaster reported today robs the Porte of its first big ship.

The loss of life is not estimated in the brief announcement of the episode given out by the British admiralty, but if the Messudieh was manned as other Turkish ships have been then there were a number of German officers aboard.

DAY QUIET IN FLANDERS.

Germans Move Batteries North in Meuse Region.

Paris, Dec. 14.—(2:44 p. m.)—The French official statement given out in Paris this afternoon reports comparative quiet in Flanders, and artillery exchanges of relatively minor importance elsewhere. In the Meuse, German batteries are said to be moving to the north. In the Woevre district the French captured a trench and repulsed two counter attacks. The advance of the French line into Alsace has brought it to a point north of Altkirch, and about ten miles to the east of the frontier. The text of the communication follows:

"There has been nothing of importance to report between the sea and the Oise.

"In the region of the Aisne to the northwest of Soupier, the enemy bombarded our entrenchments. We replied. There were no infantry attacks from one side or the other. Our artillery destroyed an important field work of the enemy in the vicinity of Allies.

"In the Argonne at the forest of Lagrurie we have made slight progress by the use of mines. There were no attacks from the enemy.

"On the heights of the Meuse there has been violent cannonading. Batteries of the enemy would appear to have been moved to positions further north.

"In the Woevre district, after having occupied a line of entrenchments along a front of 500 yards, in the forest of Mortmare, our troops repulsed two violent counter attacks.

"In Alsace our advance has brought our front to a line that passes 425 yards to the north of Steinbach, thence to Pont d'Aspach, and thence to Pont de Brinighoefen, 1,300 yards to the west of Elingen.

"Servia: During the days of Dec. 10, 11 and 12 the enemy continued to retire along the entire front. The Servian advance guards have progressed as far as Veliki and Bosniak in the direction of Shabats, and as far as Zavlaka in the direction of Loznica. During their retreat the Austrians abandoned many trophies of war. From the time the Servians resumed the offensive up to the eleventh of December, inclusive, the number of prisoners made by the Servians reaches 28,000. The Servians captured 74 cannon and 44 machine guns.

"Montenegro: After two days of fighting Montenegrin forces have captured Vishnegrad and driven the Austrians back to the other side of the river Drina."

WILL OPERATE ON EMPEROR'S THROAT.

London, Des. 14.—(6:25 p. m.—) Telegraphing from Borne, Switzerland a correspondent of the Central News says:

"A telegram received here from Munich states it has been decided to operate on Emperor William's throat, but the operation is being deferred, owing to the feverish condition of the emperor."

WERE EASILY REPULSED.

Germans Beat Back Light Attacks by French Troops.

Berlin, Dec. 14.—An official communication issued today by the German army headquarters says:

"Light attacks by the French on parts of our positions between the river Meuse and the Vosges mountains were easily repulsed. Otherwise nothing of importance remains to be reported from the western theater of the war.

"From East Prussia and southern Poland there is nothing to report.

"In northern Poland our operations are continuing their normal course."

House Committee Makes a Forceful Showing of Economy.

Washington, Dec. 14.—"Economy" was the watchword of the appropriations committee in the preparations of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, first of the big supply measures, which was reported to the house today. The committee lopped off nearly $2,000,000 from the estimates submitted by the various departments, cutting salary allowances all along the line, and brought in a measure appropriating $38,744,753.50.

The bill provides for more than 16,000 salaries of government employes. The total of the bill shows an increase of $1,183,183 over last year's measure, but this year's measure includes a special appropriation of $2,286,100 and authorizes one thousand additional employes for taking the agricultural census authorized by the law covering the last regular census in 1910.

The committee in its report says that this is an extraordinary expenditure, which will come on every ten years and maintains therefore that this year's measure is materially less than the last appropriation. The bill contains the usual provision cutting down the mileage allowance of members of congress from twenty cents a mile to five cents a mile. The fight to cut down the mileage allowance has been on for years, and although the committee each year reports the reduction in the bill, it is defeated either on the floor of the house or in the senate.

The committee cut $102,260 from the estimates of the secretary of commerce for the work of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, although an increase of $25,000 over last year's appropriation was allowed for promoting commerce with South and Central America.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

Vigorous thrusts at the German line in France were made again yesterday by the allies, but the reports of successes in today's official statment from Paris are not borne out by the Berlin communication.

The French war office states that German positions along the Aisne were demolished, that in the Woevre district a line of trenches 500 yards long was captured and that further progress was made in the Argonne and in Alsace. The German announcement says that nothing of importance has occurred in the west with the exception of a few French attacks along the Meuse and in the Vosges, which were repulsed easily.

There have been unimportant changes in the east, according to the German statement. Dispatches from Petrograd, however, assert that the Russians have definitely thrown back the German column, which was attempting to strike at Warsaw from the north and that as a result the position of the Russians all along their front has been improved.

The French war office announces that in Servia further successes have been won against the Austrians and that in the Montenegrin campaign, which has almost been lost sight of recently, the Austrians have suffered a reverse.

THREE BOYS IN ONE FAMILY TUBERCULAR

Case is Cited to Show the Great Need of a Tuberculosis Hospital.

In her investigations Monday morning Miss Irene Byron, visiting nurse for the Anti-Tuberculosis society, called upon a family where one boy, 29 years old, is unconscious and dying from the effects of tuberculosis, and two other boys, one nineteen and the other twenty-one, have also contracted the terrible disease.

Miss Byron told of the case to show the great need of a tuberculosis hospital in Allen county. In this one family there are three members, all young men, afflicted with tuberculosis, and there is no place to take them. There are nine persons in the family, all of whom are in great danger of contracting the disease. The history of the family does not show that the disease was inherited. Miss Byron cannot send them to the state hospital for she already has more there than she is entitled to have, so there is nothing she can do except to leave the three young men in the home, endangering the lives of the other members of the household.

Miss Byron would not reveal the name of the family, but if there are any persons who doubt the truth of the story she says she will gladly go with them to the home where they can see for themselves.

WARSHIPS ON ACTIVE LINE ALL EQUIPPED

But Daniels Says Reserve Supply of Shells is Inadequate.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Secretary Daniels told the house naval committee today that while all the battleships in reserve were not supplied with shells, every dreadnought and every other battleship in the active line was equipped, but did not, however, have an adequate reserve supply. "That," said the secretary, "is no navy secret."

Mr. Daniels, on his third day of discussion of naval affairs with the committee, covered a variety of subjects. He declared the navy was making torpedoes at Newport for $5,000 each—more than $1,000 less than the price at which private concerns supply them. He asked the committee to authorize more than six new destroyers in view of the prices at which Saturday's bids were accepted; told the board the navy was making tests of a new shell promising great results for attacking submarines, and urged an appropriation of $600,000 for a government projectile plant.

"The private manufacturers charge all they can get," the Secretary said, "and

Repeats His Request for Two Destroyers for Canal Zone.

BRITISH FLOUT NEUTRALITY RULES

Action Moves American Governor to Ask for Warships to Enforce Them.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Col. Goethals, governor of Panama canal zone, today reiterated his request that two torpedo boat destroyers be sent to canal zone waters to prevent violation of neutrality through the misuse of wireless and the taking on of supplies by belligerent vessels.

At the British embassy here it was said today that the British government would respect to the utmost the neutrality rules of the Panama canal, and the belief was expressed that if there had been any violation by British ships it must have been the result of misunderstanding.

Substance of the Dispatch.

Because of the confidential nature of Col. Goethal's dispatch Secretary Garrison declined to make it public. He issued this statement:

"The substance of the dispatch is that in Colonel Goethals' judgment the misuse of radio communications within canal waters and the prevention of the misuse of these waters as a base of supplies require the presence of swift moving ships of the variety mentioned. Since the questions involved require the consideration of the state department and the navy department as well as my own, I have taken the matter up with the other departments and as the requirements are fully ascertained proper action will be taken to meet them."

EFFORT IS MADE TO SELL 225,000 SEALS

A total of 182,807 Red Cross Christmas seals have been sold and it will be regarded as a very poor week if the total sales at the end of the next six days have not reached the 225,000 mark. The time is now drawing short.

The telephone canvass was started Monday morning and before the "A's" had been completed $16 worth of the seals had been sold. They will be delivered by the boy scouts. Mrs. Charley Bash, jr., and Miss Ethel Doud did the calling Monday morning and Miss Agnes Loeffler Monday afternoon.

ZERO WEATHER IS SWEEPING EASTWARD

Chill Which Now Grips the Central West is General.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Colder weather throughout the east is forecasted by the weather bureau for tonight and Tuesday. All through the southern states, the great central valleys and the lake region today the temperatures were tumbling and in the upper Mississippi valley and the north plains region the mercury was below the zero mark.

Cold wave warnings were aflutter from the aeries of the forecasters throughout New England, New York, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia. All the South Atlantic and gulf states except southern Florida may expect freezing temperatures tonight.

The southern storm which centered in Alabama yesterday, was passing out to sea off the Maine coast today, leaving behind heavy snows in parts of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and the mountain districts of the middle Atlantic states, and a general blanket of rain and slush in other places. Shifting gales along the Atlantic coast accompanied and storm warnings are up again from Hatteras to Eastport. The heaviest snow fall reported to weather bureau headquarters was fifteen inches at Oswego, N. Y.

ENGINEERS POINT HAZARDS OF WORK

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Inspecting and preparing a locomotive for the day's run after it had pulled into the main track and the cars it is to haul are being switched on is very hazardous according to testimony adduced at the railroad wage arbitration hearing here today.

In support of this statement, C. P. Smith, an engineer of Oelwein, Iowa, employed by the Chicago Great Western, said he was under his locomotive when additional cars were added to his train and the impast sent his engine forward. All that saved his life was, he said, that he lay between the rails and the engine stopped before the fire box reached him. He narrowly escaped from losing an arm, as it was, he said. Smith testified that since 1910 when wages of enginemen were adjusted, engines have grown larger and the greater tonnage they are called upon to haul, has increased the labors of the enginemen.

750 CHILDREN IN CHRISTMAS LISTS

More Applicants Than Were Cared for Out of Fund of 1913.

Seven hundred and fifty children are included in the lists submitted for participation in the fund that is being raised through The Sentinel and to be applied to gifts for the children of Fort Wayne's poor and donated at a show at the Empress theater on Christmas eve.

This is many more than sought relief last year when the fund was much larger than it is at present. Investigations are being carried on that reveal a number of children of well-to-do parents who have written under a misapprehension of the plan and these will, of course, be eliminated as the fund is to be devoted entirely to children who have the problem of the empty stocking facing them unless they are taken care of by the charitable people of Fort Wayne.

As the task of making the purchases and arranging the gifts is a big one and as it is desired to do the shopping as early as possible it will be a great aid if those who have not made their donations and who wish to take part in this worthy movement will make their contributions as soon as possible.

It is desired to run the fund up to a sum that will insure a nice lot of gifts to each of the children and there is not much time left for the work and this appeal is made as a reminder to those who have overlooked the fund so far.

STATESMAN'S FORM IS BORNE TO TOMB

Auburn, N. Y., Dec. 14.—The funeral of Sereno Elisha Payne, veteran republican leader in the house of representatives, was held this afternoon with simple services in the First Baptist church. Hundreds from Cayuga and adjoining counties united with the congressional delegation of sixty to fill the church, and thousands stood outside or lined the blocked streets on the way to Fort Hill cemetery where the dead statesman was buried beside the body of Mrs. Payne. All stores and public places closed during the hour of the funeral.

The representatives and senators who attended the final ceremonies took no active part. During the noon hour the body lay in state and thousands of citizens, including workingmen from the shops of Auburn, passed the bier. The local military company maintained a guard of honor.

Arguments Against Injunction in Lake Shore Case at Cleveland.

Half a Dozen Lines Figure in Consolidation Proposal.

Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 14.—Efforts to thwart injunction proceedings sought by the General Investment company, of Maine, which would prevent directors of the Lake Shore Railway company from voting for a consolidation with the New York Central company at a meeting to be held here Dec. 22, will be made today in common pleas court, when arguments will be heard. Judge Stevens, who will conduct the hearing, is not expected to give his decision for several days.

Suit to prevent the consolidation was filed several days ago. It charges criminal violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and also of the Valentine trust law of Ohio against the management of the two roads and says officials are planning to deplete the treasury of both roads.

Asks for Receivers.

The court is asked to appoint a receiver to take over the Nickel Plate, Big Four, Lake Erie, Ohio Central and Indiana Southern roads, all of which, it is alleged in the suit, are controlled by the Lake Shore, and that at the end of the hearing they be put under management which would insure competitive operations.

Another charge of the mismanagement is that the New York Central plans to retire over $100,000,000 worth of 3½ per cent. bonds by issuing 4 per cent. bonds running to 1998. It is charged this would take over $350,000,000 in interest from the treasury and put much of it into the pockets of the New York Central directors. According to the petition the New York Central for many years has been empowered to vote a majority of the Lake Shore stock and that the New York Central now has a majority of directors on the Lake Shore road board. The petition also asks that the restraining order hold up payment of $7,500,000 by the Lake Shore to three minority stockholders, due on Dec. 15.

Besides the Lake Shore and New York Central railroads, the Central Trust company of New York, financial agents for the railroads and the three majority stockholders, William A. Read, Henry Evans and William D. Wood, were made defendants.

GERMANY PREPARED TO WAGE WAR FOR YEARS

Berlin, Via The Haugue and London, Dec. 14.—(10:20 a. m.)—The correspondent of the Tageblatt, in Sofia, Bulgarian, telegraphs an interview he had with Field Marshal Baron von der Goltz, while the latter was on his way to Constantinople. Regarding Belgium Baron von der Goltz said:

"The situation is normal, the population having convinced themselves that the Germans are not barbarians. Life continues as if in peace time and commerce and transportation are getting better.

"The Belgians fought bravely for their fatherland. Such opponents should be esteemed."

Answering questions regarding the war situation in the west the field marshal pointed out that an army of millions of German soldiers was in the enemy's country and that the richest French provinces were occupied.

"We don't underestimate our opponents," he said. "The French and English fight with utter contempt for death, but we are gradually winning ground and are convinced that some day the enemy's resistance will be broken.

"Germany is prepared to wage war for years and the side which is able to stand the most and has the best discipline is bound to win. The enthusiasm and morale of the German soldiers, fostered by good supply arrangements, we are sure, will ultimately make us victorious."

Speaking of the situation in the east, Field Marshal von der Goltz said he considered that the Russian offensive had been a failure, but that hard fighting was still in prospect.

"But the German army," he added, "which was victorious earlier against superior numbers, is bound to be se in the future."

Field Marshal Baron von der Goltz said in conclusion that he was convinced that the Turkish army had greatly profited by its hard work during the last few years and would make a good record.

CAN DO MORE THAN DOCTORS, HE SAYS

Dr. Crull Commends Work of Anti-Tuberculosis Societies.

In a communication today, addressed to more than 600 Red Cross seal boosters in all sections of Indiana, Dr. Eric Crull, of this city, chairman of the advisory council of the Indiana Red Cross Seals commission, takes an advanced stand as a member of the medical profession.

He declares that the work of the anti-tuberculosis organizations, which are financed through the Red Cross seal, "can do more towards defeating tuberculosis and its appalling mortality than anything we doctors can prescribe."

Dr. Crull's Letter.

Here is the text of the letter:

Only a few days and our annual Red Cross seals campaign will be over with and, from present indications, it will set a new record for Indiana. Let me express the hope that your territory is measuring up to the rest of the state and that the proceeds from the seal sale in your community will be sufficiently large to provide for a very definite and well-planned crusade against the "white plague" next year. The world is recognizing more and more each day that education along preventive lines will accomplish more towards defeating tuberculosis and its appalling mortality than anything we doctors can prescribe.

Since the money raised through the sale of Red Cross seals is used largely for the dissemination of educational material throughout the state; since the efforts tending toward the conservation of life are recognized in America today as being the most important movement in the nation; since the reduction of mortality is acknowledged to be an economic factor in any community; since you can prove to any business man that tuberculosis is a heavy and unnecessary expense to the taxpayers and since this disease is now known to be communicable, and preventable, you with all the rest of us certainly can work diligently and enthusiastically with the proud conviction that we are helping in the noblest cause that can be conceived by the human mind.

It will be extremely difficult to measure the net results of your activity in this seal campaign. Who can tell the number of lives that may be prolonged because of your work and the work of your helpers in selling Red Cross seals now? Perhaps your own life or the life of some member of your family or of some friend will be protected from tuberculosis by a consumptive who will be cured with the money derived from advisory council of the State Red Cross Seals commission, I extend to you my sincere wishes for an unusually successful campaign.

DELEGATES RETURN FROM CONVENTION

Fort Wayne delegates to the annual convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress at Washington, D. C., have returned home and all are optimistic over the prospects of the construction of the Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago barge canal.

Col. D. N. Foster, one of the delegates, stated that the meeting was full of enthusiasm and that the local project was looked upon with great favor. He says that the government is thoroughly committed to the policy of developing the waterways of the country.

"I believe that the present congress will appropriate $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 for the waterways," he said. "The proposition to connect Lake Michigan and Lake Erie by means of the Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago barge canal is looked upon as the most important project of them all. The people of New York say they cannot develop their waterway, upon which they have spent $130,000,000 and upon which they expect to spend $25,000,000 more, unless they have our local project as a feeder. New York people are willing to come here and help us boost the project and we hope to be able to give them a chance to do that next summer."

SAYS STRIKES COULD HAVE BEEN AVERTED

Labor Secretary in Report Criticizes Coal Mine Owners.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Secretary Wilson of the Department of Labor, in his annual report submitted today, expresses the conviction that had the owners of the mine properties in the Calumet copper region and the Colorado coal fields dealt with the strike situations in their inception, "had they been on the ground and personally in charge, there is reason to believe that no strike would have ensued."

Principally Secretary Wilson's report is devoted to a review of the labor disputes the department has successfully mediated during the last year and it defines, at some length, the principles upon which the department acts in such cases. Of the mediation and conciliation work the report says:

"Primarily the Department of Labor must conserve in industrial disputes the interests of the wage earners of the United States. But though the department of labor represents primarily the wage-earning interests in labor disputes, its ideal is to make its representation similar in character to that of the department of state.

Mediation, Not Arbitration.

"It should be understood, therefore, that mediation does not mean arbitration, compulsory or otherwise. Nor is it in any other sense a judicial function. The function is one of negotiation. What the commissioners of conciliation seek to do is to bring employer and employe together, so that they may work out their differences between themselves peacefully and amicably, as business men with legitimate differences to adjust. When the department is unable, whether through commissioners or conciliation or otherwise, to get the parties to meet and work out their own problems, or to agree upon an adjustment by way of mediatorial negotiation, or to adopt arbitration by arbitrators of their own choosing, then there is nothing further the department can do than to give the public the information necessary to enable it to pass a fair judgment upon the merits of the dispute.

"It is, then, the policy of the department of labor, and has been its custom, to appoint in important cases two or more commissioners of conciliation so that the secretray may be intelligently advised of the merits of the dispute from all angles on both sides."

ITALY DEMANDS THAT TURK MAKE APOLOGY

New Turn in Affairs Puts Italians Much Nearer Conflict.

London, Dec. 14.—The Italian government has sent a demand for an apology to Turkey, the result of the forcible entry of the Italian consulate at Hodeida by Turkish troops and the seizure therein of the British consul, G. A. Richardson, according to advices from Rome last night.

Baron Sonnino, the Italian minister of foreign affairs, aroused intense enthusiasm in the Italian chamber when, in answer to an interpellation from the floor, he recited the story of Consul Richardson's arrest and explained his own action in demanding public satisfaction to Italy from Turkey.

Germany Advises Turks.

The Rome dispatch adds that the German government has advised the Sublime Port to grant Italy's demands in order to avoid further international complications.

While an apology from Turkey is regarded as likely, there is held to be much significance in the incident, in that it tends to prove that Italy, while neutral, is entirely in sympathy with the allies. The Richardson incident may prove an excuse for Italy's taking an active part in the conflict on the side of the allies.

Baron Sonnino, in the chamber of deputies, gave the story of Consul Richardson's arrest, which already had been made public. He added that Sgr. Cecchi, the Italian consul at Hodeida, who came to the defense of his colleague, was obliged to remain in his own house, which was watched for several days, until the arrival of the Italian coast guardship Giuliana, and the Italian armored cruiser, Marco Polo, which had been ordered to Hodeida.

Mrs. Edgar H. Kilbourne, who was operated on Saturday at her home, 3227 Broadway, is improving nicely.

H. W. Sigrist, of the firm of Sigrist & Company, has gone to St. Louis on business.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Revelation 21:1-14.

1 And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.

2 And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. ..

3 And I heard a great voice out or heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4 And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5 And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful.

6 And he said unto me. It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely.

7 He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

8 But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9 And there came unto me one of the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will show thee the bride, the Lamb's wife.

10 And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God,

11 Having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;

12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel:

13 On the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

VOL. LXXXII ..... No. 78

MONDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1914.

Two Remarkable Stories.

Within the past few days there has come to light two ideas, two somewhat novel views of life problems, which if universally adopted and lived up to, would mean revolution such as the world has not yet seen.

Mrs. Anna Semple, a California woman, takes into her home the girl whom her husband betrayed and would befriend her until she "gets straight with life again." Mrs. Semple believes that "women are too ready to scorn the woman who is down; all women should stand by each other." Suppose that women should stand by the fallen woman as men stand by the fallen man. It would put an end to the obsession that there is a female morality and a male morality, wouldn't it? Yes, it would smash the "double standard," and more men would live clean lives. What a tremendous social revolution if, when a woman falls, the women should think and act as Christian-like as they do towards fallen men!

The other interesting story tells how "Bill" Brown, one of Los Angeles' city prosecutors, puts on tramps' attire and associates with so-called vagrants, so that fewer men who are simply out of work will not be railroaded to jail from police court as "vags." Think of a city prosecutor working to keep men out of jail! Why, a prosecutor's record is based on the big number of convictions he secures, isn't it? There are lots of men out of work, just now, and "Bill" Brown is passing up the chance of a lifetime to say nothing of his interference with the prosperity of one of our most precious institutions, the jail. It's decidedly revolutionary. It's going back to the dark days, when a prosecutor beleves that it's better that nine guilty men esape than that one innocent man be jailed, isn't it?

These two stories are not the "big news" stories of the day. You will not find them displayed under large circus-poster type. You'll find the display made over the heroism of Francois Jean Pierre, who cuts the throats of six German boy soldiers with his own hand; you'll find the fame spread over Gen. Von Dibble, who, by clever strategy, traps 2,000 Servians so that they can easily be mowed down by his rapid-firers. But there is heroism when a woman, defying the scorn of her sex and disregarding the merciless custom of the ages, takes into her life a fallen sister and, by other means than prayer and advice, gives her a practical chance to "get straight with life again;" there's good strategy, policy, admirable love of justice in the prosecutor who works to keep men out of jail rather than in.

Each day is bringing fresh confirmation of the now well-grounded conviction that, strong as is the desire for the return of peace and the cessation of slaughter, there is little promise of its achievement until the gigantic war struggle has reached a decisive end. It is quite evident that none of the warring peoples have any intention of yielding until they are forced by defeat or exhaustion to do so. Mr. Herrick, recently returned ambassador to France, whose opportunities for judging make his opinion worth while, supplements earlier declaration to this general end. Hope for early cessation of hostilities seems entirely groundless. The struggle is bound to be a long one, yet, distressing as it is, the result will not be without its value if its effect is to so sicken the world with war that huamnity may never again be forced to endure its horrors.

Confronted by the necessity of going squarely on record as to the proposed prohibition and woman suffrage amendments within the next week or two, we suspect that certain members of congress are convinced that not all the bravery on earth is just now confined to European battle fields. It will be observed, however, that with remarkable discretion, the fight on these two questions was tide-tracked until after the fall elections.

Take a look at the stacks on some of the bigger down-town buildings almost any of these fine, crispy mornings and you have a shrewdish notion [illegible]

A BAD YEAR FOR "BOOZE."

(Kansas City Times.)

The current year is likely to prove the most disastrous to liquor selling in history.

The most sweeping attack the business ever has had has come from Russia, where at one stroke an enormous sale has been wiped out, with such good results that the minister of finance has no word of regret for the loss of nearly 500 million dollars in revenue. At the same time the necessity of temperance has been emphasized in all the countries at war.

In America five great states have voted out liquor—Arizona, Colorado Oregon, Virginia and Washington. Altogether, when the new legislation shall have become effective, fourteen states will be living under absolute prohibition. The Anti-Saloon league estimates that these fourteen states, with the other "dry" territory, make a total of more than 74 per cent. of the area of the United States from which liquor selling has been driven.

Twenty years ago about sixteen million persons were living in "dry" territory. Now more than forty-nine millions are included in that territory. That means more than a million and a half persons a year for two decades have been brought into regions from which liquor is excluded.

The saloons, of course, are concentrated in large cities. In thirty-six states there are fewer saloons than are in New York city alone. There are seventeen hundred fewer saloons south of Mason and Dixon's line than are in the city of Chicago.

Three newly elected legislatures are regarded as aggressively "dry" by the Anti-Saloon league—those of Missouri Alabama and Idaho. It is expected that the Missouri legislature will help the city people to keep saloons away from their homes by enacting a precinct option law, by which individual precincts may vote "dry."

These results are not the outcome of any moral wave. They are due to two chief causes. People have resented the attempts of the liquor interests to control the government and run things And they have found that they can't be efficient in athletics, in business or anything else if they "booze."

WOMEN WHO KILL.

(Saturday Evening Post.)

Occasionally there is an exception to the rule that any female who is notwholly disreputable and has not a positive squint can kill anybody she chooses and go free. Making due allowance for infants and for females who are handicapped by physical repulsiveness or by vulgar police records, we should say that, as to fully a quarter of the population of the United States, the chance of being punished for homicide is barely one out of a hundred. Women are in much the same position as though the law defined homicide as a misdemeanor punishable by a fortnight's attendance in court attired in their most becoming clothes and duly wept over by sympathetic spectators.

In view of the almost total immunity for mob murders, the near immunity for female homicides, the near immunity for male murderers who plead the unwritten law, and the chance that any other male homicide the police capture will escape on some technicality, it is an open question whether the death penalties and the imprisonments with which the law threatens murderers are of any value in protecting life.

As to women who kill, it would be a decided improvement if they could be brought before some unsentimental judge who would sternly sentence them to scrub the court house floors for the next six months.

HE NEGLECTED TO DIVIDE.

Pierceton, Ind., Dec. 14.—To the Editor of The Sentinel: In my communication on Saturday, in which is said that "it takes miles of cord to run a clock 78 years, I made a mistake in computing the winding distance. Instead of 92 miles, 5 feet and 3 inches; it should be 7 miles, 213 rods, 15 feet and 1¾ inches. I had neglected to divide by 12. Will you please state the correction in your next issue?

Yours Truly,

A POLICEMAN AND A CHICKEN.

St. Louis Patrolman Suspended for Taking Fowl from Ice Box.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 14.—Patrolman Albert H. Young, of Carondelet station, was suspended, charged with stealing a dressed chicken from the ice box of a South Broadway market. Captain Hess forwarded a complaint against the patrolman to Chief Young.

According to Hess, in the last week three chickens and several bunches of celery have been missed from the ice box. Sergt. Fred Schiefelbein was told to watch the market. He reported that he saw Patrolman Young enter the front door of the store, which was insecure, go to teh icebox, take the chicken and wrap it in a newspaper.

The sergeant arrested the policeman and took him to the station. The storekeeper was called, but refused to prosecute. Then Schiefelbein suspended the patrolman and placed a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer against him.

Music lovers and members of the Morning Musical society will read with more than common interest that the society has engaged the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra to give a concert at the Majestic theater in January. The fact that the orchestra was obliged to cancel a southern tour for business reasons led to arrangements for a northern tour that brought the organization within reach of Fort Wayne, and the enterprising officers of the local musical society lost no time in "getting busy" in making an engagement.

The beginning of the Jewish holiday Hanukka, which began on Sunday, was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lande, corner of Lafayette and Montgomery streets. Many friends and relatives were present, including Rev. S. Bernstein and Rev. Dr. R. Kornblith, of New York city. Both gentlemen spoke in honor of the feast. LITTLE GIRL VICTIM OF ATROCIOUS MURDER, AND MAN WHO IS UNDER ARREST FOR THE FIENDISH CRIME.

David Fountain, confessed murderer in the custody of a detective.

Margaret Milling, the murdered girl.

Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 12.—One of the most atrocious murders ever perpetrated has been committed here in the killing of Margaret Milling, a ten-year-old child, in the basement of the German Lutheran church.

David Fountain, janitor of the church was arrested on suspicion and confessed under the merciless lash of police examination.

It was Fountain who reported the finding of the tiny body and it was Fountain who identified the child. Upon examination, the corpse revealed the fact that the girl had been assaulted and had fought with her assailant desperately. She had been badly beaten and death was due to strangulation.

Since being incarcerated, Fountain has been declared mentally delinquent by State Medical Superintendent F. W. Hatch and Dr. C. B. Jones.

Upon a grilling "third degree" the prisoner admitted that he had served five prison terms in the east, and also he had been confined for nearly two years in the asylum for the insane in Iowa.

ENGLISH SUBMARINE IN A DARING EXPLOIT

London, Dec. 14.—(11:25 a. m.)—A communication issued by the official bureau today announced that the Turkish battleship Messudieh has been torpedoed by a British submarine. The official bureau's statement is as follows:

"Yesterday submarine B-11, in charge of Lieut. Commander Norman B. Seabrook, of the Royal navy, entered the Dardanelles and in spite of the difficult current dived under five rows of mines and torpedoed the Turkish battleship Messudieh, which was guarding the mine fields.

"Although pursued by gun fire and torpedo boats the B-11 returned safely after being submerged, on one occasion, for nine hours.

"When last seen the Messudieh was sinking by the stern."

MANY CONGRESSMAN VERY MUCH WORRIED

Hobson Prohibition Amendment Vote Embarrassment to Statesmen.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The holiday season has taken on a gloomy aspect for scores of members of the house of representatives since the rules committee announced that it would call up both the national prohibition and woman suffrage resolutions on Dec. 22.

With rare exceptions, the only approximately happy members are those representing overwhelmingly "wet" or "dry" districts. They generally will vote the sentiment of their districts with the knowledge that only a minority of their constituents will condemn them.

However, those members whose districts are somewhat evenly divided on the liquor question are being harassed with forebodings of the consequences of the roll call on the Hobson resolution. Whichever way they vote, they will be condemned by a large aggregation of their constituents.

Both Likely to Fail.

The prospect is that neither the prohibition nor the suffrage resolution will receive the support of two-thirds of the members, which is the prerequisite of submission of a proposed constitutional amendment to the states. But more votes will be cast for the prohibition than for the suffrage measure.

The supporters of the Hobson resolution are inclined to be angry at Secretary of State Bryan for taking the stand in the Commoner that prohibition is a state, not a national, question. They realize that Mr. Bryan, by assuming this attitude, has cost them dozens, if not scores, of votes in the house.

Arguments of "Drys."

Led by the members from the ten prohibition states, the "drys" intend to marshal all the possible arguments for their cause; including those which have been supplied by the world war. They will argue that the action of the belligerent countries in the supreme national crisis has demonstrated the real iniquity of liquor. They will point to the rejuvenation of Russia as a result of the czar's prohibition ukase and to the suppression of the absinthe traffic by France, and will dwell upon the kaiser's advice to abstain from beer and Lord Kitchener's recommendation that spirituous drinks be tabooed.

The "wets" will respond with arguments that America needs no such drastic measures to prevent the evils of intemperance; that the control of the liquor traffic is a local, not a national question, and that the republic, particularly in times necessitating emergency taxation, cannot afford to forego the $150,000,000 revenue derived from brewing and distilling.

EXTREME COLD WAVE VISITS FORT WAYNE

Mercury at 6 O'Clock Monday Morning Stood Two Degrees Below Zero.

Zero weather was experienced in Fort Wayne Monday, for the first time this winter, the lowest temperature registering at two degrees below zero at six o'clock. At 8 o'clock the mercury had only climbed to two degrees above, according to the government thermometer in the United States weather bureau.

The change came without very much warning. Sunday was not very cold, the mercury standing for a greater part of the day above freezing. At 7 o'clock Sunday night the wind shifted to the northwest and from that time until Monday morning the mercury slowly descended to two degrees below zero, where it remained stationary for a time and then slowly started on a return trip up the thermometer. Until late Monday, however, the mercury hovered dangerously near the zero mark and showed very little inclination of getting very far away.

Blinding Snow Storm.

There was a blinding snow storm all day Sunday. But for the fact that the snow melted about as quickly as it fell there would have been fifteen inches of the beautiful on the ground. Railroad traffic was interferred with to some extent because of snow drifts. The Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company found it necessary to keep its sweeper out for the greater part of Sunday. A force of men also was kept busy cleaning the switches, especially at the transfer corner.

As a result of the sudden change there is much suffering among those unprepared for zero weather. The prospects are that the cold wave will continue for a few days.

CHICAGO SHRINERS PUT DIP TO GRIEF

"High Sign" Foils Attempt of Pickpocket to Rob on Car.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Three pickpockets caused distress signals and lodge calls for help to fly among forty Shriners who, with their wives, were on the way to Medinah temple yesterday.

The Masons were in a Broadway-Cottage Grove car. At Randolph street two men and a woman boarded it and pushed their way into the crowd. In a few moments their nimble fingers were at work in the pockets of the Shriners. While the two men devoted their attention to the Shriners, the woman busied herself with the handbags of the Shriners' wives.

One of the Shriners saw a wallet slipped from the pocket of a brother lodge member. Just what was the signal that he gave, of course, the Masons refused to tell, but in an instant all were on their guard. Four of them seized one of the trio, but the woman and one of the men edged their way onto the platform and escaped.

As they passed her, one Shriner's wife screamed and said that the woman had tried to grab her handbag.

The man held by the Shriners struggled furiously all the way to Chicago avenue where a patrol wagon met the car in response to a message telephoned by W. J. Uhr, of 1409 East Forty-seventh street, who jumped off the car at Ohio street.

When the prisoner had been taken from the car the wallet containing $40 which had been taken from one of the Shriners was found on the floor by Attorney Elmer A. Rogers. The prisoner gave his name as Harry Marks, of 2119 South Wabash avenue. He denied having done anything wrong.

TWO LAWYERS TELL OF KOKOMO MEETING

Preparatory Service is Held at Wayne Street Methodist Church.

Two lawyers from Kokomo told a large audience at the Wayne Street Methodist church Sunday afternoon what Dr. Lyon had done in that city. Wonderful testimonials were given of the vast amount or good brought about as a result of the meetings there some months ago.

Warren D. Voorhis, although a member of the church, but an agnostic, told how Dr. Lyon had caused him to realize the existence of Jesus Christ and the certainty of a more glorious life after death. He said he had lived forty years before he really knew the happiness and joy of being a Christian.

Mr. Voorhis told of the birth of the Christian religion—how eleven men had gathered about that spirit which has never left the world. From that day to this the noblest employment of human tongue, he said, is the spreading of the gospel. The greatest miracle ever performed was the birth of Christianity.

He said it was a splendid thing for the various congregations to unite in a meeting of this kind. He said he envied Dr. Lyon his opportunity to bring peace to sad hearts and to reveal to mankind real happiness such as was revealed to him.

Opposed to Meetings.

"I was opposed to such meetings," he continued. "I had studied theology and had read much on the subject and was in reality an agnostic. If a man had told me my religion would change I would have disputed him. I felt that if there is a heaven all right, and if there isn't, all right."

Mr. Voorhis said that Dr. Lyon pointed out to him the ridiculousness of his reasoning. He had doubted the experiences of religious persons and while he loved his home, his wife and children, his business was good and he had all a man could wish for, he was dissatisfied. Out of all the theories he had read and the philosopries he had studied it brought him no comfort. He said that when Dr. Lyon came to Kokomo he determined to give the evangelist a show.

Sermons Are Reasonable.

Mr. Voorhis said Dr. Lyon is a peculiar preacher, yet he preaches sound, sane and reasonable sermons. It seemed to him that he divides his sermons into three divisions. In the first division of the meetings he attempts to convict men of their discontented condition. The speaker said he was convicted. In the second division he devotes his sermons to the method of redemption and in the third division his sermons are devoted to the plan or theory of salvation as offered by Jesus Christ.

The speaker said that Dr. Lyon portrayed the love of the Shepherd of the lost sheep [illegible] down in front, but I wanted to. I felt it was big enough a thing to deserve a public confession and I felt it might influence others."

Since the Lyon meeting Mr. Voorhis said he has not been the same kind of a man for his viewpoint of life has changed. The meetings also changed the life of many of his neighbors.

Elliott Speaks.

Donald F. Elliott, the first speaker, spoke in place of his brother, Earl Eliott, who was suddenly called to New York city and for that reason could not be here.

Mr. Elliott said that for many years there was something in his life at work. He realized that he was wrong and that there was something lacking. With his many advantages he knew he had not been living up to his opportunities and the things that were expected of him for the help of mankind and those less fortunately situated. He knew he owed it to society to be a Christian and consequently he used the Lyon meetings as sort of a medium to an end.

"Does being a Christian pay?" he asked. "No question of it. The better citizen is the man who is trying to right wrong and help his neighbor."

In closing he said that every man owes it to society to be a Christian.

CLASS PLAY GIVEN.

Juniors Enjoy Pleasant Evening at the High School Building.

A very pleasaant time was enjoyed Saturday evening by the members of the junior class of the Fort Wayne High and Manual Training school at their play and party. "A Case of Suspension" was the title of the play which was given in the auditorium. The cast was composed of the following members: Harry Warfel, August Detzer, Wayne Thieme, William Mossman, Reynold Eggeman, Helen Strieder, Virginia Kinnard, Clara Wiebke, Myrtle Miller and Gladys Eikenbary. Music was furnished by the class quartet composed of Adolph Jenson, Robert Edmunds, Carl Gerke and Alford Bogenschuetz.

Following the play a social evening was enjoyed, including dancing and refreshments.

LAST RITES ARE SIMPLE.

Late Head of Mormon Church Buried at Independence, Mo.

Independence, Mo., Dec. 14.—Joseph Smith, president of the reorganized church of Latter Day Saints, who died Thursday, was buried here yesterday. In accordance with the directions given by the patriarch on his death bed, the services were simple.

Immediately after the services the quorum of twelve apostles, the highest ruling body in the church, called a meeting to be held tomorrow morning. Some years ago Joseph Smith announced a divine revelation that his son, Frederick Smith, should be his successor and it is believed the apostles will confirm this appointment.

IOWA FARMER TRIES A GAME OF HIS OWN

Charged With Turning Bunco Tables on the Smart City Fellers.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Down on the farm at Cherokee, Iowa, Alexander Erlick read the city papers and found out all about the "foxy slickers" who lie in wait for the innocent farmer.

Suddenly the Big Idea struck him. By Heck!

He rubbed a little hayseed in his hair, put on his best pair of rawhide top boots, packed the old carpet-bag and came to Chicago to meet some affable stranger who would take him down to the lake front to see the German submarines come up for air.

He met Thomas Pieske of 1302 West Fifty-second street, and Nicholas Kirchgesner, of 1430 Sedgwick street, in a saloon near the stockyards. He waited patiently, but they did not offer to sell him the Logan monument or the La Salle street station, so he offered them jobs down on the farm.

Hard work? Early rising? Oh, no, indeed. That was in the olden days, but not now.

All the modern farm hand has to do is drive the automobile down to the general store for fresh eggs for breakfast, count the money left by the commission merchant on his daily visit and then dress up and take the neighbors' girls out riding, he explained.

Pieske and Kirchgesner decided that "down with the cows and chickens" was the life for them, and each handed over $10 for railroad fare to Cherokee and then went home to have their suits pressed and their shoes shined.

When next they met Erlick he gave them the cold shoulder. They had him arrested as a "bunco man."

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself," Captain Gorman told Erlick. "When farmers come to town they are expected to let the 'city fellers' get their pocketbooks, but see what you have done. All the comic papers will have to go out of business right away."

VETERAN RAILROAD MAN DIES.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—William David Cantillon, until last May general manager of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, died here yesterday. Mr. Cantillon entered the service of the railroad as a freight brakeman in 1878 and rose from brakeman to conductor, trainmaster, superintendent and general manager. Two of Cantillon's brothers, Michael and Joseph, are well known as managers of base ball clubs.

RATHBONE TEMPLE INSPECTED.

Rathbone temple, No. 81, Pythian Sisters, was inspected Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Flora Ritter, D. D. G. C. of Toledo. The inspection was in connection with the regular business meeting held in Pythian hall. Lunch was served [illegible]

CAN YOU ROULI-ROULI? OH, THAT'S THE VERY LATEST DANCE.

A rollicking sailor's dance, with a lively hornpipe step in it, is the rouli-rouli, latest society dance, and it's as popular in ballrooms now as it was many years ago on the decks of "tramp steamers" sailing out of Marseilles or Calais, for the fantastic steps of the rouli-rouli were originated by French sailors and not by dancing masters.

The dancing masters, however, have modified and refined the wild and sometimes weird step of the jolly sailor, and as it is danced today the rouli-rouli is one of the most graceful figures on the modern dance program.

Miss Edna Neil, formerly with Pavlowa in the Russian imperial ballet studied the rouli-rouli in both Paris and London recently and she is now teaching it in America.

(By Miss Edna Neil, formerly with the Russian imperial ballet.)

Now the gentleman comes forward with right foot and one side to the left. Balance and cross forward and slide as in a two-step, three turns with the left foot leading. Now the gentleman crosses the right foot back and slides backward three times. Cross the left foot forward and slide three times.

After this figure the lady turns again and faces her partner two-stepping from side to side and turns under the gentleman's arm twice still using the two step backward.

Now the gentleman leads with the left foot, crosses forward with right foot taking two counts to each step then steps backward two steps and forward two steps (one count to each step and repeat).

In the music is a long rumble—during this rumble the partners face each other and perform the rouli-rouli movement which is describing a circle with each arm the gentleman pushing the lady's arm back while she is pushing his other arm back—always making a circle as illustrated in photograph.

Pas de bourrie again four times, walk four steps and turn inside out three times. That is, the gentleman and lady turn back to back and face to face, keeping the hands together turning under their arms.

Stick a Seal—Every One Counts in the White Plague War

Stick a seal!—a Red Cross Seal on your Christmas packages!

Stick a seal—the seal of the Red Cross, seal of mercy and hope on your Christmas letters!

Stick the badge of the Red Cross, the seal of the Christmas spirit on every Christmas remembrance you send your friends.

The American Red Cross society needs a million dollars for its war-chest, the war-chest that's to pay for the battle it is waging against tuberculosis. Every seal you stick to a Christmas package, a postcard, a business letter, is a contribution to that war fund.

THIS IS THE SEAL—"STICK IT."

Every time you stick a seal to a letter you strike a blow at man's deadliest enemy, tuberculosis, at the "White Plague" that has flung its battle front from country-end to country-end, and has a stronghold in your town as well as in every other town in the country.

Every time you "stick a seal" on a letter or a Christmas package you pay for ammunition to defeat the "white plague."

The Christmas package that carries a Red Cross seal is thrice blessed. It blesses him who gives and him who receives, but a greater blessing still it bestows on the wan baby struggling against the awful curse of consumption, on the strong man just smitten with the disease or on the mother who has neither strength, knowledge nor money to save herself from the deadly germ of tuberculosis.

"Stick a seal"—set the seal of your good will, the badge of the Red Cross, the emblem of the Christmas spirit on every Christmas offering you make; tell the children about it, set them to "sticking seals;" tell your friends—urge them to "stick a seal" on every letter they write from now until Christmas day.

Every seal adds to the funds that will help to save thousands of men, women and children from consumption. It's such a little thing to do. Of course, you won't neglect it.

Will you "stick a seal?"

SORROW HEAVIEST OVER "OLD GUARD"

Legislative Veterans Were Grouped at Funeral of Late Mr. Payne.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The official life of the nation yesterday paid final tribute to the late Sereno E. Payne, for more than thirty years a member of the house of representatives from New York. Black garbed legislators, executives and members of the judiciary in their sombre flowing robes, were joined by the representatives of foreign countries in the first formal funeral ceremony held in the chamber of the house in fifteen years.

The cloud of sorrow hung heaviest over a litle group of legislative veterans who sought the cold comfort of companionship in misery far back in a corner in the rear of the chamber. They were the republican "old guard," companions-in-arms of the dead statesman in the legislative battles of a quarter of a century, and they seemed uncomfortable in the public show of their grief. In the center, stiffly upright, with folded arms, sat "Uncle Joe" Cannon, the dead man's chief in many a hard fought struggle of policy and statecraft. Beside him ranged James Hemenway, of Indiana; John Dwight, of New York; Ebenezer Hill, of Connecticut, and John Dalzell, of Pennsylvania.

All had poignant memories of standing shoulder to shoulder with the bulky form of the New York legislator in great and small governmental struggles. And the simple funeral ceremony, the quiet strains of the hymns, started unbidden tears that were hurriedly brushed away with studied carelessness. In all the solemn formality the "old guard" seemed to have part. Theirs was a deeper, closer grief. And when the ceremony was done and the hundreds had passed the flower banked catafalque, they stood together and gazed for a few moments on all that was mortal of their dead companion.

"I swore I would never enter the chamber again until I came with a certificate of election in my hand," said "Uncle Joe" Cannon, his square jaw trembling, "but Payne died, and I had to come to the funeral."

After the ceremony the body was left to lie in state until late in the afternoon, when escorted by a committee of sixty members of the house and senate it was taken to Auburn, N. Y., the home of Mr. Payne.

President Wilson wrote a letter of condolence to Will Payne, only son of the dead legislator, who represented the family at the funeral.

The people of Indiana spend ten millions of dollars for Christmas gifts, only half of which they need to

Remarkable Romance Comes to Light When Lovers of Years Ago Are Reunited in Boundless West.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cleaver, newlyweds. Cleaver's young son is twenty-five. The other son is thirty-two and has children of his own.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 14.—Two old sweethearts took train recently for Selled, forty miles out of Seattle, where they expect to finish a fairy-like romance begun thirty-six years ago in London by "living happily ever afterwards."

He is fifty-nine; she is fifty-six.

He has two grown sons.

Both have been married before.

But the two who interrupted the romance many years ago, are dead now.

The lives of the old sweethearts have been interwoven since childhood. And the story, like all good stories, has ended well.

Thomas Cleaver was introduced to Matilda Crockett in 1878 in London.

Thomas was a stalwart, handsom young chap. He laid siege to her heart The siege didn't last long—a year, or maybe a bit more; and then she promised to be his wife.

But meantime Cleaver's chum, too had stormed the fortress of her heart

Pretty Matilda found herself in a most distressing predicament. She couldn't tell for the life of her which she loved best.

It used to be hard, those days, for Thomas to still think of the other fellow as his chum. But somehow he managed it. Even wore his best, most cheer smile, when early in June, in 1882, she became Matilda Beech—instead of Matilda Cleaver, as planned originally.

Thomas was not the sort to nurse his disappointments the rest of his days Nor did he believe in letting the grasse grow rank between his toes.

Matilda might be one girl among a thousand, but that was no reason he should remain an old bach all his life * * * There was Martha now!—Matilda's very best girl friend. * * * And so in just two months after Matilda's wedding, he married Martha.

And the years passed, and the four were the good friends they had always been. * * * Two sturdy sons came to brighten the home of Thomas and Martha, but none to the home of th Beeches. * * * And when the young est son of Thomas and Martha was but two years old, the wife and mother smilingly departed for a better world.

Her leavetaking was followed not many years later by the departure of the sons for America. * * *

And yet with all his boyhood dreams turned to mere memories, his home broken up, and apparently nothing to live for, Thomas retained his old-time optimism, and his dashing ways, and his smile.

Two years ago Matilda's husband also died, leaving her in circumstances which made it necessary for her to work for her living.

About that time, too, Thomas came to join his sons in America.

The sister of Thomas and Matilda were great friends. Through letters to his sister, Thomas learned seven months ago that Matilda was a widow. And so—

"His sister told me, 'Tom wants some one to go out there, and would you like to go?'—and I said I should like to go the very next week," said the new Mrs Cleaver.

"I came all the way across the ocean alone," she added, "—and the first time I was ever out of London, too!"

"I sent her twenty-three pounds," interrupted Thomas, "to come on, and I told her just what to do—didn't I, 'Til! But she was awful late getting here because she was detained in Chicago and I was up and down and all over—pretty near crazy when she didn't come a-thinking somebody had got her away from me again.

"We went right up to the courthouse to get the marriage license, intending to wait until Christmas to get married, but somebody sent us upstairs to Judge Humphries, and it came out all at once, and we were married before we knew it.

"If they knew about it in England they wouldn't know what to think!" ruminated Mrs. Cleaver, with something pretty close to a giggle.

"And my youngest son, Richard, 25 years old, gave the bride away," chuckled Mr. Cleaver.

"I've got a picture home of her when she was a girl, you should see," said the mischievous Thomas. "She's good looking now, but she was better looking then."

He grinned.

"Well, Tom, you're not so much now as you were then either," she declared.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 14.—Eight sisters of the Order of Holy Cross, whose mother house is at St. Mary's college and academy in this city, celebrated their golden jubilee as members of the order. All but three of the sisters are still at the local school. The sisters who have been in the order fifty years are: M. Helen, M. Paula, M. Regina, M. Stanislaus, M. Passion, M. Clare, M. Bethlehem and M. Sophia. Sister M. Lydia, who died November 28, also would have been one of the jubilarians had she lived.

HAS 43-YEAR-OLD WARRANT.

Prescott, Ark., Dec. 14.—Robert Bakely, a curio collector of this city, has in his possession probably the oldest county warrant issued by Nevada county in existence. The warrant is No. 8, dated July 12, 1871, at Mount Moriah, then the county seat, is payable to J. S. Vandergriff, signed by A. B. Parsons, the first county clerk, and is for $69. The warrant was issued a short time after the county was organized and bears the following indorsement on the back signed by the county treasurer: "Not paid for want of funds, Aug. 8, 1871." The warrant appears to have been redeemed in 1872.

PLEASED WITH HIS WORK.

Textile Workers Re-elect Bernard Storch Their President.

The Textile Workers' union, which claims to have every eligible person in the city enrolled in its membership, is pleased with the manner in which the affairs of the union were conducted during the administration of Bernard Storch, as president, for he was unanimously chosen to succeed himself at the annual election last Friday night. The meeting was one of the best in attendance and interest of the past six months, but aside from the election there was little business transacted because of lack of time. The new roster is as follows: Bernard Storch, president; Martin Grotrian, vice president; Enos Olson, financial secretary; Frank Borgman, corresponding secretary; Harry W. Roesener, recording secretary, re-elected; Christ Wenninghoff, treasurer; Christ Kinzle, conductor; John Freck, warden; Robert Veiweger, Max Ludwig and Adam Baus, trustees; Walter Wefel, Christ Kinzle and Edward Wyneken, auditors; executive committee, cotton mills, Arnold Reuther, Fred Deuter, Fred Weiss, Ferdinand Berthal, Frank Weber, Arthur Loshe, Henry Bork and Theodore Roesener; executive committee, silk mills, Charles Firks, Charles Butler, Henry Adams, Jacob Koerber, Adam Baus, Henry Clemens and Walter Lochner; executive committee, east branch, Harry Witzengreuter, Dick Humeke, Fred Fowler and Edward Weber; Harry W. LAID BEFORE THE SHOPMEN.

Committee Explains Charitable Movement to Pennsy Men.

The meetings at the Pennsylvania machine shop, the round house and the east shops at noon today for the purpose of laying before the employes a proposition to organize with a view of making a merry Christmas for those of their associates who cannot afford the expense, were well attended and the proposition was received with favor. H. Willard Smith, chairman of the general committee, had charge of the meeting at the laying off table in the machine shop; J. H. Bryant presided at the round house meeting and A. D. Boan presided at the east car shop meeting. These gentlemen will meet with the entire committee, the personnel of which was published in The Sentinel Saturday, and report how the proposition was received by the men in the shops. At this meeting the proposition to appoint two additional committeemen for each department, whose duties shall be to canvass the field for worthy subjects upon which to bestow the charity of the organization, will be considered. It is realized that some unfortunates, through feelings of pride, will not report their needs and it is to reach these that the extra committeemen are needed. Pennsylvania shopmen are noted for their brotherly feelings and no charitable move affecting one of their number was ever turned down when started in the shops.

SMASHED MOVING VAN.

But the Four Occupants Escaped With Slight Wounds.

While running at the usual speed at 7:30 o'clock last evening, Pennsylvania train, No. 19, westbound, struck and demolished a large auto moving van in which there were four men. The vehicle was carried or thrown many feet, with the occupants, and completely demolished, but none but the driver, whose name could not be learned, was injured. His wounds consisted of bruises and cuts on his face, arms and legs. He was taken to his home in Chicago. The accident happened on Louck's crossing, two miles west of Valparaiso, which is considered a safe crossing, because of the facilities for a view of the tracks in both directions for a considerable distance.

TO HELP THE UNFORTUNATES.

Wayne Knitting Mills Employes Do a Handsome Deed.

The employes of the Wayne Knitting mills, who were never known to turn down a worthy appeal for charity, distinguished themselves last week by making the largest contribution for charitable purposes ever made in a similar cause by people in their circumstances in Fort Wayne. The sum totalled $942.80, of which $227.65 will be given to local charitable movements. Of the remainder $437.40 goes to the Belgians and the balance to the other nations engaged in war. The money collcted for the Belgians will be used in purchasing flour and lard for the people of that country and the other money for people across the sea will be turned over to the American Red Cross society. The Thieme Brothers Silk mills may take similar action this week.

FIFTEEN YEARS IN OFFICE.

B. F. Sarver Starts Sixteenth Year as Boiler Foreman.

Fifteen years ago today B. Frank Sarver, general foreman of the boiler department of the Pennsylvania shops, came here to assume the duties of that office. Today he was the recipient of congratulations from his associates at the shops and his friends elsewhere who happened to know of the anniversary. Mr. Sarver, besides being prominent in shop circles, is well and favorably known in the city generally. He served the Seventh ward as councilman one term, during which he was on some of the leading committees and took prominent part in matters pertaining to the advancement of the city's interests generally. He is also interested in some fraternal societies, included being the Scottish Rite and the Shrine. Mr. Sarver has served the Pennsylvania many years. In fact, he never had any other employer. He entered the company's shops at Allegheny when a young fellow as a boiler apprentice and later worked there at that trade. Several years prior to coming to this city to take his present position, Mr. Sarver was sent to Crestline as foreman of the company's shops and he remained there until he was called to Fort Wayne.

WILL LIVE IN FLORIDA.

Charles J. Shoup Sends Resignation to Foreman Hogan.

Charles J. Shoup, who with his wife, son and two daughters, went to Delray, Fla., a month ago, has sent his resignation as machinist in the Pennsylvania shops to General Foreman H. T. Hogan. Mr. Shoup's health had been poor for several months and he went south on that account. He had been there previously and purchased a five-acre tract of land, a town lot at Delray and interest in other real estate, which have turned out to be very good investments. He will reside on the little farm, raising fruit and vegetables for the markets. Mr. Shoup worked in the Pennsylvania shops seven or eight years and is quite well known and popular with the men in that big plant. He is also well known in lodge circles, being a member of several lodges, including Our Home lodge, I. O. O. F.

GENERAL OPTIMISM IN COUNTRY.

R. J. Fisher Finds Hopeful Sentiment But Little Business.

"No material change in the business situation, but a very optimistic sentiment among the managers of the railways and the industries of the country," is the way R. J. Fisher expressed his views of the business condition of the country this morning. Mr. Fisher has just returned from St. Louis, Peoria and Chicago, where last week he called upon manufacturers and railroad managers, most of whom are patrons of the Bass Foundry and Machine works. The steel trade is the business barometer of a vast section of the country, including the middle west states, and Mr. Fisher sees signs of improvement in the near future.

The meeting will be held at the Commercial club, commencing at 9:30 o'clock Thursday evening. Mr. Kimball lectured before the association two years ago and his address at that time was considered one of the finest. L. D. Nordstrum, president of the section, is having notices of the coming of Mr. Kimball sent to the membership.

PFLEGER WAS BURIED TODAY.

Several machinists, members of Friendship lodge, No. 70, attended the funeral of William J. Pfleger at Indianapolis this morning. He was district president of the International Association of Machinists and was one of the best known labor leaders in Indiana. He was in Fort Wayne a number of times, his last visit here being during the meeting of the state federation and the district meeting of the machinists. Clayton H. Johnson, of this city, is first vice-president of the district.

CONSCIOUS STRICKEN PREACHER.

The passenger department of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis road was surprised by the receipt of a letter enclosing a draft for $6.31 from a clergyman. He stated that four years ago he failed to pay fare for his six-year-old son and the amount sent in the letter included the half-fare he should have paid and 6 per cent. interest up to date.

The Pennsylvania has contracted to handle two coach loads of Concordia students next Friday. One party will go to Cleveland, leaving on train No. 42, Friday night, and the other party will go to Chicago, leaving on train 15 early Saturday morning. Each party will have a special coach.

Eastbound Wabash passenger train No. 38 came in the city today three hours and thirty minutes behind schedule. The delay was caused by an engine failure on one of the western divisions, which made another engine necessary.

The election of officers for Cigarmakers' union, No. 37, on the night of December 21 will be different from any of the previous elections of the decade, inasmuch as there will be two or more candidates for each office. Nominations were made a week ago.

Machinist Michael Shea resumed his special duties at the shops of the Pennsylvania this morning, after directing the work of installing the Shoemaker automatic firedoor on Pennsylvania engines at the local shops and at the shops of the Chicago Terminal division.

A. C. Contant, foreman of the Pennsylvania machine shop annex, was unable to get down to the shops this morning. He has been ailing for two or three weeks and yesterday the attack became worse. It is not serious, however. This is a new experience for Mr. Contant, who heretofore enjoyed excellent health.

A stock train running between Fort Wayne and Reading, Mich., is a temporary necessity on the Lake Shore on account of the heavy movement of live stock from that part of Michigan to the eastern markets. It is brought down to Waterloo and turned over to the Lake Shore road. It is not known how long this train will be in service. Conductor C. R. Lewis and Engineer E. H. Meeks have charge of it.

No. 469, Painters and Decorators, has added a burial fund to the other benefits it offers members or their heirs. It has been decided to assess each member of the union $1 at the death of a member and the fund thus raised will be given to the family for funeral expenses. This provision does not interfere with the death benefit of the national organization, which ranges from $50 to $300 according to the number of years the deceased member had been in the union. No. 469 also pays a sick benefit of $3 $6 per week.

IN THE CHURCHES

Twentieth Year of Rev. J. H. Bosch's Pastorate to Be Observed.

The general committee of which Jacob Bill is chairman, for the arrangements for the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. John H. Bosch, pastor of the St. John Reformed church, has nearly completed its work for this affair, which will be observed on Sunday, January 10, 1915.

The committee has planned three services for the day, one in the morning at which two pastors of the Zion's classes of the Reformed church will speak, one in the afternoon and one in the evening, following the banquet which will be served at 5:30 o'clock. All the pastors of the classes to which Rev. J. H. Bosch belongs have been invited to attend the affair.

The finance committee gave its report at a meeting held Sunday morning, following the morning service, which showed that sufficient funds had been raised to defray all the expenses that will be connected with the celebration. The ladies of the church have pledged themselves to donate almost all the baked goods for the banquet.

The various committee chairmen and officers for this celebration are: President, Jacob Bill; secretary, Mrs. John Rohlman; treasurer, Mrs. Heck; decorating committee, Miss Henschen; entertainment committee, Pauline Werkman; reception committee, Herbert Klebe; banquet committee, Mrs. Emma Altekruse; publicity, Jacob Bill.

An entertainment by the young people will be given following the banquet in the evening, in which the choir of the church will take an active part. A three act playlet will be given, besides recitations and special music.

The young men of the church will also be prominent in the serving of the banquet. F. Fruechte was appointed chairman of the committee of waiters with the instructions that the waiters should all be young men.

ADMINISTERS CONFIRMATION.

Bishop John Hazen White Makes Annual Visitation at Trinity Parish.

John Hazen White, bishop of the [illegible] firmation to a large class. The feature of the evening's service was the music rendered by the boys' choir.

The choir, augmented by another choir under the direction of F. G. Church, furnished the chorus work and rendered "Gloria" from Mozart's "Twelfth Mass." Frank E. Stouder rendered the selection, "The People That Sit in Darkness," in his characteristic manner which was well received by the audience which completely filled the large auditorium of the church.

Bishop White told the class to whom he administered confirmation about the proper Christian life and lifted up his voice in prayer asking that all might remain on the straight and narrow path. Rev. E. W. Averill, pastor of the church, assisted in the confirmation.

However, if it is not completed this union mass meetings will be held in one of the churches.

RECEIVE CAR LOAD OF CINDERS.

Building of Tabernacle is Begun in Earnest on West Main Street.

A car load of cinders, via the traction company, was received Monday morning for the filling up of the lot at the corner of Ewing and Main streets, where the tabernacle for the Lyon evangelistic campaign will be erected. After the entire lot has been covered with the cinders and leveled off, six inches of shavings will be put over the top of this.

Several large loads of lumber were hauled to the grounds Monday morning and it is thought by those in charge that work will be begun in earnest Tuesday morning. Those in charge are trying hard to have the building completed by December 23. The fences around the lot have been torn down and the bill boards were removed Monday afternoon, so that nothing will hinder in getting started Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary C. Ewing, owner of the site, has very kindly donated its use for the evangelistic campaign and her generosity is greatly appreciated by the committees in charge of the work.

"ADORN YOUR HOME BEFORE SELF," SAYS MRS. JACK CUDAHY.

Mrs. "Jack" Cudahy and her grandfather's clock.

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 11.—"Household jewels are as necessary for proper setting to a woman as personal jewels. The woman who wears them in a house which lacks beauty makes a foolish mistake. That's the chief reason why I wanted a grandfather's clock for a birthday present instead of any more personal jewels."

This is the theory of Mrs. "Jack" Cudahy, of this city, whose husband presented her with a $500 clock for a birthday present in response to her special request. The clock is of solid mahogany of gothic style, to correspond with the rest of the furniture in the drawing room, where it has a place of honor.

"I've more jewels than I can wear in a life time," Mrs. Cudahy said, "so I have determined that my house shall be another great jewel to serve as a setting for my personal adornments."

ASKED FOR BIG REWARD.

Hungarian Wants Enough Kronens to Reach from Ear to Ear.

New York, Dec. 14.—Count Karolyi, according to the Vossische Zeitung, returning to his castle in Hungary, met one of his old servants who had just been sent back wounded from the war.

"My good man, I heard you fought so valiantly at the front," said the count. "I would like to give you some reward. What shall it be?"

The old servant replied:

"Well, if you insist upon it, sir, just give me enough kronen coins to reach from one ear to the other."

"That seems to be a very little reward," replied the count, smiling at the odd request.

"It's enough for me, sir," answered the servant modestly.

As the count was beginning to comply with the strange request he noticed that the servant had only one ear, and remarked upon the fact.

"Yes, sir. I left the other ear on the battlefield at Shabatz," answered the modest man.

For First Time Since Days of Ben Franklin, Says Burleson.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Asserting that for the first time since its organization by Benjamin Franklin, the postoffice department is on a self-sustaining basis, Postmaster General Burleson submitted to President Wilson today his annual report. It records enormous growth in the department's business because of the parcels post and postal savings bank divisions and recommends a program of postal legislation to increase the scope of the department's activities.

Mr. Burleson features his report with an estimate that a surplus of $3,569,545, the second of his administration will be shown for the fiscal year of 1914 when all claims and charges have been met. On that showing he bases his declaration that the department "has been securely placed upon a self-sustaining basis."

"It is safe to say," the report adds, "that unless unusual conditions should arise, resulting in abnormal depression of business, there is no danger of recurring deficiencies."

Program Recommended.

The legislative program recommended is as follows, as to its most important features:

Early action toward government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines, and immediate taking over of these systems in Hawaii, Alaska and Porto Rico. Transfer of the Alaska cable from war to postoffice department control.

Substitution of contract "star route" system for salaried rural carrier service to eliminate $40,000,000 annual loss on rural delivery.

Postoffice co-operation with state governments in road building where improvements insure better postal service.

Raising maximum balance acceptabl at postal banks from $500 to $2,000. interest payments to be limited to $1,000. Removal of monthly deposit limit restriction.

Aerial mail service, where topography warrants, and extension of motor truck and automobile service in view of recent successful experiments.

Passage by senate of pending bill providing space basis of compensation for railroads on mail carried instead of weight basis.

Pending change in rural delivery system, computation of carriers' salaries on basis of services performed, dependent on bulk of mail carried, to stimulate business.

Readjustment of postmasters' salaries on basis of changes in business handled due to parcel post development.

Raising of second-class rates on publications other than newspapers issued once a week from one to two cents a pound.

The Parcel Post.

Of the parcel post during the last year the report says:

"Rapid growth of the parcel post vastly increased postal business during the year. The department's field of service has expanded at a phenomenal rate; it is still expanding. Notwithstanding the decreases of parcel post rates authorized January 1, 1914, economies of administration have kept expenses within the revenues."

Of the department's financial condition the report says:

"The postal revenues for 1914 amounted to $287,934,565.67, an increase over the preceding year of slightly less than 8 per cent., as compared with a corresponding increase of slightly more than 8 per cent. for 1913. The audited expenditures for the year amounted to $283,543,769.16, and the adjusted losses due to fire, burglary, etc., to $14,322.46. The excess of audited revenues over audited expenses and losses is, therefore $4,376,463.05.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

297 PROPOSALS TO MAN OF 90 YEARS

Out of Them "Uncle Bob" Knox Has Just Found Seventh Bride.

Tilton, Ga., Dec. 14.—It has taken "Uncle Bob" Knox just a little over a month to find his seventh bride. Thanks to the story published throughout the country a few weeks ago, this ninety-with "matrimonial intentions," following the newspaper story that his sixth wife had been divorced and that he was year-old farmer is to be married the latter part of this month to Miss Jennie DeWitt, aged fifty-four, of Lima, O., a lady he has never seen.

Just 297 women wrote to "Uncle Bob" looking for another. From the stacks of photographs that or Miss DeWitt was singled out, letters were exchanged, and now she is preparing to come to Georgia.

FREER SHIPMENT OF STOCK IS PERMITTED

New Orders Modify Foot and Mouth Disease Quarantine.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—Since the publication of various orders modifying the federal quarantines declared on account of the foot and mouth disease, the authorities here have received numerous inquiries with regard to the exact meaning of the regulations now in force.

The quarantines which were declared at the beginning of the outbreak prohibited the shipment of cattle, sheep, other ruminants and swine into the quarantined area for any purpose save that of immediate slaughter and prohibited absolutely the shipment of such stock out of the quarantined area. Since then the quarantined area has at some [illegible] where the federal meat inspection service is maintained.

Certain counties, however, have been exempted in each of these states from the privileges granted by the modified quarantine. Into these counties no stock can be shipped for feeding purposes, and no stock can be shipped out except after a preliminary inspection and certification by the federal authorities. In the areas under modified quarantine, various restrictions governing the shipment of carcasses, hides, hay, straw, etc., have also been removed.

It is probable that further modifications of the quarantines will be made in the near future. In these cases it is expected that the same procedure will be followed, and the counties into which feeding stock cannot be shipped, and in which inspection is demanded before export shipments are made, will be specifically named in each order.

WITTY DIXIE GIRL A PRIZE WINNER

Her Letter on Elevator Manners Makes Very Strong Hit.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 14.—Miss Nell R. Lee Murphy, once referred to by General Bennett H. Young, at a confederate reunion, as the "wittiest girl in Dixie," has again scored again and succeeded in winning a prize offered by the Evening Journal of Richmond for the best answer to the question, "Should a man in a crowded elevator remove his hat when there are ladies present?"

Thousands of answers were received [illegible] tinued impoliteness. Miss Murphy's answer is brief and to the point, and seems to sum up the hat-woman-elevator situation rather completely. It reads as follows:

"Voteless sister, when in this land of chivalry, bounded on the north by Maryland and the Chesapeake bay, it becomes necessary to use a derrick to compel mere man to lift the lid from its perch when women are present in elevators, it behooves us to have an unwritten law on the matter, wherefore let us take the matter in our own hands and decide that man who does not lift his hat in an elevator when women are present is either bald, the secret wearer of a toupe, or, like the Venus de Milo, armless. In this way the omnipresent vanity of man will assert itself, and the vexed problem will be settled for all times to our complete satisfaction, and Virginia need never blush for her sons.

The toy is entirely made of metal appropriately colored, the base being a lawn green, goal posts white, and the players themselves in colored uniforms. Toy measures eight inches long and four inches high. Each packed in an individual cardboard box with attractive lithographed picture on top of cover.

SEVEN OF FORT WAYNE'S "LITTLE WORKERS" PREPARING TO FILL STOCKINGS FOR THE POOR CHILDREN.

The girls as they stand in the upper row are Esther Stock, Beatrice Mills, Ruth Henderson and Ruth Wagner. Below are Margaret and Elizabeth Sears and Gladys McMaken. They are members of the "Little Workers" and are preparing Christmas stockings for the poor children of Fort Wayne. Other members of the club who were not able to attend the meeting at which this photograph was taken are Susanne Meyer, Frances Wagner, Charlotte Mahurin and Lavon and Paulina Patterson.

Clarence Strodel, Herbert Rust, Carrol O'Rourke and Robert Seidel.

The Woman's Reading club meeting scheduled to meet this week has been postponed for a week owing to unavoidable circumstances that have arisen. Next week, however, the club will meet on Tuesday with Mrs. George W. Beers who has been called out of the city for several days, but who has the paper for the meeting. This change was effected this morning.

Unusual high praise was expressed of a lecture by Mrs. Frances Haberly Robertson on Friday in Columbia City by the Post of that place. The Post says: "Mrs. Frances Haberly Robertson, of Fort Wayne, delivered a splendid lecture Friday evening in the assembly room of the high school building on 'The Making of a Picture,' and all those who heard her were both entertained and enlightened by her able and comprehensive discussion of the subject."

Miss Minette Baum has given up her plan to use her home as a home for unfortunate girls and has advertised it for rent. Instead of her first plan for benevolent work Miss Baum is going to a school for philanthrophy and devote herself to study along the most approved lines in order to have a better systematic idea of such work. Miss Baum is undecided whether she will go to Chicago or New York to study.

Miss Florence Johnston, of 2135 Broadway, was hostess for the members of the Loyal Daughters' class on Saturday at a kindergarten party. After enjoying a number of games and a romp suitable for kindergarten age "children," Mrs. Johnston invited the company to the diningroom where she had ready to serve many "goodies," including candy canes that a live Santa Claus presented. The guests for all this fun were Mrs. Buckley, wife of the minister of the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ; Erma Lakey, Cecil Dygert, Edith Hickman, Edith Sites, Gertrude Shuler, Matilda Blumbaugh, Mary Knight, Marie Kranichfelder, Leona Hobbs, Grace Diffenderfer, Hazel Diffenderfer, Velma Kevser, Mary Johnnings, Lela Jenkins, Eva Chambers, Ruby Thorpe, Martha Riehl, Bessie Jackson, Eva Payne, Vera Ake, Lona Walker, Bessie Kaufman, Anna Seeler, Sylvia Trevey, Opal Walker and Dorothy Buckley.

The forty-fifth anniversary of their wedding was celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Soliday on Sunday at 2506 Oliver street. Mrs. Soliday was Ann E. Archer, of Washington township, before her marriage and Mr. Soliday was a teacher in the Archer school on the Coldwater road at the time of their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Soliday lived on the farm until 1889 when Mr. Soliday was forced to give up hard work on account of injuries received a number of years before. Mr. Soliday then became a letter carrier during the time of Postmaster Higgins. Mr. Soliday came to this city in March, 1869, from Fairfield county, Ohio, his birthplace and childhood home. He was born seventy-two years ago and Mrs. Soliday is seven years her husband's junior. The living children of Mr. and Mrs. Soliday are John A., jr., Jacob C., of this city; Morton H. and Garfield, of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Mary G. Westerman, also of this city.

Byers—Garman.

The marriage of Miss Ina Dorothy Garman and Mr. J. Blaine Byers took place on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the bride's home. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward Montgomery, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church. The wedding breakfast was served immediately following the congratulations extended by the immediate relatives who were the wedding guests. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Garman, of South Harrison street, and is unusually pretty and of a frank and sweet disposition. After the breakfast the bridal couple left over the Pennsylvania for Pittsburg where they will live. For traveling the bride wore a stunning broadcloth suit, dark green in color and with hat to match. Mr. Byers is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Byers of Fort Wayne, and he has recently accepted a responsible position with the Pennsylvania company. Mr. and Mrs. Byers will go to housekeeping at 826 Ohio avenue, Aylor, a suburb of Pittsburg.

AT THE TEMPLE.

Catchy music, the kind that sets your feet unconsciously to beating time, sung by a dashing bunch of principals with a delightfully pretty and gingery chorus furnishing the settings for some of the principal song members, the Live Wire Girls have taken Fort Wayne by storm. Ed Armstrong and Charles Byrne are the principal comedians and they certainly earn the right to that title, as they are as funny as a village cut-up thinks he is. Miss Jean Jarvis, the original model for the painting, September Morn, has a dancing specialy and a song, "One Idea About the Girls," in which she leads the beauty chorus through the aisles. This week there will be three matinees for the women on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. This addition of Wednesday to the list is made necessary by reason of a mid-week change of bill. On Thursday the Sole Kiss will open a week-end run at the Temple.

Next Thursday is "Santa Claus Potato Loaf Day." HAFFNER'S Star Bakery.

AT THE EMPRESS.

The new bill at the Empress theater is already an assured success. It has a great amount of local interest owing to the appearance on the bill of Charles Terris, one of the favorites in Our Own Stock company who appears as "Father Anthony" in "The Preacher and the Man," a sketch which he wrote himself. This sketch has kindly humor and sentiment and is not a preachy, religious play, but a touching human document. Mr. Terris in this drama reaches great heights as an actor and holds every one entranced.

The Three Keltons, with their novel musical offering which they call, "From Liszt to Ragtime," have an interesting, entertaining act that has made a big hit with every one who has heard it. Miss Gladys Kelton, aged eighteen years, is one of the big features of this act and in the closing number she plays a full set of drummer's traps, which include fifty different instruments.

"The Drug Terror" at the Lyric Tonight.

"The Master Key" and King Baggott.

With the fourth installment of that most remarkable of all serials, "The Master Key," and that incomparable screen artist, King Baggott, as stellar attractions, the Orpheum list of good things announced for today gives us a program that for excellence has seldom been equalled. Both of the subjects announced are feature plays of the first water, that were primarily intended to be run as separate features at all other theaters outside of the Orpheum, but the Orpheum presents the two on the single list, giving us four reels of unusual entertainment.

Of course, by this time "The Master Key" is too well known to need very much commentary. Thousands of people are following the threads of this absorbing plot with keen interest.

"The Mill Stream," with King Baggott, proves to be the other feature play. Critics in all the motion picture journals and in metropolitan newspapers throughout the east pronounce this Baggott's greatest play, but were we to discount the laudation of skeptics, that fact that Baggott and his brilliant art are present in the picture is an assurance that it is above reproach.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

Mrs. Thomas Whiffen in "Hearts and Flowers."

Mrs. Thomas Whiffen, "the grand old lady of the stage," the actress who has been enshrined in the hearts of the American theater-going public for forty-five years, comes to the Jefferson today, playing the leading role in a touching drama of mother love. During her long period of active service behind the footlights, Mrs. Whiffen has achieved a name for herself and a fame that has been equalled by few artists, with the possible exception of Bernhardt and Duse, and when she announced at the first of this season that this would be her last appearance on the stage, the news came as a distinct regret to numberless admirers.

"Hearts and Flowers" is the story of a mother. A mother who knows all the heartaches; undergoes all that poignant anguish occasioned by the wayward actions of an unthinking son. It is a story beautifully told, one that will storm the citadel of the heart and bring forth a response that manifests itself in tears of sympathetic understanding and smiles understanding joy. Mrs. Whiffen is supported by a superb cast.

AT THE LYRIC.

Lubin Masterpiece, The Drug Terror, Coming for Three Days, Starting Today.

The Lyric theater will present for the first three days of this week starting today, one of the biggest motion picture attractions in the United States entiled "The Drug Terror," or the evils of cocaine, a six reel film that teaches a powerful lesson. It is a feature film never before shown in Fort Wayne and it should make a deep and lasting impression on all who see it. This picture ran in conjunction with Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt Sr.'s, national crusade. When a person of Mrs. Vanderbilt's standing and broad interest in humanity allows her name to be used on the screen it emphasizes the importance of the moving picture business.

The terrible results that follow the use of drugs, especially cocaine and heroin, are vividly portrayed in "The Drug Terror."

TAG DAY INCREASES HOPE HOSPITAL FUND

Approximately $1,304 was added to the Hope hospital fund Saturday as a result of tag day, which was not, however, up to last year's record when $1,480 was realized.

The girls and nurses did splendid work selling tags. The young misses were on the streets early with their chaperons, being relieved in the evening by the nurses of the hospital who stayed out until a late hour. They, too, were properly chaperoned. Very few pedestrians who ventured out Saturday were missed, taggers being stationed at all the principal street crossings.

THE SENTINEL'S LIVE SPORTS CRISP RELIABLE

Concordia Player Will Be on Clarke's Team Next Season.

(By David J. Davis).

Pittsburg, Dec. 14.—That he hadn't decided upon those players who will be turned adrift and that it was possible he wouldn't make his decisions while he was in Pittsburg, was the statement given out by Manager Fred Clarke, of the Pirates. Fred wants to feel his way carefully; he expects he will be called upon to build up an entire new team, and this being the case, he wants to take his time about doing so.

Admitting that several players are to go to the Columbus club in the American association, the manager intimated that it might be that he will select these players between now and Monday. Asked concerning the rumor that Catcher George Gibson would go to the Senators as manager, Clarke said:

"That rumor is untrue; Gibby will remain in Pittsburg as long as I am connected with the club. He is still a great catcher and I figure that he is going to help us considerably next season."

That the Boston aNtionals had made an effort to secure Scoops Carey was admitted by the manager, who added that the negotiations had not proceeded beyond the inquiry stage, his remarks permitting of the inference that the speedy left fielder was not on the market at any price.

"I do not know that Konetchy has jumped to the Feds," said the Corsair chief, when this subject was broached. "Ed told me last October than he hadn't leaped—in fact, he passed me his word of honor—and until he does tell me that he has taken the jump I will refuse to believe it. Of course, should it develop that the stories printed concerning him are true, we will fight to retain him."

According to Clarke it isn't an assured fact that Wagner will be played at first base, although he wouldn't say that such an arrangement wouldn't be made. "Honus will be on the job next season again," he remarked, "and he can fill any old position on the team. So why should I worry about the greatest of them all."

"Clarke believes that Vance, the new pitcher, who will report in the spring, is a good one. "I have lots concerning this youngster," he said, "and expect to find in him a better than ordinary performer."

When it was remarked that Jack Coffey might beat Gerber out for the shortfield position, Manager Fred said: "I hardly think so; Gerber looks pretty good to me and it will take some hustling on the part of the other fellows to keep him out of the lineup."

As is the scribes' annual custom, efforts were made to have Clarke discuss his team's probable chances for the coming season.

"Nothing doing," was the reply. "You know we thought pretty well of ourselves along about last May; and you also know what happened to us. This year we will have a lot of youngsters and it may take us some time to build up our team. We want to give all the likely looking ones a chance to show and cannot do this in a day or a week or a month. These boys who look good during the training trip may prove to be bums in championship games, and on this account I am, and ever have been, wary about making claims. Some players lift the promissory notes issued in their behalf during the training trip, and there are some who never lift them.

"We appear to have a lot of promising material and when, on May 1, we are obliged to cut down our roster to twenty-one men, we will probably know what we have to expect. In 1901 and for one or two years following we had less than twenty players on our list and we had some tetam at that. Maybe history will repeat itself as far as we are concerned in 1915."

Asked whether he would at once proceed to lop off the heads of those already doomed, Clarke said he wouldn't. "There's no rush," he explained, "and we may make mistakes. For that reason I will take all the time possible before getting down to work."

JOHN FRANKLIN BAKER WILL NOT JUMP TO FEDERAL LEAGUE.

Trappe, Md., Dec. 14.—Franklin Baker, third baseman of the Athletics, and one player whom Connie Mack declares will not be either traded or sold, declared at his home here that he was with the American league champions hook, bait and sinker.

The slugger in a letter to a friend also gave the lie to the statement that he was dickering with the outlaws or had ever asked Gilmore's band for terms prior to taking the hurdle out of organized baseball.

"You can put it right down now," said J. Franklin, "that I have never given the Federals a single thought. I've been hunting and fishing here in Talbot county without so much as one solitary moment given to thinking about baseball.

"I don't intend to jump either, as I am perfectly satisfied with my contract with the Athletics. Anybody who says that there is the least feeling between Connie Mack and myself is all wrong. There is not a word of truth in it, any more than to these wild stories that I am going to fly to the Feds.

"No Federals for mine."

TURNERS TAKE ON ZANESVILLE CLUB

Book Tough Proposition for Start of the Regular Season.

In booking the Zanesville basbetball club for the opening game at the West Superior street gym on Tuesday night, the Active Turners are taking on a tough proposition and will be able to demonstrate whether or not their attack and defense are stronger than they were last season.

Zanesville has exactly the same team and there is little likelihood that the players have gone back any and the men have always shown good physical condition in their encounters here and it is fair to presume that the outfit is every bit as gool as when it closed last season.

It has been hard to get the material at the Turner gym and the management has been forced to rely on the development of the men who started at the game three or four years ago. They believe they can play better basketball this season and will try Tuesday night to demonstrate they are right.

St. Mary's Athletic club has the Ellerman Cadets of Lima strung up for the opening engagement on Wednesday night at Concordia college gym. Clem Eckrick and Mike Hoffman are the only veterans the Saints will put on the floor this season and the second string exponents, who have been in a stage of development for the last few years will be relied upon to fill in the club.

These men are App, Becker and Ehrman for forward duty, and Lauer and E. Hoffman for center. Each of them will be given a tryout before the regulars are finally picked. Mike Hoffman is to be the captain of the club and C. J. Sterling will look after the business end of the game.

JIMYM RYAN WAS IN SMART SCHOOL

(By Hugh S. Fullerton).

Jimmy Ryan is to coach the University of Indiana baseball team, and if there is any material down there, the western conference colleges would better watch the Hoosiers in the spring.

Ryan was trained in the smartest baseball school ever known, and, with few exceptions, he knew more baseball and played it better than any man that ever has played the game. Even among such men as Mike Kelley, Tommy Burns, Ed Williamson, Fred Pfeffer and Walter Wilmot, Ryan was recognized as one of their peers, and in many ways he was smarter than any of them.

Ryan has one remarkable record. He played on the Chicago club for ten years without a contract of any sort and fulfilled every verbal agreement. One season he came home from a trip, and Jim drew his check. He looked at it curiously, tossed it over to Jim Hart, the president, and remarked: "How's that, Jim; isn't it too much?" "No," remarked Hart. "I raised you $250 this year."

It was May at that time and Ryan hadn't even inquired.

There never has been in baseball, not even excepting Tommy McCarthy, any outfielder who could throw as quickly and as accurately as could Ryan.

He used to throw out from eight to twelve runners a year at first base on clean sharp hits to right field. No slow runner could beat his throws, and no one dared loaf going to first. Schulte threw out Bill Donovan at first during the world's series with Detroit and the Cubs. Ryan used to do it from center field!

One of the funniest things ever seen on a ball field resulted from Ryan's habit of shooting to first. "Black Bill" Clark hit a sharp line drive to right. He was very slow and Ryan leaped forward, grabbed the ball on the first bounce and flashed it like a rifle shot to first base. It arrived there twelve feet ahead of the runner. But Anson was standing on the bag, his back to right field and the ball struck him squarely in the back and dropped dead. Anson threatened to fine Ryan, and accused him of trying to show him up.

One day Ryan and Charlie Kuhn, the groundkeeper, worked on a piece of turf inside the infield at the west side grounds. They rolled and pounded, poured on water and rolled and pounded some more until a patch of turf two feet wide and perhaps six long was as smooth and springy as rubber. Ryan explained that was his spot to hit with the ball to make it bound perfectly to the catcher. Two days later he made a shot to the plate, the ball went off that spot as if from a billiard cushion squarely into the catcher's hands and low and gave Chicago a hair-line decision and the game.

You may think Jim is old, but three years ago in Chicago he made a throw from left field to the plate and nailed a runner by several feet. He ought to be able to teach those Indiana boys a whole lot if they will listen.

FORMER PASTOR IN FORT WAYNE DIES

Rev. W. R. Wones, Widely Known M. E. Church Divine, Passes Away at Warsaw Home.

Warsaw, Ind., Dec. 14.—Rev. W. R. Wones, one of the most widely known ministers in the North Indiana Methodist Episcopal conference, former pastor of Trinity M. E. church in Fort Wayne and one of this city's most esteemed and respected citizens, is dead at his home here following an illness of two and one-half years, during which he was a constant sufferer from paralysis.

Mr. Wones was a superannuated minister, and retired from active service about three years ago last spring. His last charge was at Pierceton and after finishing his work at that place he retired from active service and came to this city to live. He was a member of the M. E. conference and was highly respected in the circles of church.

Among the places where he had served as pastor are: Bourbon, New Paris, Wolcottville, Garrett, Trinity church, Fort Wayne, Logansport, Nappanee, Raysville, Trenton, Monroeville and Pierceton.

Mr. Wones was 69 years of age. He was a soldier in the civil war and served in Company I of the Eighth Ohio cavalry. He was alert, strong, vigorous and a fine scholar.

REV. W. R. WONES,
Methodist Episcopal Minister, Widely Known in Northern Indiana, Dies in Warsaw.

He is survived by a wife and five children: Mrs. Marvin Coppes, of Nappanee; Mrs. Eva Keif, of Iowa Falls, Iowa; Miss Marie Wones, a teacher at Mishawaka, and Carolyn and Roselyn Wones, both living at home. He has two brothers living in Ohio and a sister living in Wyoming.

SLIGHT HOPE FOR RECOVERY.

Warren, Ind., Dec. 14.—The condition of Miss O. A. Johnston, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glessner Johnston, of Rockcreek township, who was burned by a kerosene explosion in her chiropractic offices here, is slightly encouraging. The doctors at first expressed the opinion that she could not live longer than twelve hours, but thirty-six hours have passed since the accident and in several respects her condition is improved, although she still suffers considerably. The doctors say that the burns may not be so deep as was at first thought in which case she has a fair chance for recovery.

YOUNG HUNTER SHOOTS SELF.

Warsaw, Ind., Dec. 14.—Lewis Kleinfelter, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kleinfelter of Etna Green, was painfully injured while out hunting Young Kleinfelter shot himself in the left foot with a target rifle, the ball completely penetrating the member. He was carrying the rifle in his arm, with the barrel pointing downward, when it was accidentally discharged.

BARN IS DESTROYED.

Huntington, Ind., Dec. 14.—Fire starting in fodder that had been made by "topping" corn, destroyed a barn belonging to Thomas E. Powell, of Warren township, county commissioner, Saturday. Mr. Powell was called from a session of the board and informed over the telephone that his barn was burning. He left at once and arrived at his home as the fire was just finishing its destruction. With the barn the fire destroyed about ten tons of straw, five tons of hay, 800 bushels of corn and fifty bushels of oats.

LAD KILLED BY RAW PORK.

Wabash, Ind., Dec. 14.—Thomas Kissenger, 16, is dead at his home, in the northern part of Wabash county, and his mother, two brothers and two sisters, including a six-months-old baby, are seriously ill as the result of eating raw pork. The Kissengers did their winter butchering early this month. The members of the family now sick ate a quantity of uncooked sausage at that time. Later Thomas Kissenger became sick and was taken to a hospital. Last night he died, and today a post-mortem examination revealed the cause of death.

DID NOT KNOW HE WAS SHOT.

Hartford City, Ind., Dec. 14.—After going a week without knowing he had been shot, Robert Marsh, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marsh, of West Chestnut street, underwent a very painful operation when a BB. shot was removed from underneath his upper lip. The shot was embedded in the flesh at the base of the child's nose. A week ago Saturday Robert, in the act of "breaking" his gun, by placing the butt on the ground, hit himself in the mouth with the muzzle. The boy's lip hurt him severely and bled freely, but at that time it was supposed that it was merely bruised.

NOBLE PIONEER ILL.

Kendallville, Ind., Dec. 14.—Martin Carrick, age 99, Noble county's oldest resident, is lying at the point of death at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry DeBellious, in Auburn. Members of the family have been summoned, for there is no hope for his recovery. Mrs. John Shultz, of this city, a daughter, left for Auburn. Mr. Carrick was widely known in this section of the state. He has been a resident of Noble county since 1854. Should he live, he would be 100 years of age on March 15, 1915.

USED HICKSITE CEREMONY.

Bluffton, Ind., Dec. 14.—The old Hicksite Quaker wedding ceremony long in disuse in this section of the country, was used by Fred I. Hoover and Miss Mary Gregg, in their marriage at the home of the bride's parents near Pennville. No minister officiated and the couple pledged their troth, each subscribing their names to the marriage certificate as was the custom in the early church weddings. The bridegroom is an only child of L. W. Hoover, cashier of the Peoples' Bank, of Portland.

Foley's Honey and Tar Stops those Night Coughs

They Are Weakening, and Disturb the Whole Family.

Coughs and colds usually grow worse at nightfall. Keep a bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND at hand. Use it freely—there is nothing in it that can possibly harm you. But it clears the throat of phlegm and mucus, stops the coughing and tickling, and heals the raw inflamed surfaces.

GEO. D. COBBS, Many, La., says: "My wife was troubled with a terrible cough, and we could get nothing to relieve her until I asked Dr. Self of Hornbeck, who recommended FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR so strongly that I purchased a 50c bottle. Before the contents of this bottle were used, the cough had entirely disappeared and her health was completely restored."

PHIL DESORMEAU, Schaffer, Mich., writes: "Last winter I could not sleep at night on account of a bad cough. It did not bother me during the day, but started up at bedtime and kept me from sleeping. I was very weak and in bad shape. I started using FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR and was greatly pleased to find that the cough left me entirely, my appetite improved, and I slept soundly at night."

Good druggists are glad to sell FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND because it always satisfies the customer and contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes.

GOES TO SEEK MISSING WIFE.

American Bears Personal Letter From President to Kaiser.

Boston, Dec. 14.—Bearing a personal letted from President Wilson to Emperor William to aid in his search for his wife, lost in Germany since the outbreak of the war, Edward E. Muecke, of San Francisco, United States vice consul at Iquique, Chile, sailed for Europe yesterday on the steamer Canopic. Muecke fears his wife is ill and penniless. She went to Germany over a year ago for her health and when the war broke out her letters, which Muecke had before received regularly, ceased.

"At that time doctors had advised her to go to a hospital and I believe she is ill in some institution," he said. "I wrote the state department of Germany but received no reply. Then I wound up my affairs in Chile and hurried to Washington, where the officials gave me special credentials for use in Germany."

MARIAN COLE FISHER

A National Authority on the Subject of PURE FOODS and the ART OF COOKING.

In a recent interview on baking powder stated as follows:

"I find many, in fact, very many, women woefully uninformed on the subject of baking powder. Evidently the housewife does not appreciate the value of baking powder in her kitchen and in her baking, or she would have informed herself. This is a subject that is quite important.

"A great many of the housewives today have followed their mothers or grandmothers in the use of baking powder, which in some instances is a mistake. There has been just as much improvement in baking powder as in other commodities. I am glad to find that baking powder has kept up with the times.

Some housewives have been led to believe that the cream of tartar powders are the best goods to use. This is a mistake, resulting no doubt from the constant efforts of the Twenty Million Dollar Baking Powder Trust to create a prejudice against all goods save their own. Their goods should be least desirable on account of the large quantities of Rochelle Salts remaining in the food.

The other extreme is the cheap and "Big Can" baking powders, which sell all the way from ten cents a pound to a cent an ounce. These are even less desirable than the high-priced goods. I can say nothing in their favor. They are never economical; frequently leaving the baking bleached and acid; sometimes yellow and alkaline, and often unpalatable. They are not dependable and represent false economy at any price.

The most simple way for the housewife to class baking powder is by price. The trust goods that retail for 45c or 50c a pound are usually the cream of tartar powders, and are of the old school; and the cheap and "Big Can" kind that sell all the way from 10c a pound up to a cent an ounce should also be avoided.

The last word in baking powder is the happy medium, a combination powder that sells at a moderate price and when properly prepared gives the consumer full value for the money. The result in baking is pure, wholesome food, without any harmful residue. There is no reason why any housewife should pay 45c or 50c per pound. The best baking powder made can be manufactured so as to retail at about ⅓ this price.

On being asked what baking powder she used in her work, Marian Cole Fisher frankly stated that for more than seven years she had used Calumet Baking Powder with the most satisfactory results in every particular.

Drew's Daughter in Double Role

Louise Drew.

New York, Dec. 14.—Miss Louise Drew clever daughter of John Drew, is playing a double role this season, and she's making a brilliant success of both of them.

In "It Pays to Advertise," one of the Broadway comedy succeeses, Miss Drew is the bright particular star, and in the social drama as it is played on Fifth avenue she also shines with star-like brilliancy.

Miss Drew is one of the few New York actresses who has equal prominence in society and in the theater.

LOVE SYNDICATE HEAD IS SOUGHT

Numerous Alleged Matrimonial Ventures of Karl von Wagner Unearthed.

New York, Dec. 14.—Believing that they had found a marriage swindling syndicate, the Hoboken police have arrested a young man, who said he was Otto Klee, and sent dispatches to the police of various cities for the arrest of a man known as Karl von Wagner, but who also is said to have married girls under the names of Steiner, Weiller, Kopf, Berger and Otto Edelman.

Two young deluded wives have been found and the Hoboken police said they had records of three others, with an intimation that probably scores of girls had been lured into marriages with the missing man and then deserted after turning over their savings to him.

Miss Anna Kohler, of No. 3000 Michigan avenue, Chicago, was the one whose detective skill led the Hoboken police to believe that a "marriage mill" had been found. She answered a marriage advertisement in a Chicago paper and met Von Wagner. He posed as chief engineer of a construction company, and they were married in Waukegan, Ill., last April. She said he persuaded her to turn over her savings of more than $500 to him and they came to New York. Before he disappeared she learned that he was receiving mail in a Third avenue saloon.

By the mail received in that saloon she learned recently that he was living at No. 521 Bloomfield avenue, Hoboken, with another wife under the name of Otto Edelman. Miss Kohler went there and when unable to see him called on the police. When the police called there Edelman was gone, and he has not been seen since.

He left behind another wife, Miss Rose Stettin, formerly of No. 2041 Pierce avenue, Chicago, whom he married only a month ago. The two women compared notes and made a charge of bigamy against Von Wagner.

The police say they have learned that on September 22 Von Wagner married Miss Anna Scheiler in New Canaan, Conn., obtaining $600 from her. The police said they have records of two other similar marriages in the last year, the man obtaining $900 from one girl and $1,000 from another. Miss Stettin said she had given $800 to Von Wagner.

Klee always was seen with Von Wagner, the police said, and in having him held without bail for examination, they said that exports had declared his handwriting to be similar to that of the letters which had been addressed to girls answering matrimonial advertisements. The police said he had been Von Wagner's secretary.

Broadway Seems to Like Her Immensely

Teddy Hudson.

New York, Dec. 14.—She can't sing a whole lot, and she doesn't care much for acting, but Teddy Hudson, cutest of all the little "darlings" in "Papa's Darlings," is getting on beautifully in her profession.

It's her hair that does it. Teddy's hair is as pale as the coat of a French poodle, and when she fluffs it around her face, and about her small, sharp eyes she looks just as cunning as her own pet poodls.

The "poodle fluff" is odd, Broadway likes odd fashions and Teddy and her two-colored curls are the fad of the hour.

KENTUCKY'S POET DEAD.

Madison J. Cawein Was Widely Known as a Writer.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 14.—Madison Julius Cawein, widely known author and poet, died Monday night at his home here. He had been unconscious since Friday, when he was stricken with apoplexy. He was 49 years old. Mr. Cawein was a member of the National Institute of Arts and Letters, the Poetry Society of America, the Authors' club, of London, England, and the Cliff Dwellers, Chicago.

Sick Headache.

Sick headache is nearly always caused by disorders of the stomach. Correct them and the periodic attacks of sick headache will disappear. Mrs. John Bishop, of Roseville, Ohio, writes: "About a year ago I was troubled with indigestion and had sick headache that lasted for two or three days at a time. I doctored and tried a number of remedies but nothing helped me until during one of those sick spells a friend advised me to take Chamberlain's Tablets. This medicine relieved me in a short time." EAGLE BOARDS SHIP; FIGHTS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 14.—When the Longscar, the British tramp steamship, came into port from Huelva, Spain, her crew told how a brown-feathered eagle, measuring five feet from wing to wing, had come on board in an exhausted condition when 150 miles from the Delaware Capes and had given two of the crew a good fight before it was captured. Boatswain Smith had a cut over his left eye and Seaman Hughes' right hand was scratched and cut.

The eagle was seen astern, and after a three-hour fight it seemed to spurt itself for a final dash and landed on the foremast. Smith went to pick the bird up, when it turned on him. The fight followed.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy — The Mothers' Favorite.

"I give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my children when they have colds or coughs," writes Mrs. Verne Shaffer, Vandergrift, Pa. CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Wheat developed fresh strength today on account of an unexpected upturn in prices at Liverpool, where supplies were said to be insufficient to meet requirements. It was asserted in addition that North American exports to Italy last week aggregated as much as 3,031,000 bushels. After opening ½c to ⅞c higher, quotations rose still further, especially the December option.
The close was s teady at ¼c to ¼@⅝c net decline.
Corn ascended with wheat. Country offerings were light and the domestic demand improved. The opening, which was ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c up, was followed by other grains.
The close was weak, ⅛@¼c to ¼c net lower.
Firmness spread into the oats market, the strength of other cereals furnishing the impetus. Trading, however, was chiefly among pit speculators.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Dec. 14.—Business on the stock exchange today opened with every outward indication of a restoration of normal conditions. The general rise in prices which marked the resumption of operations last Saturday was continued, although fewer issues were traded in during the first half hour. During that period trading was limited to the Copper group, which rose 1 to 2½ points. Reading, Lehigh Valley, Erie and St. Paul also materially extended last Saturday's gains. Atchison and Pennsylvania were among the few prominent issues to show hesitation. The movement pointed to an accumulation of week-end buying orders, together with a further covering of short contracts.
Selling of stocks after the early rise was without effect on the upward tendency, which gained greater force as the session progressed. Total stocks added to their opening gains, the buying of these issues being based, it was believed, on their intrinsic merit and their strong speculative position. The seasoned railway issues also increased their lead. U. S. Steel, Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific were at higher prices at the clearing house.
Transactions in the first hour were 40 per cent. in excess of that period last Saturday. Although realizing for profits was general, it failed to check the further advance. Coppers continued to climb, their movement being attributed to a combination of better trade conditions, relative cheapness and speculative possibilities. In the railway group Pennsylvania covered. At the clearing house United States steel sold at 50⅝, 1¼ under July 30 closing, with Union Pacific at 118¼, an advance of 1¼, Canadian Pacific was 155½ bid, offered at 158. Bonds were firm.
The closing was strong. There were some recessions in special stocks subjected to selling pressure, but elsewhere further improvement was noted. Amalgamated increased its gain to 5¼ points.

Secretary Garrison declined to discuss the situation in the canal zone or to indicate which of the belligerents was violating the neutrality of the United States.
It is known, however, that the Australian collier Mallina, which recently left Balboa without clearance papers, has been under close observation of Panama canal officials. That ship as well as other colliers have been suspected of supplying British ships in Pacific waters.
Alleged violations of canal zone shipping regulations have been the basis of strong representations to the British minister at Panama. The Lamson, Worden, Terry, Perkins and Walke are in reserve at Charleston, S. C., and one or more of these vessels could be dispatched to canal waters almost instantly. On the Pacific coast the nearest craft available are the Whipple, Paul Jones, Perry, Preble and Truxtun, all lying off San Diego.

BOHDE BROTHERS IN ACT THAT THRILLED

John With Souse Falls on William and Breaks His Leg.

The Bohde brothers—John and William—staged a brother act Saturday night that had some thrills not pictured on the three-sheets. John had a souse that was more than one man could manage and William undertook to pilot John to his home on Chute street. At Winter and Eliza streets the pair struck some slippery sidewalk and fell. John, who is a whale of a man, fell across William's leg and broke it. Patrolman Pattee called the police wagon and William was taken to a hospital and John was carted to the station. John settled his consequences with cash for $11, the price of a $1 fine. William will be in the hospital for some time.

Lagrange Can't Hold Him.

"As I live and breathe, it's James—friend James—again. What's the matter with Lagrange, Jim? Did you get home and find your money? You did? Sure! Just couldn't stay away from our well known hospitality, could you? Well, we'll let you sojourn with us for quite a little spell. Put a previous in that affidavit. Now, we are all set, James. Twenty dollars and costs. That will keep you in our palatial county jail for thirty days." And in this wise was James Connors, of Lagrange, Ind., disposed of. Jim was arrested last Monday and let go. He was back again Tuesday and paid $11. He was in again Wednesday and separated from $13.50. Judge Kerr took $11 and sent it to Jim's address in Lagrange, gave him the balance for carfare and lunch and turned him loose to go home. James declared Monday morning that he went, all right, but had not tarried long among the home folk.

Garman and Tobin Held.

Other City Court Cases.

John Tennie, John Dennie, John Kerns and Joe Mulhearn, drunks, were turned loose.

August Hoppe, a drunk, was continued until Wednesday, and Joseph Pierce, a vag, was continued until Thursday, as was John Shea, another drunk.

John Murray and Walter Langford came to police headquarters drunk and asked for lodging and were locked up. Murray drew eleven days and Langford was continued until Tuesday. James Buckley, a drunk, was also given eleven days.

Martin Baker, Charles Kruse and Theodore White were fined $10 and costs each for disorderly conduct. Baker and Kruse staged a go with bare knuckles at Main and Court streets late Saturday night, and White stood by to referee.

Charles Carney, a vag who was drunk and begging on the streets, was given fifteen days.

Judge Kerr took under advisement for a day his judgment in the case of Charles Jones, charged with embezzling $2 from Morris C. King, for whom he was selling cheap neckties, cheaper jewelry, hosiery and the like, on commission. Judge Kerr, after hearing the testimony, did not hesitate to tell King that his business appeared to be questionable.

LIEUTENANT BEVELHEIMER ILL.

Police Lieutenant Ed Bevelheimer is very sick at his home on Hendricks street with pneumonia and his condition is regarded as critical. He was obliged to ask for relief from duty on Friday and his illness rapidly developed into pneumonia. His health has not been good for several weeks. Harry Grimm, night desk sergeant, is acting lieutenant until during the illness of Lieutenant Bevelheimer.

BRITISH DEAL SULTAN SERIOUS NAVAL BLOW

London, Dec. 14.—(12:15 p. m.)—The first serious blow inflicted on the Turkish navy since the entrance of the porte into the war—the torpedoing of the Turkish battleship Messudieh by a British submarine in the Dardanelles—gave naval color to today's war news and was in fact the only striking occurence chronicled by land or by sea.

Little or no change has been reported on the western battle front and in the east. Russia and Germany continue to fight a seemingly endless battle for the control of western Poland.

English and French newspapers unite in declaring that the time is drawing near for the much discussed general advance of the allies through France and Belgium, and some unofficial reports say this move is about to be undertaken if it has not actually begun. Progress necessarily would be inch by inch and the most optimistic of the British observers, assuming that a general forward movement of the allies is to be essayed, concede that it would be spring before any appreciable progress could be made.

Holbrook's Feat Bold.

The feat of Lieut. Commander Holbrook in diving under five rows of mines in the Dardanelles and torpedoing the Turkish battleship is described here as perhaps the boldest marine exploit of the war. The submarine presumably was not scratched. She escaped gun fire and the pursuit of torpedo boats in a manner truly remarkable, and it was necessary for her crew to endure the ordeal of remaining under water for nine hours on a stretch.

Russian guns have from time to time inflicted some damage on Turkish warships bombarding Russian ports but the disaster reported today robs the Porte of its first big ship.

The loss of life is not estimated in the brief announcement of the episode given out by the British admiralty, but if the Messudieh was manned as other Turkish ships have been then there were a number of German officers aboard.

DAY QUIET IN FLANDERS.

Germans Move Batteries North in Meuse Region.

Paris, Dec. 14.—(2:44 p. m.)—The French official statement given out in Paris this afternoon reports comparative quiet in Flanders, and artillery exchanges of relatively minor importance elsewhere. In the Meuse, German batteries are said to be moving to the north. In the Woevre district the French captured a trench and repulsed two counter attacks. The advance of the French line into Alsace has brought it to a point north of Altkirch, and about ten miles to the east of the frontier. The text of the communication follows:

"There has been nothing of importance to report between the sea and the Oise.

"In the region of the Aisne to the northwest of Soupier, the enemy bombarded our entrenchments. We replied. There were no infantry attacks from one side or the other. Our artillery destroyed an important field work of the enemy in the vicinity of Allies.

"In the Argonne at the forest of Lagrurie we have made slight progress by the use of mines. There were no attacks from the enemy.

"On the heights of the Meuse there has been violent cannonading. Batteries of the enemy would appear to have been moved to positions further north.

"In the Woevre district, after having occupied a line of entrenchments along a front of 500 yards, in the forest of Mortmare, our troops repulsed two violent counter attacks.

"In Alsace our advance has brought our front to a line that passes 425 yards to the north of Steinbach, thence to Pont d'Aspach, and thence to Pont de Brinighoefen, 1,300 yards to the west of Elingen.

"Servia: During the days of Dec. 10, 11 and 12 the enemy continued to retire along the entire front. The Servian advance guards have progressed as far as Veliki and Bosniak in the direction of Shabats, and as far as Zavlaka in the direction of Loznica. During their retreat the Austrians abandoned many trophies of war. From the time the Servians resumed the offensive up to the eleventh of December, inclusive, the number of prisoners made by the Servians reaches 28,000. The Servians captured 74 cannon and 44 machine guns.

"Montenegro: After two days of fighting Montenegrin forces have captured Vishnegrad and driven the Austrians back to the other side of the river Drina."

WILL OPERATE ON EMPEROR'S THROAT.

London, Dec. 14.—(6:25 p. m.—) Telegraphing from Borne, Switzerland a correspondent of the Central News says:

"A telegram received here from Munich states it has been decided to operate on Emperor William's throat, but the operation is being deferred, owing to the feverish condition of the emperor."

Germans Beat Back Light Attacks by French Troops.

Berlin, Dec. 14.—An official communication issued today by the German army headquarters says:

"Light attacks by the French on parts of our positions between the river Meuse and the Vosges mountains were easily repulsed. Otherwise nothing of importance remains to be reported from the western theater of the war.

"From East Prussia and southern Poland there is nothing to report.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

Vigorous thrusts at the German line in France were made again yesterday by the allies, but the reports of successes in today's official statement from Paris are not borne out by the Berlin communication.

The French war office states that German positions along the Aisne were demolished, that in the Woevre district a line of trenches 500 yards long was captured and that further progress was made in the Argonne and in Alsace. The German announcement says that nothing of importance has occurred in the west with the exception of a few French attacks along the Meuse and in the Vosges, which were repulsed easily.

There have been unimportant changes in the east, according to the German statement. Dispatches from Petrograd, however, assert that the Russians have definitely thrown back the German column, which was attempting to strike at Warsaw from the north and that as a result the position of the Russians all along their front has been improved.

The French war office announces that in Servia further successes have been won against the Austrians and that in the Montenegrin campaign, which has almost been lost sight of recently, the Austrians have suffered a reverse.

The German cruiser Dresden, sole survivor of the sea fight in the south Atlantic on Dec. 8, in which four German vessels were sunk, is reported to have reached Punta Arenas, on the strait of Magellan without injury.

House Committee Makes a Forceful Showing of Economy.

Washington, Dec. 14.—"Economy" was the watchword of the appropriations committee in the preparations of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, first of the big supply measures, which was reported to the house today. The committee lopped off nearly $2,000,000 from the estimates submitted by the various departments, cutting salary allowances all along the line, and brought in a measure appropriating $88,744,753.50.

The bill provides for more than 16,000 salaries of government employes. The total of the bill shows an increase of $1,183,183 over last year's measure, but this year's measure includes a special appropriation of $2,286,100 and authorizes one thousand additional employes for taking the agricultural census authorized by the law covering the last regular census in 1910.

The committee in its report says that this is an extraordinary expenditure, which will come on every ten years and maintains therefore that this year's measure is materially less than the last appropriation. The bill contains the usual provision cutting down the mileage allowance of members of congress from twenty cents a mile to five cents a mile. The fight to cut down the mileage allowance has been on for years, and although the committee each year reports the reduction in the bill, it is defeated either on the floor of the house or in the senate.

The committee cut $102,260 from the estimates of the secretary of commerce for the work of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, although an increase of $25,000 over last year's appropriation was allowed for promoting commerce with South and Central America.

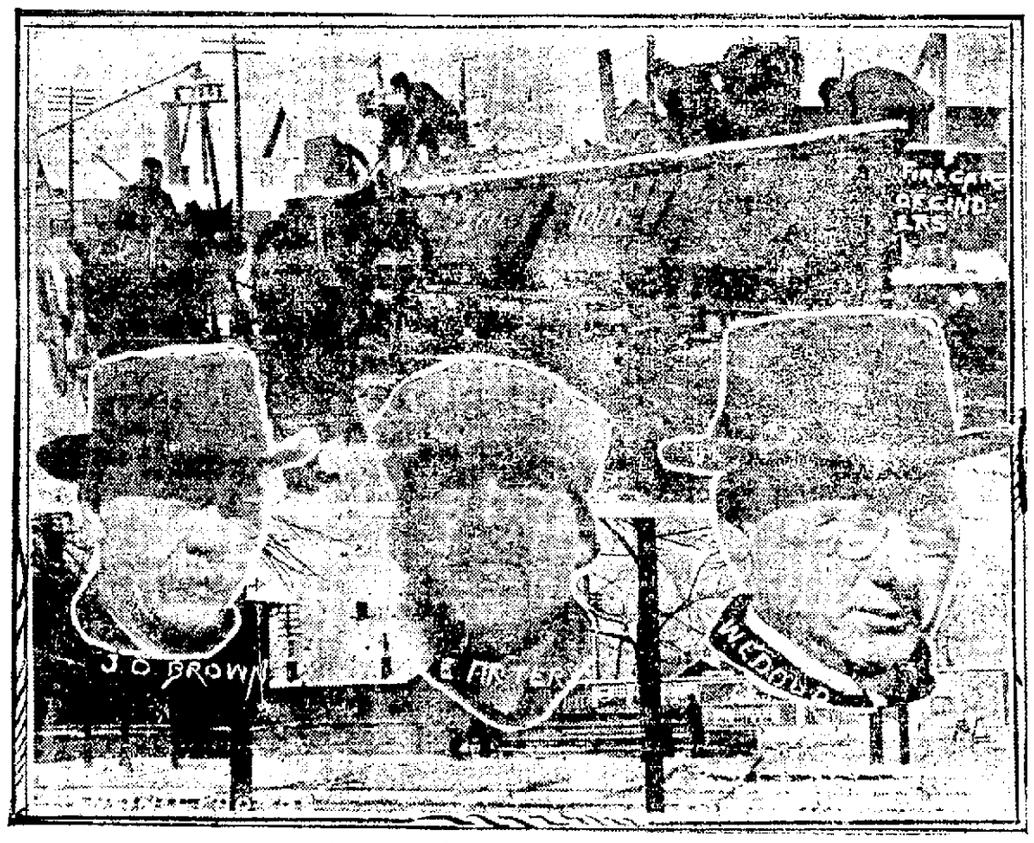
Senate Passes Measure Extending Penalty Exemption.

Washington, Dec. 14.—An amendment to the war tax bill providing that no penalties shall be imposed for failure to make returns on or before January 1, 1915, an extension from December 1, 1914, was passed today by the senate. It now goes to the house.

Start of Active Work on the Fort Wayne Tabernacle to Be Built for Holding the Lyon Meetings



Real, active work was started Monday morning on the erection at Main and Ewing streets of the big tabernacle for the Dr. Lyon meeting when the first consignments of lumber and the first car of cinders was received and the work of leveling up the ground undertaken.

THREE BOYS IN ONE FAMILY TUBERCULAR

Case is Cited to Show the Great Need of a Tuberculosis Hospital.

In her investigations Monday morning Miss Irene Byron, visiting nurse for the Anti-Tuberculosis society, called upon a family where one boy, 20 years old, is unconscious and dying from the effects of tuberculosis, and two other boys, one nineteen and the other twenty-one, have also contracted the terrible disease.

Miss Byron told of the case to show the great need of a tuberculosis hospital in Allen county. In this one family there are three members, all young men, afflicted with tuberculosis, and there is no place to take them. There are nine persons in the family, all of whom are in great danger of contracting the disease. The history of the family does not show that the disease was inherited. Miss Byron cannot send them to the state hospital for she already has more there than she is entitled to have, so there is nothing she can do except to leave the three young men in the home, endangering the lives of the other members of the household.

Miss Byron would not reveal the name of the family, but if there are any persons who doubt the truth of the story she says she will gladly go with them to the home where they can see for themselves.

But Daniels Says Reserve Supply of Shells is Inadequate.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Secretary Daniels told the house naval committee today that while all the battleships in reserve were not supplied with shells, every dreadnought and every other battleship in the active line was equipped, but did not, however, have an adequate reserve supply. "That," said the secretary, "is no navy secret."

Mr. Daniels, on his third day of discussion of naval affairs with the committee, covered a variety of subjects. He declared the navy was making torpedoes at Newport for $5,000 each—more than $1,000 less than the price at which private concerns supply them. He asked the committee to authorize more than six new destroyers in view of the prices at which Saturday's bids were accepted; told the board the navy was making tests of a new shell promising great results for attacking submarines, and urged an appropriation of $500,000 for a government projectile plant.

"The private manufacturers charge all they can get: the question of cost does not enter into it," he said.

An English company making a superior shell, he said, had offered the United States its process for $10,000 and the navy had taken an option.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Col. Goethals, governor of Panama canal zone, today reiterated his request that two torpedo boat destroyers be sent to canal zone waters to prevent violation of neutrality through the misuse of wireless and the taking on of supplies by belligerent vessels.

At the British embassy here it was said today that the British government would respect to the utmost the neutrality rules of the Panama canal, and the belief was expressed that if there had been any violation by British ships it must have been the result of misunderstanding.

Substance of the Dispatch.

Because of the confidential nature of Col. Goethal's dispatch Secretary Garrison declined to make it public. He issued this statement:

"The substance of the dispatch is that in Colonel Goethals' judgment the misuse of radio communications within canal waters and the prevention of the misuse of these waters as a base of supplies require the presence of swift moving ships of the variety mentioned. Since the questions involved require the consideration of the state department and the navy department as well as my own, I have taken the matter up with the other departments and as the requirements are fully ascertained proper action will be taken to meet them."

A total of 182,807 Red Cross Christmas seals have been sold and it will be regarded as a very poor week if the total sales at the end of the next six days have not reached the 225,000 mark. The time is now drawing short.

The telephone canvass was started Monday morning and before the "A's" had been completed $16 worth of the seals had been sold. They will be delivered by the boy scouts. Mrs. Charley Bash, jr., and Miss Ethel Doud did the calling Monday morning and Miss Agnes Loeffler Monday afternoon.

A canvass of all the physicians in the city was made Monday afternoon by Misses Marian Puckett, Edna Fee, Jane Merriweather and Helen Hall. The Fort Wayne Vulcanizing company purchased $5 worth of the seals Monday, while a number of $1 sales were made.

ZERO WEATHER IS SWEEPING EASTWARD

Chill Which Now Grips the Central West is General.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Colder weather throughout the east is forecasted by the weather bureau for tonight and Tuesday. All through the southern states, the great central valleys and the lake region today the temperatures were tumbling and in the upper Mississippi valley and the north plains region the mercury was below the zero mark.

Cold wave warnings were aflutter from the nerics of the forecasters throughout New England, New York, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia. All the South Atlantic and gulf states except southern Florida may expect freezing temperatures tonight.

The southern storm which centered in Alabama yesterday, was passing out to sea off the Maine coast today, leaving behind heavy snows in parts of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and the mountain districts of the middle Atlantic states, and a general blanket of rain and slush in other places. Shifting gales along the Atlantic coast accompanied and storm warnings are up again from Hatteras to Eastport. The heaviest snow fall reported to weather bureau headquarters was fifteen inches at Oswego, N. Y.

ENGINEERS POINT HAZARDS OF WORK

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Inspecting and preparing a locomotive for the day's run after it had pulled into the main track and the cars it is to haul are being switched on is very hazardous according to testimony adduced at the railroad wage arbitration hearing here today.

In support of this statement, C. P. Smith, an engineer of Oelwein, Iowa, employed by the Chicago Great Western, said he was under his locomotive when additional cars were added to his train and the impast sent his engine forward. All that saved his life was, he said, that he lay between the rails and the engine stopped before the fire box reached him. He narrowly escaped from losing an arm, as it was, he said. Smith testified that since 1910 when wages of enginemen were adjusted, engines have grown larger and the greater tonnage they are called upon to haul, has increased the labors of the enginemen.

Washington, Dec. 14.—An emergency appropriation of $1,000,000 for fighting the foot and mouth disease was passed today by the senate.

750 CHILDREN IN CHRISTMAS LISTS

More Applicants Than Were Cared for Out of Fund of 1913.

Seven hundred and fifty children are included in the lists submitted for participation in the fund that is being raised through The Sentinel and to be applied to gifts for the children of Fort Wayne's poor and donated at a show at the Empress theater on Christmas eve.

This is many more than sought relief last year when the fund was much larger than it is at present. Investigations are being carried on that reveal a number of children of well-to-do parents who have written under a misapprehension of the plan and these will, of course, be eliminated as the fund is to be devoted entirely to children who have the problem of the empty stocking facing them unless they are taken care of by the charitable people of Fort Wayne.

As the task of making the purchases and arranging the gifts is a big one and as it is desired to do the shopping as early as possible it will be a great aid if those who have not made their donations and who wish to take part in this worthy movement will make their contributions as soon as possible.

It is desired to run the fund up to a sum that will insure a nice lot of gifts to each of the children and there is not much time left for the work and this appeal is made as a reminder to those who have overlooked the fund so far.

STATESMAN'S FORM IS BORNE TO TOMB

Auburn, N. Y., Dec. 14. The funeral of Sereno Elisha Payne, veteran republican leader in the house of representatives, was held this afternoon with simple services in the First Baptist church. Hundreds from Cayuga and adjoining counties united with the congressional delegation of sixty to fill the church, and thousands stood outside or lined the blocked streets on the way to Fort Hill cemetery where the dead statesman was buried beside the body of Mrs. Payne. All stores and public places closed during the hour of the funeral.

The representatives and senators who attended the final ceremonies took no active part. During the noon hour the body lay in state and thousands of citizens, including workingmen from the shops of Auburn, passed the bier. The local military company maintained a guard of honor.

Arguments Against Injunction in Lake Shore Case at Cleveland.

Half a Dozen Lines Figure in Consolidation Proposal.

Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 14. Efforts to thwart injunction proceedings sought by the General Investment company, of Maine, which would prevent directors of the Lake Shore Railway company from voting for a consolidation with the New York Central company at a meeting to be held here Dec. 22, will be made today in common pleas court, when arguments will be heard. Judge Stevens, who will conduct the hearing, is not expected to give his decision for several days.

Suit to prevent the consolidation was filed several days ago. It charges criminal violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and also of the Valentine trust law of Ohio against the management of the two roads and says officials are planning to deplete the treasury of both roads.

Asks for Receivers.

The court is asked to appoint a receiver to take over the Nickel Plate, Big Four, Lake Erie, Ohio Central and Indiana Southern roads, all of which, it is alleged in the suit, are controlled by the Lake Shore, and that at the end of the hearing they be put under management which would insure competitive operations.

Another charge of the mismanagement is that the New York Central plans to retire over $100,000,000 worth of 3½ per cent. bonds by issuing 4 per cent. bonds running to 1998. It is charged this would take over $350,000,000 in interest from the treasury and put much of it into the pockets of the New York Central directors. According to the petition the New York Central for many years has been empowered to vote a majority of the Lake Shore stock and that the New York Central now has a majority of directors on the Lake Shore road board. The petition also asks that the restraining order hold up payment of $7,500,000 by the Lake Shore to three minority stockholders, due on Dec. 15.

Besides the Lake Shore and New York Central railroads, the Central Trust company of New York, financial agents for the railroads and the three majority stockholders, William A. Read, Henry Evans and William D. Wood, were made defendants.

GERMANY PREPARED TO WAGE WAR FOR YEARS

Berlin, Via The Hague and London, Dec. 14.—(10:20 a. m.)—The correspondent of the Tageblatt, in Sofia, Bulgarian, telegraphs an interview he had with Field Marshal Baron von der Goltz, while the latter was on his way to Constantinople. Regarding Belgium Baron von der Goltz said:

"The situation is normal, the population having convinced themselves that the Germans are not barbarians. Life continues as if in peace time and commerce and transportation are getting better.

"The Belgians fought bravely for their fatherland. Such opponents should be esteemed."

Answering questions regarding the war situation in the west the field marshal pointed out that an army of millions of German soldiers was in the enemy's country and that the richest French provinces were occupied.

"We don't underestimate our opponents," he said. "The French and English fight with utter contempt for death, but we are gradually winning ground and are convinced that some day the enemy's resistance will be broken.

"Germany is prepared to wage war for years and the side which is able to stand the most and has the best discipline is bound to win. The enthusiasm and morale of the German soldiers, fostered by good supply arrangements, we are sure, will ultimately make us victorious."

Speaking of the situation in the east, Field Marshal von der Goltz said he considered that the Russian offensive had been a failure, but that hard fighting was still in prospect.

"But the German army," he added, "which was victorious earlier against superior numbers, is bound to be so in the future."

Field Marshal Baron von der Goltz said in conclusion that he was convinced that the Turkish army had greatly profited by its hard work during the last few years and would make a good record.

CAN DO MORE THAN DOCTORS, HE SAYS

Dr. Crull Commends Work of Anti-Tuberculosis Societies.

In a communication today, addressed to more than 600 Red Cross seal boosters in all sections of Indiana, Dr. Eric Crull, of this city, chairman of the advisory council of the Indiana Red Cross Seals commission, takes an advanced stand as a member of the medical profession.

He declares that the work of the anti-tuberculosis organizations, which are financed through the Red Cross seal, "can do more towards defeating tuberculosis and its appalling mortality than anything we doctors can prescribe."

Dr. Crull's Letter.

Here is the text of the letter:

Only a few days and our annual Red Cross seals campaign will be over with and, from present indications, it will set a new record for Indiana. Let me express the hope that your territory is measuring up to the rest of the state and that the proceeds from the seal sale in your community will be sufficiently large to provide for a very definite and well-planned crusade against the "white plague" next year. The world is recognizing more and more each day that education along preventive lines will accomplish more towards defeating tuberculosis and its appalling mortality than anything we doctors can prescribe.

Since the money raised through the sale of Red Cross seals is used largely for the dissemination of educational material throughout the state; since the efforts tending toward the conservation of life are recognized in America today as being the most important movement in the nation; since the reduction of mortality is acknowledged to be an economic factor in any community; since you can prove to any business man that tuberculosis is a heavy and unnecessary expense to the taxpayers and since this disease is now known to be communicable, and preventable, you with all the rest of us certainly can work diligently and enthusiastically with the proud conviction that we are helping in the noblest cause that can be conceived by the human mind.

It will be extremely difficult to measure the net results of your activity in this seal campaign. Who can tell the number of lives that may be prolonged because of your work and the work of your helpers in selling Red Cross seals now? Perhaps your own life or the life of some member of your family or of some friend will be protected from infection by a consumptive, who will be taught with the money derived from Red Cross seals in your community that the disease is infectious and that unless he is careful someone will get it from him!

In my capacity as chairman of the advisory council of the State Red Cross Seals commission, I extend to you my sincere wishes for an unusually successful campaign.

DELEGATES RETURN FROM CONVENTION

Fort Wayne delegates to the annual convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress at Washington, D. C., have returned home and all are optimistic over the prospects of the construction of the Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago barge canal.

Col. D. N. Foster, one of the delegates, stated that the meeting was full of enthusiasm and that the local project was looked upon with great favor. He says that the government is thoroughly committed to the policy of developing the waterways of the country.

"I believe that the present congress will appropriate $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 for the waterways," he said. "The proposition to connect Lake Michigan and Lake Erie by means of the Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago barge canal is looked upon as the most important project of them all. The people of New York say they cannot develop their waterway, upon which they have spent $130,000,000 and upon which they expect to spend $25,000,000 more, unless they have our local project as a feeder. New York people are willing to come here and help us boost the project and we hope to be able to give them a chance to do that next summer."

SAYS STRIKES COULD HAVE BEEN AVERTED

Labor Secretary in Report Criticizes Coal Mine Owners.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Secretary Wilson of the Department of Labor, in his annual report submitted today, expresses the conviction that had the owners of the mine properties in the Calumet copper region and the Colorado coal fields dealt with the strike situations in their inception, "had they been on the ground and personally in charge, there is reason to believe that no strike would have ensued."

Principally Secretary Wilson's report is devoted to a review of the labor disputes the department has successfully mediated during the last year and it defines, at some length, the principles upon which the department acts in such cases. Of the mediation and conciliation work the report says:

"Primarily the Department of Labor must conserve in industrial disputes the interests of the wage earners of the United States. But though the department of labor represents primarily the wage-earning interests in labor disputes, its ideal is to make its representation similar in character to that of the department of state.

Mediation, Not Arbitration.

"It should be understood, therefore, that mediation does not mean arbitration, compulsory or otherwise. Nor is it in any other sense a judicial function. The function is one of negotiation. What the commissioners of conciliation seek to do is to bring employer and employe together, so that they may work out their differences between themselves peacefully and amicably, as business men with legitimate differences to adjust. When the department is unable, whether through commissioners or conciliation or otherwise, to get the parties to meet and work out their own problems, or to agree upon an adjustment by way of mediatorial negotiation, or to adopt arbitration by arbitrators of their own choosing, then there is nothing further the department can do than to give the public the information necessary to enable it to pass a fair judgment upon the merits of the dispute.

"It is, then, the policy of the department of labor, and has been its custom, to appoint in important cases two or more commissioners of conciliation so that the secretray may be intelligently advised of the merits of the dispute from all angles on both sides."

ITALY DEMANDS THAT TURK MAKE APOLOGY

New Turn in Affairs Puts Italians Much Nearer Conflict.

London, Dec. 14.—The Italian government has sent a demand for an apology to Turkey, the result of the forcible entry of the Italian consulate at Hodeida by Turkish troops and the seizure therein of the British consul, G. A. Richardson, according to advices from Rome last night.

Baron Sonnino, the Italian minister of foreign affairs, aroused intense enthusiasm in the Italian chamber when, in answer to an interpellation from the floor, he recited the story of Consul Richardson's arrest and explained his own action in demanding public satisfaction to Italy from Turkey.

Germany Advises Turks.

The Rome dispatch adds that the German government has advised the Sublime Port to grant Italy's demands in order to avoid further international complications.

While an apology from Turkey is regarded as likely, there is held to be much significance in the incident, in that it tends to prove that Italy, while neutral, is entirely in sympathy with the allies. The Richardson incident may prove an excuse for Italy's taking an active part in the conflict on the side of the allies.

Baron Sonnino, in the chamber of deputies, gave the story of Consul Richardson's arrest, which already had been made public. He added that Sgr. Cecchi, the Italian consul at Hodeida, who came to the defense of his colleague, was obliged to remain in his own house, which was watched for several days, until the arrival of the Italian coast guardship Giuliana, and the Italian armored cruiser, Marco Polo, which had been ordered to Hodeida.

Mrs. Edgar H. Kilbourne, who was operated on Saturday at her home, 3227 Broadway, is improving nicely.

H. W. Sigrist, of the firm of Sigrist & Company, has gone to St. Louis on business.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Revelation 21:1-14.

1 And I saw a new heaven and a new eatrth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.

2 And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. . .

3 And I heard a great voice out or heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4 And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5 And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful.

6 And he said unto me. It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely.

7 He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

8 But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9 And there came unto me one of the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will show thee the bride, the Lamb's wife.

10 And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God,

11 Having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;

12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel:

13 On the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

Two Remarkable Stories.

Within the past few days there has come to light two ideas, two somewhat novel views of life problems, which if universally adopted and lived up to, would mean revolution such as the world has not yet seen.

Mrs. Anna Semple, a California woman, takes into her home the girl whom her husband betrayed and would befriend her until she "gets straight with life again." Mrs. Semple believes that "women are too ready to scorn the woman who is down; all women should stand by each other." Suppose that women should stand by the fallen woman as men stand by the fallen man. It would put an end to the obsession that there is a female morality and a male morality, wouldn't it? Yes, it would smash the "double standard," and more men would live clean lives. What a tremendous social revolution if, when a woman falls, the women should think and act as Christian-like as they do towards fallen men!

The other interesting story tells how "Bill" Brown, one of Los Angeles' city prosecutors, puts on tramps' attire and associates with so-called vagrants, so that fewer men who are simply out of work will not be railroaded to jail from police court as "vags." Think of a city prosecutor working to keep men out of jail! Why, a prosecutor's record is based on the big number of convictions he secures, isn't it? There are lots of men out of work, just now, and "Bill" Brown is passing up the chance of a lifetime to say nothing of his interference with the prosperity of one of our most precious institutions, the jail. It's decidedly revolutionary. It's going back to the dark days, when a prosecutor beleves that it's better that nine guilty men esape than that one innocent man be jailed, isn't it?

These two stories are not the "big news" stories of the day. You will not find them displayed under large circus-poster type. You'll find the display made over the heroism of Francois Jean Pierre, who cuts the throats of six German boy soldiers with his own hand; you'll find the fame spread over Gen. Von Dibble, who, by clever strategy, traps 2,000 Servians so that they can easily be mowed down by his rapid-firers. But there is heroism when a woman, defying the scorn of her sex and disregarding the merciless custom of the ages, takes into her life a fallen sister and, by other means than prayer and advice, gives her a practical chance to "get straight with life again;" there's good strategy, policy, admirable love of justice in the prosecutor who works to keep men out of jail rather than in.

Each day is bringing fresh confirmation of the now well-grounded conviction that, strong as is the desire for the return of peace and the cessation of slaughter, there is little promise of its achievement until the gigantic war struggle has reached a decisive end. It is quite evident that none of the warring peoples have any intention of yielding until they are forced by defeat or exhaustion to do so. Mr. Herrick, recently returned ambassador to France, whose opportunities for judging make his opinion worth while, supplements earlier declaration to this general end. Hope for early cessation of hostilities seems entirely groundless. The struggle is bound to be a long one, yet, distressing as it is, the result will not be without its value if its effect is to so sicken the world with war that humanity may never again be forced to endure its horrors.

Confronted by the necessity of going squarely on record as to the proposed prohibition and woman suffrage amendments within the next week or two, we suspect that certain members of congress are convinced that not all the bravery on earth is just now confined to European battle fields. It will be observed, however, that with remarkable discretion, the fight on these two questions was side-tracked until after the fall elections.

Take a look at the stacks on some of the bigger downtown buildings almost any of these fine, crispy mornings and you have a thoroughly excellent moving picture of the sort of smoke-prevention that doesn't prevent at all.

A BAD YEAR FOR "BOOZE."

(Kansas City Times.)

The current year is likely to prove the most disastrous to liquor selling in history.

The most sweeping attack the business ever has had has come from Russia, where at one stroke an enormous sale has been wiped out, with such good results that the minister of finance has no word of regret for the loss of nearly 500 million dollars in revenue. At the same time the necessity of temperance has been emphasized in all the countries at war.

In America five great states have voted out liquor—Arizona, Colorado Oregon, Virginia and Washington. Altogether, when the new legislation shall have become effective, fourteen states will be living under absolute prohibition. The Anti-Saloon league estimates that these fourteen states, with the other "dry" territory, make a total of more than 74 per cent. of the area of the United States from which liquor selling has been driven.

Twenty years ago about sixteen million persons were living in "dry" territory. Now more than forty-nine millions are included in that territory. That means more than a million and a half persons a year for two decades have been brought into regions from which liquor is excluded.

The saloons, of course, are concentrated in large cities. In thirty-six states there are fewer saloons than are in New York city alone. There are seventeen hundred fewer saloons south of Mason and Dixon's line than are in the city of Chicago.

Three newly elected legislatures are regarded as aggressively "dry" by the Anti-Saloon league—those of Missouri Alabama and Idaho. It is expected that the Missouri legislature will help the city people to keep saloons away from their homes by enacting a precinct option law, by which individual precincts may vote "dry."

These results are not the outcome of any moral wave. They are due to two chief causes. People have resented the attempts of the liquor interests to control the government and run things And they have found that they can't be efficient in athletics, in business or anything else if they "booze."

WOMEN WHO KILL.

(Saturday Evening Post.)

Occasionally there is an exception to the rule that any female who is not wholly disreputable and has not a positive squint can kill anybody she chooses and go free. Making due allowance for infants and for females who are handicapped by physical repulsiveness or by vulgar police records, we should say that, as to fully a quarter of the population of the United States, the chance of being punished for homicide is barely one out of a hundred. Women are in much the same position as through the law defined homicide as a misdemeanor punishable by a fortnight's attendance in court attired in their most becoming clothes and duly wept over by sympathetic spectators.

In view of the almost total immunity for mob murders, the near immunity for female homicides, the near immunity for male murderers who plead the unwritten law, and the chance that any other male homicide the police capture will escape on some technicality, it is an open question whether the death penalties and life imprisonments with which the law threatens murderers are of any value in protecting life.

We consider it highly probable that if every murderer were quickly and surely punished by a year's imprisonment there would be fewer homicides in the United States than there are today, when the law threatens awful penalties, but rarely inflicts them.

As to women who kill, it would be a decided improvement if they could be brought before some unsentimental judge who would sternly sentence them to scrub the court house floors for the next six months.

HE NEGLECTED TO DIVIDE.

Piercetcn, Ind., Dec. 14.—To the Editor of The Sentinel: In my communication on Saturday, in which is said that "it takes miles of cord to run a clock 78 years, I made a mistake in computing the winding distance. Instead of 92 miles, 5 feet and 3 inches; it should be 7 miles, 213 rods, 15 feet and 1¾ inches. I had neglected to divide by 12. Will you please state the correction in your next issue?

A POLICEMAN AND A CHICKEN.

St. Louis Patrolman Suspended for Taking Fowl from Ice Box.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 14.—Patrolman Albert H. Young, of Carondelet station, was suspended, charged with stealing a dressed chicken from the ice box of a South Broadway market. Captain Hess forwarded a complaint against the patrolman to Chief Young.

According to Hess, in the last week three chickens and several bunches of celery have been missed from the ice box. Sergt. Fred Schiefelbein was told to watch the market. He reported that he saw Patrolman Young enter the front door of the store, which was insecure, go to the icebox, take the chicken and wrap it in a newspaper.

The sergeant arrested the policeman and took him to the station. The storekeeper was called, but refused to prosecute. Then Schiefelbein suspended the patrolman and placed a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer against him.

WANTS $5,000 BALM FOR WOUNDED HEART

Mabel Shelly Sues Valentine Blough in Breach of Promise Suit.

In a suit filed in the circuit court by Mabel Shelly against Valentine Blough the plaintiff demands $5,000 as balm to her wounded affections because the defendant, after asking her to be his bonny bride and gaining her consent bestowed his affections on Bessie Fish and made her his wife. The complaint says the plaintiff now resides in Lagrange county, but that she and the defendant both resided in South Bend, Ind., on the 11th of March, 1913, when he asked her to marry him, got her promise and gave her his. Relying on the integrity of his promise she remained and still remains unmarried. The date fixed for the matrimonial union was June 1, 1913, but the defendant then and since has failed, neglected and refused to marry her, whereat she has suffered great humiliation, embarrassment and mortification and distress of mind—injuries which she believes entitle her to recover $5,000.

Big Suits Go From County.

On motion of the defendants Judge Eggeman has granted change of venue from the Allen circuit to the Wells circuit court in the suits of Margaret Becquette vs. the City of Fort Wayne, the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company and the Central Union Telephone company for $25,000 and of Henry Becquette against the same defendants for $10,000 damages. The plaintiffs allege permanent injuries by reason of defective wiring that shocked and burned them in their home.

Judge Eggeman granted a change of venue to Huntington county in the suit of Collinge vs. Tinkham for $5,000 damages.

Notes of the Courts.

The suit of Louis Meyers vs. John R. Hartzell was settled out of court Monday after the jury in the circuit court was in the box ready to proceed with the trial.

It was expected that late Monday afternoon Pearl Stritmatter and Harry Sutton would be arraigned in the circuit court on charges of larceny, plead guilty and receive sentence.

The divorce suit of Cora J. Snyder vs Robert Snyder went to trial in the superior court Monday afternoon.

IN THE MINOR COURTS.

Glenn A. Smiley and David H. Hogg, of counsel for George Barduin, who was convicted of forgery in the circuit court last week and sentenced to the reformatory, have begun suit in replevin in the court of Justice Taneey to recover $49 in cash, a revolver and a gold watch that were taken from Barduin when he was arrested. Chief of Police Lenz refuses to surrender the property until directed to do so by an order of court so that his responsibility shall be relieved.

James Steele and Joseph Stuckey have settled their suit in the court of Justice Taneey, wherein Steele sued Stuckey for $200 for a horse which Steele says Stuckey drove to death.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry King, of Nuttman avenue, entertained at dinner at 6 o'clock yesterday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Donivan, who left today for Portland, Ore. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tibbles, Mr. and Mrs. George Conklin and son Cecil, and Miss Virginia King.

A pleasant surprise party was that given Miss Lillian Boedeker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Boedeker, of 1630 Hayden street, in honor of her seventeenth birth anniversary. A fine supper was served and games were played. Those present to enjoy the affair were Mesdames Albert Wiegand, Edwin Kuan, Otto Willeg, Edward Schmidt, Ray Shaw, John Fish, Henry Flugel, Michael Marcis, Williard Boedeker, Laverne Strodel, Eric Metsdorf, Carl Boedeker, Arthur Schmidt, Herbert Shodel, Walter Pohl, Alfred Von Toerne, Elmer Case and Misses Garnet Vegalues, Lillian Walda, Emma Knocke, Mildred Gehringer, Clara Benecke, Mathilda Weigand, Reva Gehringer, Alma Wiegand, Pauline Gehringer, Bessie Wartenbe, Rose Geiger, Bertha Schmidt, Minnie Schmidt, Bertha Epple, Minnie Huelsner. Miss Boedeker received many lovely gifts.

Miss Virginia Olds' dancing class will meet tomorrow evening at the Country club as usual.

Music lovers and members of the Morning Musical society will read with more than common interest that the society has engaged the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra to give a concert at the Majestic theater in January. The fact that the orchestra was obliged to cancel a southern tour for business reasons led to arrangements for a northern tour that brought the organization within reach of Fort Wayne, and the enterprising officers of the local musical society lost no time in "getting busy" in making an engagement.

The beginning of the Jewish holiday Hanukka, which began on Sunday, was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lande, corner of Lafayette and Montgomery streets. Many friends and relatives were present, including Rev. S. Bernstein and Rev. Dr. R. Kornblith, of New York city. Both gentlemen spoke in honor of the feast. An elaborate dinner was served at 6 o'clock and the many friends of Mrs. Lande surprised her with beautiful gifts in honor of her birthday anniversary. Music and games followed the dinner.

Miss Emily Wright Hood has taken the position with the Journal-Gazette as editor of the society, music and theatrical work in place of Miss McKinnie, who resigned. Miss Hood is very competent and her many friends are pleased at her success.

Miss Henriette Zimmerman, of 1828 St. Joe boulevard, entertained a party of friends on Sunday at a supper party. The guests present to enjoy this good time were Cleo Wilson, Mildred Hoffer, Louise Guethe, Gladys Yates, Roy Maxwell, Bonnie Stuart, Martin George, Raymond Dodson and Wilbur Easley.

LITTLE GIRL VICTIM OF ATROCIOUS MURDER, AND MAN WHO IS UNDER ARREST FOR THE FIENDISH CRIME.

David Fountain, confessed murderer in the custody of a detective.

Margaret Milling, the murdered girl.

Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 12.—One of the most atrocious murders ever perpetrated has been committed here in the killing of Margaret Milling, a ten-year-old child, in the basement of the German Lutheran church.

David Fountain, janitor of the church was arrested on suspicion and confessed under the merciless lash of police examination.

It was Fountain who reported the finding of the tiny body and it was Fountain who identified the child. Upon examination, the corpse revealed the fact that the girl had been assaulted and had fought with her assailant desperately. She had been badly beaten and death was due to strangulation.

Since being incarcerated, Fountain has been declared mentally delinquent by State Medical Superintendent F. W. Hatch and Dr. C. B. Jones.

Upon a grilling "third degree" the prisoner admitted that he had served five prison terms in the east, and also he had been confined for nearly two years in the asylum for the insane in Iowa.

BROTHERS ARE REUNITED.

Separated Thirty-five Years They Meet in Muncie.

Muncie, Ind., Dec. 14.—After they had been apart thirty-five years, during which time neither knew whether the other was alive, not having ever written to each other, John H. Graham, a Chicago broker, and Oliver F. Graham, of Muncie, brothers, have been reunited here. John Graham on Thanksgiving day started an investigation that resulted in finding his brother here. The brothers, who are men in their sixties held a joyful reunion of two days in length and parted with the promise that frequent visits should be exchanged.

CRUISER DRESDEN ELUDES HER FOES

Valparaiso, Chile, Dec. 14.—Dispatches received here from Punta Arenas declare that the German cruiser Dresden has come into that port uninjured.

This location of the German cruiser Dresden at Punta Arenas on the strait of Magellan, clears up all doubt as to the whereabouts of the last of the German warships that encountered the British squadron December 8 off the Falkland Islands. The Gneisenau, the Scharnhorst, the Leipzig and the Nurnberg were sunk; the Dresden escaped and has been pursued by British warships. Her presence at Punta Arenas means that she was either endeavoring to reach the Pacific again, or that she contemplates interning for the remainder of the war. Punta Arenas is a Chilean port. The Strait of Magellan is narrow. British warships are doubtless at its Atlantic entrance and Japanese cruisers are said to be either watching or not far from the approach on the Pacific side.

HURLS LAMP; IS SANE AGAIN.

Sheboygan, Wis., Dec. 12.—Shock, caused by the explosion of a lighted lamp, which she threw at her guardian, restored the mind of Miss Grace Greenwood, who shortly before had become violently insane. In a sudden fit of anger she picked the lamp off the table in her boarding place and hurled it with all her strength. It missed her guardian and struck the wall. The house caught fire. When the excitement was over it was found that Miss Greenwood again was rational.

ENGLISH SUBMARINE IN A DARING EXPLOIT

London, Dec. 14.—(11:25 a. m.)—A communication issued by the official bureau today announced that the Turkish battleship Messudieh has been torpedoed by a British submarine. The official bureau's statement is as follows:

"Yesterday submarine B-11, in charge of Lieut. Commander Norman B. Seabrook, of the Royal navy, entered the Dardanelles and in spite of the difficult current dived under five rows of mines and torpedoed the Turkish battleship Messudieh, which was guarding the mine fields.

"Although pursued by gun fire and torpedo boats the B-11 returned safely after being submerged, on one occasion, for nine hours.

"When last seen the Messudieh was sinking by the stern."

Hobson Prohibition Amendment Vote Embarrassment to Statesmen.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The holiday season has taken on a gloomy aspect for scores of members of the house of representatives since the rules committee announced that it would call up both the national prohibition and woman suffrage resolutions on Dec. 22.

With rare exceptions, the only approximately happy members are those representing overwhelmingly "wet" or "dry" districts. They generally will vote the sentiment of their districts with the knowledge that only a minority of their constituents will condemn them.

However, those members whose districts are somewhat evenly divided on the liquor question are being harassed with forebodings of the consequences of the roll call on the Hobson resolution. Whichever way they vote, they will be condemned by a large aggregation of their constituents.

Both Likely to Fail.

The prospect is that neither the prohibition nor the suffrage resolution will receive the support of two-thirds of the members, which is the prerequisite of submission of a proposed constitutional amendment to the states. But more votes will be cast for the prohibition than for the suffrage measure.

The supporters of the Hobson resolution are inclined to be angry at Secretary of State Bryan for taking the stand in the Commoner that prohibition is a state, not a national, question. They realize that Mr. Bryan, by assuming this attitude, has cost them dozens, if not scores, of votes in the house.

Arguments of "Drys."

Led by the members from the ten prohibition states, the "drys" intend to marshal all the possible arguments for their cause, including those which have been supplied by the world war. They will argue that the action of the belligerent countries in the supreme national crisis has demonstrated the real iniquity of liquor. They will point to the rejuvenation of Russia as a result of the czar's prohibition ukase and to the suppression of the absinthe traffic by France, and will dwell upon the kaiser's advice to abstain from beer and Lord Kitchener's recommendation that spirituous drinks be tabooed.

The "wets" will respond with arguments that America needs no such drastic measures to prevent the evils of intemperance; that the control of the liquor traffic is a local, not a national question, and that the republic, particularly in times necessitating emergency taxation, cannot afford to forego the $150,000,000 revenue derived from brewing and distilling.

TRAIN KILLS AGED FARMER.

Jacob Bowman, 80, Meets Death on Wabash at Rockfield.

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 14.—Jacob Bowman, 80 years old, owner of a large tract of land in Carroll county, yesterday afternoon was struck by a passenger train on the Wabash railroad at Rockfield, east of here, suffering injuries which caused his death five minutes after the accident. He was walking between the tracks, and on account of deafness did not hear the approaching train. He was hurled 100 feet.

WILL GIVE BANQUET.

Old Trustees Will Entertain the Newly Elected Officials.

Arrangements are being made by the retiring trustees of Allen county to entertain the newly elected trustees on the evening of January 2. It is planned to give a banquet at the Hof Brau, preliminary arrangements being in charge of Michael Costello, trustee of St. Joe township.

EXTREME COLD WAVE VISITS FORT WAYNE

Mercury at 6 O'Clock Monday Morning Stood Two Degrees Below Zero.

Zero weather was experienced in Fort Wayne Monday, for the first time this winter, the lowest temperature registering at two degrees below zero at six o'clock. At 8 o'clock the mercury had only climbed to two degrees above, according to the government thermometer in the United States weather bureau.

The change came without very much warning. Sunday was not very cold, the mercury standing for a greater part of the day above freezing. At 7 o'clock Sunday night the wind shifted to the northwest and from that time until Monday morning the mercury slowly descended to two degrees below zero, where it remained stationary for a time and then slowly started on a return trip up the thermometer. Until late Monday, however, the mercury hovered dangerously near the zero mark and showed very little inclination of getting very far away.

Blinding Snow Storm.

There was a blinding snow storm all day Sunday. But for the fact that the snow melted about as quickly as it fell there would have been fifteen inches of the beautiful on the ground. Railroad traffic was interferred with to some extent because of snow drifts. The Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company found it necessary to keep its sweeper out for the greater part of Sunday. A force of men also was kept busy cleaning the switches, especially at the transfer corner.

As a result of the sudden change there is much suffering among those unprepared for zero weather. The prospects are that the cold wave will continue for a few days.

CHICAGO SHRINERS PUT DIP TO GRIEF

"High Sign" Foils Attempt of Pickpocket to Rob on Car.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Three pickpockets caused distress signals and lodge calls for help to fly among forty Shriners who, with their wives, were on the way to Medinah temple yesterday.

The Masons were in a Broadway-Cottage Grove car. At Randolph street two men and a woman boarded it and pushed their way into the crowd. In a few moments their nimble fingers were at work in the pockets of the Shriners. While the two men devoted their attention to the Shriners, the woman busied herself with the handbags of the Shriners' wives.

One of the Shriners saw a wallet slipped from the pocket of a brother lodge member. Just what was the signal that he gave, of course, the Masons refused to tell, but in an instant all were on their guard. Four of them seized one of the trio, but the woman and one of the men edged their way onto the platform and escaped.

As they passed her, one Shriner's wife screamed and said that the woman had tried to grab her handbag.

The man held by the Shriners struggled furiously all the way to Chicago avenue where a patrol wagon met the car in response to a message telephoned by W. J. Uhr, of 1409 East Forty-seventh street, who jumped off the car at Ohio street.

When the prisoner had been taken from the car the wallet containing $40 which had been taken from one of the Shriners was found on the floor by Attorney Elmer A. Rogers. The prisoner gave his name as Harry Marks, of 2119 South Wabash avenue. He denied having done anything wrong.

THE WATCH HOUSE

J. H. YOUNG

917 CALHOUN STREET

East Side Between Wayne and Washington Sts.

Preparatory Service is Held at Wayne Street Methodist Church.

Two lawyers from Kokomo told a large audience at the Wayne Street Methodist church Sunday afternoon what Dr. Lyon had done in that city. Wonderful testimonials were given of the vast amount or good brought about as a result of the meetings there some months ago.

Warren D. Voorhis, although a member of the church, but an agnostic, told how Dr. Lyon had caused him to realize the existence of Jesus Christ and the certainty of a more glorious life after death. He said he had lived forty years before he really knew the happiness and joy of being a Christian.

Mr. Voorhis told of the birth of the Christian religion—how eleven men had gathered about that spirit which has never left the world. From that day to this the noblest employment of human tongue, he said, is the spreading of the gospel. The greatest miracle ever performed was the birth of Christianity.

He said it was a splendid thing for the various congregations to unite in a meeting of this kind. He said he envied Dr. Lyon his opportunity to bring peace to sad hearts and to reveal to mankind real happiness such as was revealed to him.

Opposed to Meetings.

"I was opposed to such meetings," he continued. "I had studied theology and had read much on the subject and was in reality an agnostic. If a man had told me my religion would change I would have disputed him. I felt that if there is a heaven all right, and if there isn't, all right."

Mr. Voorhis said that Dr. Lyon pointed out to him the ridiculousness of his reasoning. He had doubted the experiences of religious persons and while he loved his home, his wife and children, his business was good and he had all a man could wish for, he was dissatisfied. Out of all the theories he had read and the philosophies he had studied it brought him no comfort. He said that when Dr. Lyon came to Kokomo he determined to give the evangelist a show.

Sermons Are Reasonable.

Mr. Voorhis said Dr. Lyon is a peculiar preacher, yet he preaches sound, sane and reasonable sermons. It seemed to him that he divides his sermons into three divisions. In the first division of the meetings he attempts to convict men of their discontented condition. The speaker said he was convicted. In the second division he devotes his sermons to the method of redemption and in the third division his sermons are devoted to the plan or theory of salvation as offered by Jesus Christ.

The speaker said that Dr. Lyon portrayed the love of the Nazarene as he had never heard it before, the wonderful beauty of his sacrifice, willing to bear the insults of the world that broken hearts might be saved.

"For the first time in my life I saw the sun," he said. "I cannot understand yet why it was necessary for me to go down in front, but I wanted to. I felt it was big enough a thing to deserve a public confession and I felt it might influence others."

Since the Lyon meeting Mr. Voorhis said he has not been the same kind of a man for his viewpoint of life has changed. The meetings also changed the life of many of his neighbors.

Elliott Speaks.

Donald F. Elliott, the first speaker, spoke in place of his brother, Earl Elliott, who was suddenly called to New York city and for that reason could not be here.

Mr. Elliott said that for many years there was something in his life at work. He realized that he was wrong and that there was something lacking. With his many advantages he knew he had not been living up to his opportunities and the things that were expected of him for the help of mankind and those less fortunately situated. He knew he owed it to society to be a Christian and consequently he used the Lyon meetings as sort of a medium to an end.

"Does being a Christian pay?" he asked. "No question of it. The better citizen is the man who is trying to right wrong and help his neighbor."

In closing he said that every man owes it to society to be a Christian.

LAST RITES ARE SIMPLE.

Late Head of Mormon Church Buried at Independence, Mo.

Independence, Mo., Dec. 14.—Joseph Smith, president of the reorganized church of Latter Day Saints, who died Thursday, was buried here yesterday. In accordance with the directions given by the patriarch on his death bed, the services were simple.

Immediately after the services the quorum of twelve apostles, the highest ruling body in the church, called a meeting to be held tomorrow morning. Some years ago Joseph Smith announced a divine revelation that his son, Frederick Smith, should be his successor and it is believed the apostles will confirm this appointment.

WA FARMER TRIES GAME OF HIS OWN

Crged With Turning Bun- Tables on the Smart City Fellers.

ago, Dec. 14.—Down on the farm aukee, Iowa, Alexander Erlick re city papers and found out all the "foxy slickers" who lie in wait the innocent farmer.

denly the Big Idea struck him. Back!

rubbed a little hayseed in his hair on his best pair of rawhide top boots packed the old carpet-bag and came to Chicago to meet some agent who would take him down to the front to see the German submarine come up for air.

bert Thomas Pleake of 1302 West Fifty-second street, and Nicholas Kireages of 1430 Sedgwick street, in a saloon near the stockyards. He waited patiently, but they did not offer to sell him the Logan monument or the Lasalle street station, so he offered them jobs on the farm.

Work? Early rising? Oh, no, indeed! That was in the olden days, but not now.

A modern farm hand has to do is drive the automobile down to the general store for fresh eggs for breakfast, get the money left by the commission merchant on his daily visit and then is up and take the neighbors' girls for a ride, he explained.

Pleake and Kirchgesner decided that "dowin with the cows and chickens" was the life for them, and each handed over $10 for railroad fare to Cherokee and then went home to have their suits pressed and their shoes shined.

When next they met Erlick he gave them the cold shoulder. They had him arrested on a "bunco man."

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself," Captain Gorman told Erlick. "When farmers come to town they are expected to let the 'city fellers' get their pocketbooks, but see what you have done. Read the comic papers will have to go out of business right away."

VETERAN RAILROAD MAN DIES.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—William David Cantillon, until last May general manager of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, died here yesterday. Mr. Cantillon ended the service of the railroad as a freight brakeman in 1875 and rose from brakeman to conductor, trainmaster, superintendent and general manager. Two of Cantillon's brothers, Michael and Joseph, are well known as baseball managers.

Rathbone temple, No. 31, Pythian Sisters, was inspected Saturday evening by Mrs. Flora Ritter, D. D. G. C., of Butler. The inspection was in connection with the regular initiatory work and an exhibition drill. Lunch was served. Mrs. Ritter was accompanied to Fort Wayne by Mrs. Imafutzfeld.

"The Bug Terror" at the Lyric Tonight.

A rollicking sailor's dance, with a lively hornpipe step in it, is the rouli-rouli, latest society dance, and it's as popular in ballrooms now as it was many years ago on the decks of "tramp steamers" sailing out of Marseilles or Calais, for the fantastic steps of the rouli-rouli were originated by French sailors and not by dancing masters.

The dancing masters, however, have modified and refined the wild and sometimes weird step of the jolly sailor, and as it is danced today the rouli-rouli is one of the most graceful figures on the modern dance program.

Now the gentleman comes forward with right foot and one side to the left. Balance and cross forward and slide as in a two-step, three turns with the left foot leading. Now the gentleman crosses the right foot back and slides backward three times. Cross the left foot forward and slide three times.

After this figure the lady turns again and faces her partner two-stepping from side to side and turns under the gentleman's arm twice still using the two step backward.

In the music is a long rumble—during this rumble the partners face each other and perform the rouli-rouli movement which is describing a circle with each arm the gentleman pushing the lady's arm back while she is pushing his other arm back—always making a circle as illustrated in photograph.

Pas de bourrie again four times, walk four steps and turn inside out three times. That is, the gentleman and lady turn back to back and face to face, keeping the hands together turning under their arms.

Why the Ladies Like To Shop At Seavey's

The women of Fort Wayne who have not yet formed the habit of making a shopping place of the Seavey Hardware store may be surprised to know that thousands of the most particular buyers of household needs have long considered this splendid store as the one place from which to secure their most valuable gifts for the Christmas season.

Seavey's is the Hardware Department Store of Fort Wayne—the store which devotes a large separate section to the thousand-and-one things which women love to see and to own. The woman who forms the Seavey "habit"—the habit—of making a frequent visit to Seavey's "just to see the new things"—gets a world of enjoyment out of it. The splendid array of electrical conveniences (toasters, irons and the like) is always attractive. New things in Guernsey ware, enamel ware and nickel bring expressions of delight. Aluminum ware is growing in popularity. Conveniences of every sort—cake makers, chafing dishes, roasters, percolators, fruit presses, waffle irons, cake griddles, cooking utensils, broilers, cake forms, carving sets, coffee mills, casseroles and scores of others—are always attractive for their close connection with the home life.

Community Silver—The kind that is so extensively advertised in the leading magazines—has an especial attractiveness all its own.

Perhaps you didn't know that Seavey's carry all of those splendid lines. If you didn't, now is the time to visit this store and make a close acquaintanceship with it while you are buying y... useful presents. They're here in large variety.

There is also a plenty for the children—Flexible Flyer Sleds, Skates, etc.

The store of the Seavey Hardware company is located at the northwest corner of Harrison and Pearl streets. Do your Christmas shopping there. "If it's a good thing Seavey's have it"—especially if it's a Christmas gift.

Stick a seal!—a Red Cross Seal on your Christmas packages!

chest, the war-chest that's to pay for the battle it is waging against tuberculosis. Every seal you stick to a Christmas package, a postcard, a business letter, is a contribution to that war fund.

Every time you stick a seal to a letter you strike a blow at man's deadliest enemy, tuberculosis, at the "White Plague" that has flung its battle front from country-end to country-end, and has a stronghold in your town as well as in every other town in the country.

Every time you "stick a seal" on a letter or a Christmas package you pay for ammunition to defeat the "white plague."

The Christmas package that carries a Red Cross seal is thrice blessed. It blesses him who gives and him who receives, but a greater blessing still it bestows on the wan baby struggling against the awful curse of consumption, on the strong man just smitten with the disease or on the mother who has neither strength, knowledge nor money to save herself from the deadly germ of tuberculosis.

"Stick a seal"—set the seal of your good will, the badge of the Red Cross, the emblem of the Christmas spirit on every Christmas offering you make; tell the children about it, set them to "sticking seals;" tell your friends—urge them to "stick a seal" on every letter they write from now until Christmas day.

Every seal adds to the funds that will help to save thousands of men, women and children from consumption. It's such a little thing to do. Of course, you won't neglect it.

Will you "stick a seal?"

Legislative Veterans Were Grouped at Funeral of Late Mr. Payne.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The official life of the nation yesterday paid final tribute to the late Sereno E. Payne, for more than thirty years a member of the house of representatives from New York. Black garbed legislators, executives and members of the judiciary in their sombre flowing robes, were joined by the representatives of foreign countries in the first formal funeral ceremony held in the chamber of the house in fifteen years.

The cloud of sorrow hung heaviest over a little group of legislative veterans who sought the cold comfort of companionship in misery far back in a corner in the rear of the chamber. They were the republican "old guard," companions-in-arms of the dead statesman in the legislative battles of a quarter of a century, and they seemed uncomfortable in the public show of their grief. In the center, stiffly upright, with folded arms, sat "Uncle Joe" Cannon, the dead man's chief in many a hard fought struggle of policy and statecraft. Beside him ranged James Hemenway, of Indiana; John Dwight, of New York; Ebenezer Hill, of Connecticut, and John Dalzell, of Pennsylvania.

All had poignant memories of standing shoulder to shoulder with the bulky form of the New York legislator in great and small governmental struggles. And the simple funeral ceremony, the quiet strains of the hymns, started unbidden tears that were hurriedly brushed away with studied carelessness. In all the solemn formality the "old guard" seemed to have part. Theirs was a deeper, closer grief. And when the ceremony was done and the hundreds had passed the flower banked catafalque, they stood together and gazed for a few moments on all that was mortal of their dead companion.

"I swore I would never enter the chamber again until I came with a certificate of election in my hand," said "Uncle Joe" Cannon, his square jaw trembling, "but Payne died, and I had to come to the funeral."

After the ceremony the body was left to lie in state until late in the afternoon, when escorted by a committee of sixty members of the house and senate it was taken to Auburn, N. Y., the home of Mr. Payne.

President Wilson wrote a letter of condolence to Will Payne, only son of the dead legislator, who represented the family at the funeral.

The people of Indiana spend ten millions of dollars for Christmas Gifts, only half of which they spend in their home community. Be loyal and see that you spend 100 per cent in your home city. Foster's.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 14.—Two old sweethearts took train recently for Selled, forty miles out of Seattle, where they expect to finish a fairy-like romance begun thirty-six years ago in London by "living happily ever afterwards."

He is fifty-nine; she is fifty-six.

He has two grown sons.

Both have been married before.

But the two who interrupted the romance many years ago, are dead now.

The lives of the old sweethearts have been interwoven since childhood. And the story, like all good stories, has ended well.

Thomas Cleaver was introduced to Matilda Crockett in 1878 in London.

Thomas was a stalwart, handsom young chap. He laid siege to her heart The siege didn't last long—a year, or maybe a bit more; and then she promised to be his wife.

It used to be hard, those days, for Thomas to still think of the other fellow as his chum. But somehow he managed it. Even wore his best, most cheery smile, when early in June, in 1882, she became Matilda Beech—instead of Matilda Cleaver, as planned originally.

Thomas was not the sort to nurse his disappointments the rest of his days Nor did he believe in letting the grasse grow rank between his toes.

Matilda might be one girl among a thousand, but that was no reason he should remain an old bach all his life * * * There was Martha now!—Matilda's very best girl friend. * * * And so in just two months after Matilda's wedding, he married Martha.

And the years passed, and the four were the good friends they had always been. * * * Two sturdy sons came to brighten the home of Thomas and Martha, but none to the homs of the Beeches. * * * And when the young est son of Thomas and Martha was but two years old, the wife and mother smilingly departed for a better world.

Her leavetaking was followed not many years later by the departure of the sons for America. * * *

And yet with all his boyhood dreams turned to more memories, his home broken up, and apparently nothing to live for, Thomas retained his old-time optimism, and his dashing ways, and his smile.

Two years ago Matilda's husband also died, leaving her in circumstances which made it necessary for her to work for her living.

About that time, too, Thomas came to join his sons in America.

The sister of Thomas and Matilda were great friends. Through letters to his sister, Thomas learned seven months ago that Matilda was a widow. And so—

"His sister told me, 'Tom wants some one to go out there, and would you like to go?'—and I said I should like to go the very next week," said the new Mrs Cleaver.

"I came all the way across the ocean alone," she added, "—and the first time I was ever out of London, too!"

"I sent her twenty-three pounds," interrupted Thomas, "to come on, and I told her just what to do—didn't I, 'Til? But she was awful late getting here because she was detained in Chicago and I was up and down and all over—pretty near crazy when she didn't come a-thinking somebody had got her away from me again.

"We went right up to the courthouse to get the marriage license, intending to wait until Christmas to get married, but somebody sent us upstairs to Judge Humphries, and it came out all at once, and we were married before we knew it.

"If they knew about it in England they wouldn't know what to think!" ruminated Mrs. Cleaver, with something pretty close to a giggle.

"And my youngest son, Richard, 25 years old, gave the bride away," chuckled Mr. Cleaver.

"I've got a picture home of her when she was a girl, you should see," said the mischievous Thomas. "She's good looking now, but she was better looking then."

He grinned.

"Well, Tom, you're not so smart now as you were then, either," she declared

CELEBRATE GOLDEN JUBILEE.

Eight Sisters Members of Order of Holy Cross Fifty Years.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 14.—Eight sisters of the Order of Holy Cross, whose mother house is at St. Mary's college and academy in this city, celebrated their golden jubilee as members of the order. All but three of the sisters are still at the local school. The sisters who have been in the order fifty years are: M. Helen, M. Paula, M. Regina, M. Stanislaus, M. Passion, M. Clare, M. Bethlehem and M. Sophia. Sister M. Lydia, who died November 28, also would have been one of the jubilarians had she lived.

HAS 43-YEAR-OLD WARRANT.

Prescott, Ark., Dec. 14.—Robert Bakely, a curio collector of this city, has in his possession probably the oldest county warrant issued by Nevada county in existence. The warrant is No. 8, dated July 12, 1871, at Mount Moriah, then the county seat, is payable to J. S. Vandergriff, signed by A. B. Parsons, the first county clerk, and is for $69. The warrant was issued a short time after the county was organized and bears the following indorsement on the back signed by the county treasurer: "Not paid for want of funds, Aug. 8, 1871." The warrant appears to have been redeemed in 1872.

PLEASED WITH HIS WORK.

Textile Workers Re-elect Bernard Storch Their President.

The Textile Workers' union, which claims to have every eligible person in the city enrolled in its membership, is pleased with the manner in which the affairs of the union were conducted during the administration of Bernard Storch, as president, for he was unanimously chosen to succeed himself at the annual election last Friday night. The meeting was one of the best in attendance and interest of the past six months, but aside from the election there was little business transacted because of lack of time. The new roster is as follows: Bernard Storch, president; Martin Grotrian, vice president; Enos Olson, financial secretary; Frank Borgman, corresponding secretary; Harry W. LAID BEFORE THE SHOPMEN.

Committee Explains Charitable Movement to Pennsy Men.

The meetings at the Pennsylvania machine shop, the round house and the east shops at noon today for the purpose of laying before the employes a proposition to organize with a view of making a merry Christmas for those of their associates who cannot afford the expense, were well attended and the proposition was received with favor. H. Willard Smith, chairman of the general committee, had charge of the meeting at the laying off table in the machine shop; J. H. Bryant presided at the round house meeting and A. D. Boan presided at the east car shop meeting. These gentlemen will meet with the entire committee, the personnel of which was published in The Sentinel Saturday, and report how the proposition was received by the men in the shops. At this meeting the proposition to appoint two additional committeemen for each department, whose duties shall be to canvass the field for worthy subjects upon which to bestow the charity of the organization, will be considered. It is realized that some unfortunates, through feelings of pride, will not report their needs and it is to reach these that the extra committeemen are needed. Pennsylvania shopmen are noted for their brotherly feelings and no charitable move affecting one of their number was ever turned down when started in the shops.

SMASHED MOVING VAN.

But the Four Occupants Escaped With Slight Wounds.

While running at the usual speed at 7:30 o'clock last evening, Pennsylvania train, No. 19, westbound, struck and demolished a large auto moving van in which there were four men. The vehicle was carried or thrown many feet, with the occupants, and completely demolished, but none but the driver, whose name could not be learned, was injured. His wounds consisted of bruises and cuts on his face, arms and legs. He was taken to his home in Chicago. The accident happened on Louck's crossing, two miles west of Valparaiso, which is considered a safe crossing, because of the facilities for a view of the tracks in both directions for a considerable distance.

TO HELP THE UNFORTUNATES.

Wayne Knitting Mills Employes Do a Handsome Deed.

The employes of the Wayne Knitting mills, who were never known to turn down a worthy appeal for charity, distinguished themselves last week by making the largest contribution for charitable purposes ever made in a similar cause by people in their circumstances in Fort Wayne. The sum totalled $942.80, of which $227.65 will be given to local charitable movements. Of the remainder $437.40 goes to the Belgians and the balance to the other nations engaged in war. The money collected for the Belgians will be used in purchasing flour and lard for the people of that country and the other money for people across the sea will be turned over to the American Red Cross society. The Thieme Brothers Silk mills may take similar action this week.

FIFTEEN YEARS IN OFFICE.

B. F. Sarver Starts Sixteenth Year as Boiler Foreman.

Fifteen years ago today B. Frank Sarver, general foreman of the boiler department of the Pennsylvania shops, came here to assume the duties of that office. Today he was the recipient of congratulations from his associates at the shops and his friends elsewhere who happened to know of the anniversary. Mr. Sarver, besides being prominent in shop circles, is well and favorably known in the city generally. He served the Seventh ward as councilman one term, during which he was on some of the leading committees and took prominent part in matters pertaining to the advancement of the city's interests generally. He is also interested in some fraternal societies, included being the Scottish Rite and the Shrine. Mr. Sarver has served the Pennsylvania many years. In fact, he never had any other employer. He entered the company's shops at Allegheny when a young fellow as a boiler apprentice and later worked there at that trade. Several years prior to coming to this city to take his present position, Mr. Sarver was sent to Crestline as foreman of the company's shops and he remained there until he was called to Fort Wayne.

WILL LIVE IN FLORIDA.

Charles J. Shoup Sends Resignation to Foreman Hogan.

Charles J. Shoup, who with his wife, son and two daughters, went to Delray, Fla., a month ago, has sent his resignation as machinist in the Pennsylvania shops to General Foreman H. T. Hogan. Mr. Shoup's health had been poor for several months and he went south on that account. He had been there previously and purchased a five-acre tract of land, a town lot at Delray and interest in other real estate, which have turned out to be very good investments. He will reside on the little farm, raising fruit and vegetables for the markets. Mr. Shoup worked in the Pennsylvania shops seven or eight years and is quite well known and popular with the men in that big plant. He is also well known in lodge circles, being a member of several lodges, including Our Home lodge, I. O. O. F.

GENERAL OPTIMISM IN COUNTRY.

R. J. Fisher Finds Hopeful Sentiment But Little Business.

"No material change in the business situation, but a very optimistic sentiment among the managers of the railways and the industries of the country," is the way R. J. Fisher expressed his views of the business condition of the country this morning. Mr. Fisher has just returned from St. Louis, Peoria and Chicago, where last week he called upon manufacturers and railroad managers, most of whom are patrons of the Bass Foundry and Machine works. The steel trade is the business barometer of a vast section of the country, including the middle west states, and Mr. Fisher sees signs of improvement in the near future.

Nordstrum, president of the section, is having notices of the coming of Mr. Kimball sent to the membership.

PFLEGER WAS BURIED TODAY.

He was district president of the International Association of Machinists and was one of the best known labor leaders in Indiana. He was in Fort Wayne a number of times, his last visit here being during the meeting of the state federation and the district meeting of the machinists. Clayton H. Johnson, of this city, is first vice-president of the district.

CONSCIOUS STRICKEN PREACHER.

The passenger department of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis road was surprised by the receipt of a letter enclosing a draft for $6.31 from a clergyman. He stated that four years ago he failed to pay fare for his six-year-old son and the amount sent in the letter included the half-fare he should have paid and 6 per cent. interest up to date.

ENGINE BROKE DOWN.

Eastbound Wabash passenger train No. 38 came in the city today three hours and thirty minutes behind schedule. The delay was caused by an engine failure on one of the western divisions, which made another engine necessary.

A stock train running between Fort Wayne and Reading, Mich., is a temporary necessity on the Lake Shore on account of the heavy movement of live stock from that part of Michigan to the eastern markets. It is brought down to Waterloo and turned over to the Lake Shore road. It is not known how long this train will be in service. Conductor C. R. Lewis and Engineer E. H. Meeks have charge of it.

No. 469, Painters and Decorators, has added a burial fund to the other benefits it offers members or their heirs. It has been decided to assess each member of the union $1 at the death of a member and the fund thus raised will be given to the family for funeral expenses. This provision does not interfere with the death benefit of the national organization, which ranges from $50 to $300 according to the number of years the deceased member had been in the union. No. 469 also pays a sick benefit of $3 $6 per week.

IN THE CHURCHES

Twentieth Year of Rev. J. H. Bosch's Pastorate to Be Observed.

The general committee of which Jacob Bill is chairman, for the arrangements for the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. John H. Bosch, pastor of the St. John Reformed church, has nearly completed its work for this affair, which will be observed on Sunday, January 10, 1915.

The committee has planned three services for the day, one in the morning at which two pastors of the Zion's classes of the Reformed church will speak, one in the afternoon and one in the evening, following the banquet which will be served at 5:30 o'clock. All the pastors of the classes to which Rev. J. H. Bosch belongs have been invited to attend the affair.

The finance committee gave its report at a meeting held Sunday morning, following the morning service, which showed that sufficient funds had been raised to defray all the expenses that will be connected with the celebration. The ladies of the church have pledged themselves to donate almost all the baked goods for the banquet.

The various committee chairmen and officers for this celebration are: President, Jacob Bill; secretary, Mrs. John Rohlman; treasurer, Mrs. Heck; decorating committee, Miss Henschen; entertainment committee, Pauline Werkman; reception committee, Herbert Klebe; banquet committee, Mrs. Emma Altekruse; publicity, Jacob Bill.

An entertainment by the young people will be given following the banquet in the evening, in which the choir of the church will take an active part. A three act playlet will be given, besides recitations and special music.

The young men of the church will also be prominent in the serving of the banquet. F. Fruechte was appointed chairman of the committee of waiters with the instructions that the waiters should all be young men.

ADMINISTERS CONFIRMATION.

Bishop John Hazen White Makes Annual Visitation at Trinity Parish.

John Hazen White, bishop of the Michigan City diocese of the Episcopal church, made his annual visitation at the Trinity Episcopal church Sunday and in the evening administered confirmation to a large class. The feature of the evening's service was the music rendered by the boys' choir.

The choir, augmented by another choir under the direction of F. G. Church, furnished the chorus work and rendered "Gloria" from Mozart's "Twelfth Mass." Frank E. Stonder rendered the selection, "The People That Sit in Darkness," in his characteristic manner which was well received by the audience which completely filled the large auditorium of the church.

Bishop White told the class to whom he administered confirmation about the proper Christian life and lifted up his voice in prayer asking that all might remain on the straight and narrow path. Rev. E. W. Averill, pastor of the church, assisted in the confirmation.

Lyon were being printed to be distributed in the homes of Fort Wayne. If the tabernacle is completed by December 23 a meeting will be held there. However, if it is not completed this union mass meetings will be held in one of the churches.

RECEIVE CAR LOAD OF CINDERS.

Building of Tabernacle is Begun in Earnest on West Main Street.

A car load of cinders, via the traction company, was received Monday morning for the filling up of the lot at the corner of Ewing and Main streets, where the tabernacle for the Lyon evangelistic campaign will be erected. After the entire lot has been covered with the cinders and leveled off, six inches of shavings will be put over the top of this.

Several large loads of lumber were hauled to the grounds Monday morning and it is thought by those in charge that work will be begun in earnest Tuesday morning. Those in charge are trying hard to have the building completed by December 23. The fences around the lot have been torn down and the bill boards were removed Monday afternoon, so that nothing will hinder in getting started Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary C. Ewing, owner of the site, has very kindly donated its use for the evangelistic campaign and her generosity is greatly appreciated by the committees in charge of the work.

"ADORN YOUR HOME BEFORE SELF," SAYS MRS. JACK GUDAHY.

Mrs. "Jack" Cudahy and her grandfather's clock.

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 11.—"Household jewels are as necessary for proper setting to a woman as personal jewels. The woman who wears them in a house which lacks beauty makes a foolish mistake. That's the chief reason why I wanted a grandfather's clock for a birthday present instead of any more personal jewels."

This is the theory of Mrs. "Jack" Cudahy, of this city, whose husband presented her with a $500 clock for a birthday present in response to her special request. The clock is of solid mahogany of gothic style, to correspond with the rest of the furniture in the drawing room, where it has a place of honor.

"I've more jewels than I can wear in a life time," Mrs. Cudahy said, "so I have determined that my house shall be another great jewel to serve as a setting for my personal adornments."

ASKED FOR BIG REWARD.

Hungarian Wants Enough Kronens to Reach from Ear to Ear.

New York, Dec. 14.—Count Karolyi, according to the Vossische Zeitung, returning to his castle in Hungary, met one of his old servants who had just been sent back wounded from the war.

"My good man, I heard you fought so valiantly at the front," said the count. "I would like to give you some reward. What shall it be?"

The old servant replied:

"Well, if you insist upon it, sir, just give me enough kronen coins to reach from one ear to the other."

"That seems to be a very little reward," replied the count, smiling at the odd request.

"It's enough for me, sir," answered the servant modestly.

As the count was beginning to comply with the strange request he noticed that the servant had only one ear, and remarked upon the fact.

"Yes, sir. I left the other ear on the battlefield at Shabatz," answered the modest man.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Asserting that for the first time since its organization by Benjamin Franklin, the postoffice department is on a self-sustaining basis, Postmaster General Burleson submitted to President Wilson today his annual report. It records enormous growth in the department's business because of the parcels post and postal savings bank divisions and recommends a program of postal legislation to increase the scope of the department's activities.

Mr. Burleson features his report with an estimate that a surplus of $3,569,545, the second of his administration will be shown for the fiscal year of 1914 when all claims and charges have been met. On that showing he bases his declaration that the department "has been securely placed upon a self-sustaining basis."

"It is safe to say," the report adds, "that unless unusual conditions should arise, resulting in abnormal depression of business, there is no danger of recurring deficiencies."

Program Recommended.

The legislative program recommended is as follows, as to its most important features:

Early action toward government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines and immediate taking over of these systems in Hawaii, Alaska and Porto Rico. Transfer of the Alaska cable from war to postoffice department control.

Substitution of contract "star route" system for salaried rural carrier service to eliminate $40,000,000 annual loss on rural delivery.

Postoffice co-operation with state governments in road building where improvements insure better postal service.

Raising maximum balance acceptable at postal banks from $500 to $2,000, interest payments to be limited to $1,000. Removal of monthly deposit limit restriction.

Aerial mail service, where topography warrants, and extension of motor truck and automobile service in view of recent successful experiments.

Passage by senate of pending bill providing space basis of compensation for railroads on mail carried instead of weight basis.

Pending change in rural delivery system, computation of carriers' salaries on basis of services performed, dependent on bulk of mail carried, to stimulate business.

Readjustment of postmasters' salaries on basis of changes in business handled due to parcel post development.

Raising of second-class rates on publications other than newspapers issued once a week from one to two cents a pound.

The Parcel Post.

Of the parcel post during the last year the report says:

"Rapid growth of the parcel post vastly increased postal business during the year. The department's field of service has expanded at a phenomenal rate; it is still expanding. Notwithstanding the decreases of parcel post rates authorized January 1, 1914, economies of administration have kept expenses within the revenues."

Of the department's financial condition the report says:

"The postal revenues for 1914 amounted to $287,034,865.67, an increase over the preceding year of slightly less than 8 per cent., as compared with a corresponding increase of slightly more than 8 per cent. for 1913. The audited expenditures for the year amounted to $283,543,769.16, and the adjusted losses due to fire, burglary, etc., to $14,338.48. The excess of audited revenues over audited expenses and losses is, therefore $4,370,463.05.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

Out of Them "Uncle Bob" Knox Has Just Found Seventh Bride.

Tilton, Ga., Dec. 14.—It has taken "Uncle Bob" Knox just a little over a month to find his seventh bride. Thanks to the story published throughout the country a few weeks ago, this ninety-with "matrimonial intentions," following the newspaper story that his sixth wife had been divorced and that he was year-old farmer is to be married the latter part of this month to Miss Jennie DeWitt, aged fifty-four, of Lima, O., a lady he has never seen.

Just 297 women wrote to "Uncle Bob" looking for another. From the stacks of photographs that or Miss DeWitt was singled out, letters were exchanged, and now she is preparing to come to Georgia.

The requirements "Uncle Bob" set forth in the announcement of his matrimonial "intentions" were that the lady must be a good looker, a good cook and must not wear peek-a-boo waists.

"Uncle Bob" was first married at twenty-four. Mrs. Knox No. 1 and Mrs. Knox No. 2 died; Mrs. Knox No. 3 was divorced; No. 4 and No. 5 died, and No. 6, whom "Uncle Bob" married when he was eighty-five years old, was divroced a few months ago.

This time, "Uncle Bob" says, he hopes to "die in harness."

New Orders Modify Foot and Mouth Disease Quarantine.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—Since the publication of various orders modifying the federal quarantines declared on account of the foot and mouth disease, the authorities here have received numerous inquiries with regard to the exact meaning of the regulations now in force.

The quarantines which were declared at the beginning of the outbreak prohibited the shipment of cattle, sheep, other ruminants and swine into the quarantined area for any purpose save that of immediate slaughter, and prohibited absolutely the shipment of such stock out of the quarantined area. Since then, the quarantines in parts of some states, notable Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Iowa and Wisconsin, have been modified so that they now permit the shipment of live stock into these areas for all purposes, and the shipment of live stock out of immediate slaughter, at places where the federal meat inspection service is maintained.

Certain counties, however, have been exempted in each of these states from the privileges granted by the modified quarantine. Into these counties no stock can be shipped for feeding purposes, and no stock can be shipped out except after a preliminary inspection and certification by the federal authorities. In the areas under modified quarantine, various restrictions governing the shipment of carcasses, hides, hay, straw, etc., have also been removed.

It is probable that further modifications of the quarantines will be made in the near future. In these cases it is expected that the same procedure will be followed, and the counties into which feeding stock cannot be shipped, and in which inspection is demanded before export shipments are made, will be specifically named in each order.

WITTY DIXIE GIRL A PRIZE WINNER

Richmond, Va., Dec. 14.—Miss Nell R. Lee Murphy, once referred to by General Bennett H. Young, at a confederate reunion, as the "wittiest girl in Dixie," has waxed amusing again and succeeded in winning a prize offered by the Evening Journal of Richmond for the best answer to the question, "Should a man in a business elevator remove his hat when there are ladies present?"

Thousands of answers were received, and included among them were examples of all types of personality and varieties of essay writing genius. Some of the correspondents went into the history of the hat and the influence of rheumatism on modern manners. Many became indignant and attacked every man who ever had the temerity to even carry a hat into a building where helpless women were quaking at the thought of continued impoliteness. Miss Murphy's answer is brief and to the point, and seems to sum up the hat-woman-elevator situation rather completely. It reads as follows:

"Voteless sister, when in this land of chivalry, bounded on the north by Maryland and the Chesapeake bay, it becomes necessary to use a derrick to compel mere man to lift the lid from its perch when women are present in elevators, it behooves us to have an unwritten law on the matter, wherefore let us take the matter in our own hands and decide that man who does not lift his hat in an elevator when women are present is either bald, the secret wearer of a toupe, or, like the Venus de Milo, armless. In this way the omnipresent vanity of man will assert itself, and the vexed problem will be settled for all times to our complete satisfaction, and Virginia need never blush for her sons. AH, MEN."

Mrs. McClain's Experience With Croup.

"When my boy, Ray, was small he was subject to croup, and I was always alarmed at such times. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy proved far better than any other for this trouble. It always relieved him quickly. I am never without it in the house for I know it is a positive cure for croup," writes Mrs. W. R. McClain, Blatrsville, Pa. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

This change was effected this morning.

Unusual high praise was expressed of a lecture by Mrs. Frances Haberly Robertson on Friday in Columbia City by the Post of that place. The Post says: "Mrs. Frances Haberly Robertson, of Fort Wayne, delivered a splendid lecture Friday evening in the assembly room of the high school building on 'The Making of a Picture,' and all those who heard her were both entertained and enlightened by her able and comprehensive discussion of the subject."

Miss Minette Baum has given up her plan to use her home as a home for unfortunate girls and has advertised it for rent. Miss Florence Johnston, of 2135 Broadway, was hostess for the members of the Loyal Daughters' class on Saturday at a kindergarten party. After enjoying a number of games and a romp suitable for kindergarten age "children," Mrs. Johnston invited the company to the diningroom where she had ready to serve many "goodies," including candy canes that a live Santa Claus presented. The guests for all this fun were Mrs. Buckley, wife of the minister of the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ; Erma Lakey, Cecil Dygert, Edith Hickman, Edith Sites, Gertrude Shuler, Matilda Blumbaugh, Mary Knight, Marie Krantchfelder, Leona Hobbs, Grace Diffenderfer, Hazel Diffenderfer, Velma Keyser, Mary Johnninga, Lela Jenkins, Eva Chambers, Ruby Thorpe, Martha Richl, Bessie Jackson, Eva Payne, Vera Ake, Lona Walker, Bessie Kaufman, Anna Seeler, Sylvia Trevey, Opal Walker and Dorothy Buckley.

McCulloch School P.-T. Club.

The parent-teacher club of the McCulloch school will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. A program of songs and folk dances by the children will be given and mothers and others of the district interested are cordially invited to attend.

SEVEN OF FORT WAYNE'S "LITTLE WORKERS" PREPARING TO FILL STOCKINGS FOR THE POOR CHILDREN.

The girls as they stand in the upper row are Esther Stock, Beatrice Mills, Ruth Henderson and Ruth Wagner. Below are Margaret and Elizabeth Sears and Gladys McMaken. They are members of the "Little Workers" and are preparing Christmas stockings for the poor children of Fort Wayne. Other members of the club who were not able to attend the meeting at which this photograph was taken are Susanne Meyer, Frances Wagner, Charlotte Mahurin and Lavon and Paulina Patterson.

AT THE TEMPLE.

Catchy music, the kind that sets your feet unconsciously to beating time, sung by a dashing bunch of principals with a delightfully pretty and gingery chorus furnishing the settings for some of the principal song members, the Live Wire Girls have taken Fort Wayne by storm. Ed Armstrong and Charles Byrne are the principal comedians and they certainly earn the right to that title, as they are as funny as a village cut-up thinks he is. Miss Jean Jarvis, the original model for the painting, September Morn, has a dancing specialty and a song, "One Idea About the Girls," in which she leads the beauty chorus through the aisles. This week there will be three matinees for the women on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. This addition of Wednesday to the list is made necessary by reason of a mid-week change of bill. On Thursday the Soln Kiss will open a week-end run at the Temple.

Next Thursday is "Santa Claus Potato Loaf Day." HAFFNER'S Star Bakery.

AT THE EMPRESS.

The new bill at the Empress theater is already an assured success. It has a great amount of local interest owing to the appearance on the bill of Charles Terris, one of the favorites in Our Own Stock company who appears as "Father Anthony" in "The Preacher and the Man," a sketch which he wrote himself. This sketch has kindly humor and sentiment and is not a preachy, religious play, but a touching human document. Mr. Terris in this drama reaches great heights as an actor and holds every one entranced.

The Three Keltons, with their novel musical offering which they call, "From Liszt to Ragtime," have an interesting, entertaining act that has made a big hit with every one who has heard it. Miss Gladys Kelton, aged eighteen years, is one of the big features of this act and in the closing number she plays a full set of drummer's traps, which include fifty different instruments.

"The Drug Terror" at the Lyric Tonight.

"The Master Key" and King Baggott.

With the fourth installment of that most remarkable of all serials, "The Master Key," and that incomparable screen artist, King Baggott, as stellar attractions, the Orpheum list of good things announced for today gives us a program that for excellence has seldom been equalled. Both of the subjects announced are feature plays of the first water, that were primarily intended to be run as separate features at all other theaters outside of the Orpheum, but the Orpheum presents the two on the single list, giving us four reels of unusual entertainment.

Of course, by this time "The Master Key" is too well known to need very much commentary. Thousands of people are following the threads of this absorbing plot with keen interest.

"The Mill Stream," with King Baggott, proves to be the other feature play. Critics in all the motion picture journals and in metropolitan newspapers throughout the east pronounce this Baggott's greatest play, but were we to discount the laudation of skeptics, that fact that Baggott and his brilliant art are present in the picture, is an assurance that it is above reproach.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

Mrs. Thomas Whiffen in "Hearts and Flowers."

Mrs. Thomas Whiffen, "the grand old lady of the stage," the actress who has been enshrined in the hearts of the American theater-going public for forty-five years, comes to the Jefferson today, playing the leading role in a touching drama of mother love. During her long period of active service behind the footlights, Mrs. Whiffen has achieved a name for herself and a fame that has been equalled by few artists, with the possible exception of Bernhardt and Duse, and when she announced at the first of this season that this would be her last appearance on the stage, the news came as a distinct regret to numberless admirers.

"Hearts and Flowers" is the story of a mother. A mother who knows all the heartaches; undergoes all that poignant anguish occasioned by the wayward actions of an unthinking son. It is a story beautifully told, one that will storm the citadel of the heart and bring forth a response that manifests itself in tears of sympathetic understanding and smiles understanding joy. Mrs. Whiffen is supported by a superb cast.

AT THE LYRIC.

Lubin Masterpiece, The Drug Terror, Coming for Three Days, Starting Today.

The Lyric theater will present for the first three days of this week starting today, one of the biggest motion picture attractions in the United States entiled "The Drug Terror," or the evils of cocaine, a six reel film that teaches a powerful lesson. It is a feature film never before shown in Fort Wayne and it should make a deep and lasting impression on all who see it. This picture ran in conjunction with Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt Sr.'s, national crusade. When a person of Mrs. Vanderbilt's standing and broad interest in humanity allows her name to be used on the screen it emphasizes the importance of the moving picture business.

TAG DAY INCREASES HOPE HOSPITAL FUND

Approximately $1,304 was added to the Hope hospital fund Saturday as a result of tag day, which was not, however, up to last year's record when $1,480 was realized.

The girls and nurses did splendid work selling tags. The young misses were on the streets early with their chaperons, being relieved in the evening by the nurses of the hospital who stayed out until a late hour. They, too, were properly chaperoned. Very few pedestrians who ventured out Saturday were missed, taggers being stationed at all the principal street crossings.

THE SENTINEL'S LIVE SPORTS CRISP RELIABLE

Concordia Player Will Be on Clarke's Team Next Season.

(By David J. Davis).

Pittsburg, Dec. 14.—That he hadn't decided upon those players who will be turned adrift and that it was possible he wouldn't make his decisions while he was in Pittsburg, was the statement given out by Manager Fred Clarke, of the Pirates. Fred wants to feel his way carefully; he expects he will be called upon to build up an entire new team, and this being the case, he wants to take his time about doing so.

Admitting that several players are to go to the Columbus club in the American association, the manager intimated that it might be that he will select those players between now and Monday. Asked concerning the rumor that Catcher George Gibson would go to the Senators as manager, Clarke said:

"That rumor is untrue; Gibby will remain in Pittsburg as long as I am connected with the club. He is still a great catcher and I figure that he is going to help us considerably next season."

That the Boston aNtionals had made an effort to secure Scoops Carey was admitted by the manager, who added that the negotiations had not proceeded beyond the inquiry stage, his remarks permitting of the inference that the speedy left fielder was not on the market at any price.

"I do not know that Konetchy has jumped to the Feds," said the Corsair chief, when this subject was broached. "Ed told me last October than he hadn't leaped—in fact, he passed me his word of honor—and until he does tell me that he has taken the jump I will refuse to believe it. Of course, should it develop that the stories printed concerning him are true, we will fight to retain him."

According to Clarke it isn't an assured fact that Wagner will be played at first base, although he wouldn't say that such an arrangement wouldn't be made. "Honus will be on the job next season again," he remarked, "and he can fill any old position on the team. So why should I worry about the greatest of them all."

"Clarke believes that Vance, the new pitcher, who will report in the spring, is a good one. "I have lots concerning this youngster," he said, "and expect to find in him a better than ordinary performer."

When it was remarked that Jack Coffey might beat Gerber out for the shortfield position, Manager Fred said: "I hardly think so; Gerber looks pretty good to me and it will take some hustling on the part of the other fellows to keep him out of the lineup."

As is the scribes' annual custom, efforts were made to have Clarke discuss his team's probable chances for the coming season.

"Nothing doing," was the reply. "You know we thought pretty well of ourselves along about last May; and you also know what happened to us. This year we will have a lot of youngsters and it may take us some time to build up our team. We want to give all the likely looking ones a chance to show and cannot do this in a day or a week or a month. These boys who look good during the training trip may prove to be burns in championship games, and on this account I am, and ever have been, wary about making claims. Some players lift the promissory notes issued in their behalf during the training trip, and there are some who never lift them.

"We appear to have a lot of promising material and when, on May 1, we are obliged to cut down our roster to twenty-one men, we will probably know what we have to expect. In 1901 and for one or two years following we had less than twenty players on our list and we had some tetam at that. Maybe history will repeat itself as far as we are concerned in 1915."

Asked whether he would at once proceed to lop off the heads of those already doomed, Clarke said he wouldn't. "There's no rush," he explained, "and we may make mistakes. For that reason I will take all the time possible before getting down to work."

JOHN FRANKLIN BAKER WILL NOT JUMP TO FEDERAL LEAGUE.

Trappe, Md., Dec. 14.—Franklin Baker, third baseman of the Athletics, and one player whom Connie Mack declares will not be either traded or sold, declared at his home here that he was with the American league champions hook, bait and sinker.

The slugger in a letter to a friend also gave the lie to the statement that he was dickering with the outlaws or had ever asked Gilmore's band for terms prior to taking the hurdle out of organized baseball.

"You can put it right down now," said J. Franklin, "that I have never given the Federals a single thought. I've been hunting and fishing here in Talbot county without so much as one solitary moment given to thinking about baseball.

"I don't intend to jump either, as I am perfectly satisfied with my contract with the Athletics. Anybody who says that there is the least feeling between Connie Mack and myself is all wrong. There is not a word of truth in it, any more than to these wild stories that I am going to fly to the Feds.

"No Federals for mine."

HAS CALLED A MEETING.

A meeting has been called for Wednesday night of this week at St. Patrick's lyceum for the purpose of organizing a junior basketball league of Fort Wayne players. There are a number of good second teams and it is likely that a good organization can be formed.

TURNERS TAKE ON ZANESVILLE CLUB

Book Tough Proposition for Start of the Regular Season.

In booking the Zanesville basketball club for the opening game at the West Superior street gym on Tuesday night, the Active Turners are taking on a tough proposition and will be able to demonstrate whether or not their attack and defense are stronger than they were last season.

Zanesville has exactly the same team and there is little likelihood that the players have gone back any and the men have always shown good physical condition in their encounters here and it is fair to presume that the outfit is every bit as good as when it closed last season.

It has been hard to get the material at the Turner gym and the management has been forced to rely on the development of the men who started at the game three or four years ago. They believe they can play better basketball this season and will try Tuesday night to demonstrate they are right.

St. Mary's Athletic club has the Ellerman Cadets of Lima strung up for the opening engagement on Wednesday night at Concordia college gym. Clem Eckrick and Mike Hoffman are the only veterans the Saints will put on the floor this season and the second string exponents, who have been in a stage of development for the last few years will be relied upon to fill in the club.

These men are App, Becker and Ehrman for forward duty, and Lauer and E. Hoffman for center. Each of them will be given a tryout before the regulars are finally picked. Mike Hoffman is to be the captain of the club and C. J. Sterling will look after the business end of the game.

Concordia experienced no trouble beating Ashland college on Saturday night and in the engagement displayed better basketball than in the former encounters. Line-up and score:

(By Hugh S. Fullerton).

Jimmy Ryan is to coach the University of Indiana baseball team, and if there is any material down there, the western conference colleges would better watch the Hoosiers in the spring.

Ryan was trained in the smartest baseball school ever known, and, with few exceptions, he knew more baseball and played it better than any man that ever has played the game. Even among such [illegible] Kelley, Tommy Burns, Ed Williamson, Fred Pfeffer and Walter Wilmot, Ryan was recognized as one of their peers, and in many ways he was smarter than any of them.

Ryan has one remarkable record. He played on the Chicago club for ten years without a contract of any sort and fulfilled every verbal agreement. One season he came home from a trip, and Jim drew his check. He looked at it curiously, tossed it over to Jim Hart, the president, and remarked: "How's that, Jim; isn't it too much?" "No," remarked Hart. "I raised you $250 this year."

It was May at that time and Ryan hadn't even inquired.

There never has been in baseball, not even excepting Tommy McCarthy, any outfielder who could throw as quickly and as accurately as could Ryan.

He used to throw out from eight to twelve runners a year at first base on clean sharp hits to right field. No slow runner could beat his throws, and no one dared lead going to first. Schulte threw out Bill Donovan at first during the world's series with Detroit and the Cubs. Ryan used to do it from center field!

One of the funniest things ever seen on a ball field resulted from Ryan's habit of shooting to first. "Black Bill" Clark hit a sharp line drive to right. He was very slow and Ryan leaped forward, grabbed the ball on the first bounce and flashed it like a rifle shot to first base. It arrived there twelve feet ahead of the runner. But Anson was standing on the bag, his back to right field and the ball struck him squarely in the back and dropped dead. Anson threatened to fine Ryan, and accused him of trying to show him up.

One day Ryan and Charlie Kuhn, the groundkeeper, worked on a piece of turf inside the infield at the west side grounds. They rolled and pounded, poured on water and rolled and pounded some more until a patch of turf two feet wide and perhaps six long was as smooth and springy as rubber. Ryan explained that was his spot to hit with the ball to make it bound perfectly to the catcher. Two days later he made a shot to the plate, the ball went off that spot as if from a billiard cushion squarely into the catcher's hands and low and gave Chicago a hair-line decision and the game.

You may think Jim is old, but three years ago in Chicago he made a throw from left field to the plate and nailed a runner by several feet. He ought to be able to teach those Indiana boys a whole lot if they will listen.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

Rev. W. R. Wones, Widely Known M. E. Church Divine, Passes Away at Warsaw Home.

Warsaw, Ind., Dec. 14.—Rev. W. R. Wones, one of the most widely known ministers in the North Indiana Methodist Episcopal conference, former pastor of Trinity M. E. church in Fort Wayne and one of this city's most esteemed and respected citizens, is dead at his home here following an illness of two and one-half years, during which he was a constant sufferer from paralysis.

Mr. Wones was a superannuated minister, and retired from active service about three years ago last spring. His last charge was at Pierceton and after finishing his work at that place he retired from active service and came to this city to live. He was a member of the M. E. conference and was highly respected in the circles of church.

Among the places where he had served as pastor are: Bourbon, New Paris, Wolcottville, Garrett, Trinity church, Fort Wayne, Logansport, Nappanee, Raysville, Trenton, Monroeville and Pierceton.

Mr. Wones was 69 years of age. He was a soldier in the civil war and served in Company I of the Eighth Ohio cavalry. He was alert, strong, vigorous and a fine scholar.

He is survived by a wife and five children: Mrs. Marvin Coppes, of Nappanee; Mrs. Eva Keif, of Iowa Falls, Iowa; Miss Marie Wones, a teacher at Mishawaka, and Carolyn and Roselyn Wones, both living at home. He has two brothers living in Ohio and a sister living in Wyoming.

REV. W. R. WONES,
Methodist Episcopal Minister, Widely Known in Northern Indiana, Dies in Warsaw.

SLIGHT HOPE FOR RECOVERY.

Warren, Ind., Dec. 14.—The condition of Miss O. A. Johnston, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glessner Johnston, of Rockcreek township, who was burned by a kerosene explosion in her chiropractic offices here, is slightly encouraging. The doctors at first expressed the opinion that she could not live longer than twelve hours, but thirty-six hours have passed since the accident and in several respects her condition is improved, although she still suffers considerably. The doctors say that the burns may not be so deep as was at first thought in which case she has a fair chance for recovery.

YOUNG HUNTER SHOOTS SELF.

Warsaw, Ind., Dec. 14.—Lewis Kleinfelter, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kleinfelter of Etna Green, was painfully injured while out hunting. Young Kleinfelter shot himself in the left foot with a target rifle, the ball completely penetrating the member. He was carrying the rifle in his arm, with the barrel pointing downward, when it was accidentally discharged.

BARN IS DESTROYED.

Huntington, Ind., Dec. 14.—Fire starting in fodder that had been made by "topping" corn, destroyed a barn belonging to Thomas E. Powell, of Warren township, county commissioner, Saturday. Mr. Powell was called from a session of the board and informed over the telephone that his barn was burning. He left at once and arrived at his home as the fire was just finishing its destruction. With the barn the fire destroyed about ten tons of straw, five tons of hay, 800 bushels of corn and fifty bushels of oats.

LAD KILLED BY RAW PORK.

Wabash, Ind., Dec. 14.—Thomas Kissenger, 16, is dead at his home, in the northern part of Wabash county, and his mother, two brothers and two sisters, including a six-months-old baby, are seriously ill as the result of eating raw pork. The Kissengers did their winter butchering early this month. The members of the family now sick ate a quantity of uncooked sausage at that time. Later Thomas Kissenger became sick and was taken to a hospital. Last night he died, and today a post-mortem examination revealed the cause of death.

DID NOT KNOW HE WAS SHOT.

Hartford City, Ind., Dec. 14.—After going a week without knowing he had been shot, Robert Marsh, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marsh, of West Chestnut street, underwent a very painful operation when a BB. shot was removed from underneath his upper lip. The shot was embedded in the flesh at the base of the child's nose. A week ago Saturday Robert, in the act of "breaking" his gun, by placing the butt on the ground, hit himself in the mouth with the muzzle. The boy's lip hurt him severely and bled freely, but at that time it was supposed that it was merely bruised.

NOBLE PIONEER ILL.

Kendallville, Ind., Dec. 14.—Martin Carrick, age 90, Noble county's oldest resident, is lying at the point of death at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry DeBellious, in Auburn. Members of the family have been summoned, for there is no hope for his recovery. Mrs. John Shultz, of this city, a daughter, left for Auburn. Mr. Carrick was widely known in this section of the state. He has been a resident of Noble county since 1854. Should he live, he would be 100 years of age on March 15, 1915.

USED HICKSITE CEREMONY.

PLYMOUTH BOY KILLED.

Plymouth, Dec. 14.—Floyd Zumbaugh, aged nineteen, was fatally shot by the accidental discharge of his own gun while engaged in rabbit hunting.

Coughs and colds usually grow worse at nightfall. Keep a bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND at hand. Use it freely—there is nothing in it that can possibly harm you. But it clears the throat of phlegm and mucus, stops the coughing and tickling, and heals the raw inflamed surfaces.

GEO. D. COBBS, Many, La., says: "My wife was troubled with a terrible cough, and we could get nothing to relieve her until I ask Dr. Self of Hornbeck, who recommended FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR so strongly that I purchased a 50c bottle. Before the contents of this bottle were used, the cough had entirely disappeared and her health was completely restored."

PHIL DESORMEAU, Schaffer, Mich., writes: "Last winter I could not sleep at night on account of a bad cough. It did not bother me during the day, but started up at bedtime and kept me from sleeping. I was very weak and in bad shape. I started using FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR and was greatly pleased to find that the cough left me entirely, my appetite improved, and I slept soundly at night."

Good druggists are glad to sell FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND because it always satisfies the customer and contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes.

GOES TO SEEK MISSING WIFE.

American Bears Personal Letter From President to Kaiser.

Boston, Dec. 14.—Bearing a personal letter from President Wilson to Emperor William to aid in his search for his wife, lost in Germany since the outbreak of the war, Edward E. Muecke, of San Francisco, United States vice consul at Iquique, Chile, sailed for Europe yesterday on the steamer Canopic. Muecke fears his wife is ill and penniless. She went to Germany over a year ago for her health and when the war broke out her letters, which Muecke had before received regularly, ceased.

"At that time doctors had advised her to go to a hospital and I believe she is ill in some institution," he said. "I wrote the state department of Germany but received no reply. Then I wound up my affairs in Chile and hurried to Washington, where the officials gave me special credentials for use in Germany."

MARIAN COLE FISHER

A National Authority on the Subject of PURE FOODS and the ART OF COOKING.

In a recent interview on baking powder stated as follows:

"I find many, in fact, very many, women woefully uninformed on the subject of baking powder. Evidently the housewife does not appreciate the value of baking powder in her kitchen and in her baking, or she would have informed herself. This is a subject that is quite important.

"A great many of the housewives today have followed their mothers or grandmothers in the use of baking powder, which in some instances is a mistake. There has been just as much improvement in baking powder as in other commodities. I am glad to find that baking powder has kept up with the times.

Some housewives have been led to believe that the cream of tartar powders are the best goods to use. This is a mistake, resulting no doubt from the constant efforts of the Twenty Million Dollar Baking Powder Trust to create a prejudice against all goods save their own. Their goods should be least desirable on account of the large quantities of Rochelle Salts remaining in the food.

The other extreme is the cheap and "Big Can" baking powders, which sell all the way from ten cents a pound to a cent an ounce. These are even less desirable than the high-priced goods. I can say nothing in their favor. They are never economical; frequently leaving the baking bleached and acid; sometimes yellow and alkaline, and often unpalatable. They are not dependable and represent false economy at any price.

The most simple way for the housewife to class baking powder is by price. The trust goods that retail for 45c or 50c a pound are usually the cream of tartar powders, and are of the old school; and the cheap and "Big Can" kind that sell all the way from 10c a pound up to a cent an ounce should also be avoided.

The last word in baking powder is the happy medium, a combination powder that sells at a moderate price and when properly prepared gives the consumer full value for the money. The result in baking is pure, wholesome food, without any harmful residue. There is no reason why any housewife should pay 45c or 50c per pound. The best baking powder made can be manufactured so as to retail at about ⅓ this price.

On being asked what baking powder she used in her work, Marian Cole Fisher frankly stated that for more than seven years she had used Calumet Baking Powder with the most satisfactory results in every particular.

LOVE SYNDICATE HEAD IS SOUGHT

Numerous Alleged Matrimonial Ventures of Karl von Wagner Unearthed.

New York, Dec. 14.—Believing that they had found a marriage swindling syndicate, the Hoboken police have arrested a young man, who said he was Otto Klee, and sent dispatches to the police of various cities for the arrest of a man known as Karl von Wagner, but who also is said to have married girls under the names of Steiner, Weiller, Kopf, Berger and Otto Edelman.

Two young deluded wives have been found and the Hoboken police said they had records of three others, with an intimation that probably scores of girls had been lured into marriages with the missing man and then deserted after turning over their savings to him.

Miss Anna Kohler, of No. 3000 Michigan avenue, Chicago, was the one whose detective skill led the Hoboken police to believe that a "marriage mill" had been found. She answered a marriage advertisement in a Chicago paper and met Von Wagner. He posed as chief engineer of a construction company, and they were married in Waukegan, Ill., last April. She said he persuaded her to turn over her savings of more than $500 to him and they came to New York. Before he disappeared she learned that he was receiving mail in a Third avenue saloon.

By the mail received in that saloon she learned recently that he was living at No. 521 Bloomfield avenue, Hoboken, with another wife under the name of Otto Edelman. Miss Kohler went there and when unable to see him called on the police. When the police called there Edelman was gone, and he has not been seen since.

He left behind another wife, Miss Rose Stettin, formerly of No. 2041 Pierce avenue, Chicago, whom he married only a month ago. The two women compared notes and made a charge of bigamy against Von Wagner.

The police say they have learned that on September 22 Von Wagner married Miss Anna Scheller in New Canaan, Conn., obtaining $500 from her. The police said they have records of two other similar marriages in the last year, the man obtaining $900 from one girl and $1,000 from another. Miss Stettin said she had given $800 to Von Wagner.

Klee always was seen with Von Wagner, the police said, and in having him held without bail for examination, they said that experts had declared his handwriting to be similar to that of the letters which had been addressed to girls answering matrimonial advertisements. The police said he had been Von Wagner's secretary.

Broadway Seems to Like Her Immensely

Teddy Hudson.

New York, Dec. 14.—She can't sing a whole lot, and she doesn't care much for acting, but Teddy Hudson, cutest of all the little "darlings" in "Papa's Darlings," is getting on beautifully in her profession.

It's her hair that does it. Teddy's hair is as pale as the coat of a French poodle, and when she fluffs it around her face, and about her small, sharp eyes she looks just as cunning as her own pet poodle.

The "poodle fluff" is odd, Broadway likes odd fashions and Teddy and her two-colored curls are the fad of the hour.

Mrs. John Bishop, of Roseville, Ohio, writes: "About a year ago I was troubled with indigestion and had sick headache that lasted for two or three days at a time. I doctored and tried a number of remedies but nothing helped me until during one of those sick spells a friend advised me to take Chamberlain's Tablets. This medicine relieved me in a short time." EAGLE BOARDS SHIP; FIGHTS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 14.—When the Longacar, the British tramp steamship, came into port from Huelva, Spain, her crew told how a brown-feathered eagle, measuring five feet from wing to wing, had come on board in an exhausted condition when 150 miles from the Delaware Capes and had given two of the crew a good fight before it was captured. Boatswain Smith had a cut over his left eye and Seaman Hughes' right hand was scratched and cut.

The eagle was seen astern, and after a three-hour fight it seemed to spurt itself for a final dash and landed on the foremast. Smith went to pick the bird up, when it turned on him. The fight followed.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Wheat developed fresh strength today on account of an unexpected upturn in prices at Liverpool, where supplies were said to be insufficient to meet requirements. It was asserted in addition that North American exports to Italy last week aggregated as much as 3,031,000 bushels. After opening ½c to ⅞c higher, quotations rose still further, especially the December option.

The close was steady at ⅛c to ⅛@⅜c net decline.

Corn ascended with wheat. Country offerings were light and the domestic demand improved. The opening, which was ⅛@¼c up, was followed by other grains.

The close was weak, ¼@¼c to ⅜c net lower.

Firmness spread into the oats market, the strength of other cereals furnishing the impetus. Trading, however, was chiefly among pit speculators.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Dec. 14.—Business on the stock exchange today opened with every outward indication of a restoration of normal conditions. The general rise in prices which marked the resumption of operations last Saturday was continued, although fewer issues were traded in during the first half hour. During that period trading was limited to the Copper group, which rose 1 to 2⅛ points. Reading, Lehigh Valley, Erie and St. Paul also materially extended last Saturday's gains. Atchison and Pennsylvania were among the few prominent issues to show hesitation. The movement pointed to an accumulation of week-end buying orders, together with a further covering of short contracts.

Selling of stocks after the early rise was without effect on the upward tendency, which gained greater force as the session progressed. Total stocks added to their opening gains, the buying of these issues being based, it was believed, on their intrinsic merit and their strong speculative position. The seasoned railway issues also increased their lead. U. S. Steel, Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific were at higher prices at the clearing house.

Transactions in the first hour were 40 per cent. in excess of that period last Saturday. Although realizing for profits was general, it failed to check the further advance. Coppers continued to climb, their movement being attributed to a combination of better trade conditions, relative cheapness and speculative possibilities. In the railway group Pennsylvania covered. At the clearing house United States steel sold at 60⅝, 1¼ under July 30 closing, with Union Pacific at 118¼, an advance of 1¼. Canadian Pacific was 155½ bid, offered at 158. Bonds were firm.

The closing was strong. There were some recessions in special stocks subjected to selling pressure, but elsewhere further improvement was noted. Amalgamated increased its gain to 5¼ points.

Secretary Garrison declined to discuss the situation in the canal zone or to indicate which of the belligerents was violating the neutrality of the United States.

It is known, however, that the Australian collier Mallina, which recently left Balboa without clearance papers, has been under close observation of Panama canal officials. That ship as well as other colliers have been suspected of supplying British ships in Pacific waters.

Alleged violations of canal zone shipping regulations have been the basis of strong representations to the British minister at Panama. The Lamson, Worden, Terry, Perkins and Walke are in reserve at Charleston, S. C., and one or more of these vessels could be dispatched to canal waters almost instantly. On the Pacific coast the nearest craft available are the Whipple, Paul Jones, Perry, Preble and Truxtun, all lying off San Diego.

BOHDE BROTHERS IN ACT THAT THRILLED

John With Souse Falls on William and Breaks His Leg.

The Bohde brothers—John and William—staged a brother act Saturday night that had some thrills not pictured on the three-sheets. John had a souse that was more than one man could manage and William undertook to pilot John to his home on Chute street. At Winter and Eliza streets the pair struck some slippery sidewalk and fell. John, who is a whale of a man, fell across William's leg and broke it. Patrolman Pattee called the police wagon and William was taken to a hospital and John was carted to the station. John settled his consequences with cash for $11, the price of a $1 fine. William will be in the hospital for some time.

Lagrange Can't Hold Him.

"As I live and breathe, it's James—friend James—again. What's the matter with Lagrange, Jim? Did you get home and find your money? You did? Sure! Just couldn't stay away from our well known hospitality, could you? Well, we'll let you sojourn with us for quite a little spell. Put a previous in that affidavit. Now, we are all set, James. Twenty dollars and costs. That will keep you in our palatial county jail for thirty days." And in this wise was James Connors, of Lagrange, Ind., disposed of. Jim was arrested last Monday and let go. He was back again Tuesday and paid $11. He was in again Wednesday and separated from $13.50. Judge Kerr took $11 and sent it to Jim's address in Lagrange, gave him the balance for carfare and lunch and turned him loose to go home. James declared Monday morning that he went, all right, but had not tarried long among the home folk.

Garman and Tobin Held.

Other City Court Cases.

John Tennie, John Dennie, John Kerns and Joe Mulhearn, drunks, were turned loose.

August Hoppe, a drunk, was continued until Wednesday, and Joseph Pierce, a vag, was continued until Thursday, as was John Shea, another drunk.

John Murray and Walter Langford came to police headquarters drunk and asked for lodging and were locked up. Murray drew eleven days and Langford was continued until Tuesday. James Buckley, a drunk, was also given eleven days.

Martin Baker, Charles Kruse and Theodore White were fined $10 and costs each for disorderly conduct. Baker and Kruse staged a go with bare knuckles at Main and Court streets late Saturday night, and White stood by to referee.

Charles Carney, a vag who was drunk and begging on the streets, was given fifteen days.

Judge Kerr took under advisement for a day his judgment in the case of Charles Jones, charged with embezzling $2 from Morris C. King, for whom he was selling cheap pocktes, cheaper jewelry, hosiery and the like, on commission. Judge Kerr, after hearing the testimony, did not hesitate to tell King that his business appeared to be questionable.

LIEUTENANT BEVELHEIMER ILL.

Police Lieutenant Ed Bevelheimer is very sick at his home on Hendricks street with pneumonia and his condition is regarded as critical. He was obliged to ask for relief from duty on Friday and his illness rapidly developed into pneumonia. His health has not been good for several weeks. Harry Grimme, night desk sergeant, is acting lieutenant during the illness of Lieutenant Bevelheimer.

The police force is badly shot to pieces just now by the disability of officers from sickness or injury and by reason of illness in their families.

DR. LYON ASKS NO SUM AS GUARANTEE

Rev. H. H. Pitzer Submits Financial Arrangements for Revivals.

At the meeting of the executive committee for the coming Lyon evangelistic revival meetings held Monday afternoon at the Westminster Presbyterian church Rev. H. H. Pitzer submitted the fiancial arrangements for the campaign. He stated that no guarantee had been given Dr. Lyon and that none would be given and that the evangelist will only receive the offerings on the last Sunday out of which he must pay one-half of his salaried help.

The local financial committee through its chairman, E. A. K. Hackett, is raising a fund to cover the local expenses including the erection of the tabernacle, publicity, entertainment, traveling expenses and one half of the salaries of the Lyon party.

W. E. Ibach, chairman of the building committee, reported at this meeting that a few members of the Carpenters' union would begin work Wednesday morning and that a full force would be at work Thursday. According to present plans the building will be completed by Saturday evening. The building will be 170 by 126 feet and will seat in the neighborhood of 4,000 people.

The entire building will be lined with ship lap and heated be eight large furnaces set up as stoves. Charles Easley will superintend the erection of the structure. Dinner will be served the men who work on the building by the ladies' societies as follows: Westminster Presbyterian, Thursday; Wayne Street M. E., Friday, and Christ Lutheran, Saturday.

It was decided at this meeting Monday afternoon that a union prayer meeting be held in the tabernacle Wednesday evening, December 23. The hours for the tabernacle meetings, which will begin December 29, were fixed as follows: Sunday mornings at 10:45, afternoons at 3 o'clock and evenings at 7. The week-night meetings will begin at 7:30 with the exception of Monday evenings when there will be no meetings at all as this is rest night for the company.

There will be no seats reserved for any congregation except for the young people of the city who will attend in a mass on Sunday evening.

SPEAKS ON PEACE QUESTION.

Rev. F. H. Strickland to Conduct Two More Meetings, Closing Wednesday.

The peace meetings held by Rev. F. G. Strickland in various churches of the city, began Monday evening with a meeting at the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ. A good sized audience was in attendance, notwithstanding the zero weather. Rev. Strickland took as his special topic, "The Cause of the War and the Clash of Moral Ideals."

He said in part, "This is not a war that has any clear moral principles involved. It is rather a fight for markets and territory, and although the commercial interests would at no time desire so destructive a cataclysm, yet the commercial struggle among the nations is the immediate cause of the conflict. If we are to avoid war the nations must arouse a conscience on the war question. The forces that naturally make for peace must be gotten together, especially the religious forces, the labor organizations and the feminist movements."

Tuesday evening Rev. Strickland will speak at the First Evangelical church on "Women and the War." The meetings will close Wednesday evening at Plymouth Congregational church, corner Harrison and Jefferson streets, when Rev. Strickland will talk on the subject, "What Shall We Do?"

TO THE PEOPLE OF BLOOMINGDALE:

When you come downtown to do your Christmas shopping stop and look at the window display of the Seavey Hardware Store—you pass it on Harrison street. WOMAN SLEUTH USES SHERLOCK HOLMES METHODS TO CATCH FEMININE "DIPS."

Blanche Hodes, feminine detective, in two of her disguises.

Los Angeles, Dec. 15. With an array of disguises ranging from ballroom costumes to outing clothes, Blanche Hodes feminine detective, was detailed recently by the Los Angeles police department to capture the "Two Blondes."

The "Two Blondes" are two female pickpockets who have robbed numerous people on the streets, in hotel lobbies and in other public places, and in detailing a woman sleuth to apprehend them, Chief of Police Sebastian is going on the theory that a woman's wit can best cope with the cleverness of women criminals.

Miss Hodes started the search confident that she will capture the feminine "dips."

"This is my first experience as an actual thief catcher," said Miss Hodes. "In the past I have simply furnished data on important cases. In doing this work I have been forced to resort to detective methods of the Sherlock Holmes type and I am sure I can arrest the 'Two Blondes.'"
